Montreal Blanks Detroit; Toronto Beats Boston 5-3

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal Canadiens ran roughshod over the crippled Detroit Red Wings Thursday night, breezing to a 6-0 and helping goalie Jacques Plante to a shutout in his return to the game after a siege of illness.

Henri (Pocket Rocket) Richard led Jacques Marshall, who scored two goals each and the others were counted by Maurice (Rocket) Richard and Claude Provost.

It was Plante for Montreal all the way, the goal-happy Canadiens blasting a total of 53 shots at Detroit goalie Terry Sawchuk — Plante handled 20 shots fault lessly.

The Red Wings were never able to get a sustained attack going and their defence was pierced time and again, with the harassed Sawchuk coming manfully to the rescue. The Wings were without defenceman Red Kelly and forward Lorne Ferguson, both laid up with injuries. Bronco Olson called up from Edmonton Flyers of the Western Hockey League was used by the Wings but was of little help.

TIED FOR FIRST

Handsome win before a crowd of 14,262, lifted them back into a tie with New York Rangers for first place in the National Hockey League standing. The Montreal ers still have two games in hand over the Rangers.

The loss by Detroit left the Red Wings in a last-place tie with Toronto Leafs, winners Thursday night over Boston Bruins.

With his goal and two assists on his brother's two goals, Rocket Richard again took over the scoring leadership in the league from the Pocket Rocket by a single point.

Hockey Loop Formed Thur.

Last night at Civic Stadium an East Prince Hockey League was formed. So far Shebrooke, Tween Point and Grand River have assured Charlie Hogan manager of the stadium, that they will enter the league, and there are possibilities that three other teams, New Annan, Richmond, Wellend combined and Summerside High school may also join the circuit.

The league will start on Saturday, November 16, and if possible, double headers will be played each Saturday, first game to start at 6.45 and second at 7.45. A meeting will be held over the weekend to draw up a schedule.

Ice making has started at the stadium and about two inches of ice have already been laid. It is expected the opening skate of the season may be on Monday evening.

A League At Last

At last the Summerside Aces have latched onto a league! As far as is known now Charlottetown and Amherst will make it a threesome, with a chance that Alberton might come in on a part-time basis and change it to a quartet. Four teams make a more interesting league than three but there is always the problem of mainland trips, which, if a team is to end in the black, or at least not too far in the red, would have to be kept to a minimum.

Every hockey fan will naturally be pulling for the success of this venture no matter how they feel about its soundness. For Summerside, Charlottetown and, we presume, Amherst too, it would be rather a disaster if the loop folded in mid-season before the heavy money of the play-offs started to go through the ticket office windows. It would be hard at that time to start another league, and would mean that the teams would have to mark time, while securing the odd exhibition game until maritime playdowns for their special division began.

For this reason, it behooves the architects of this new league to build very carefully, giving each centre all the financial breaks possible. If one team is forced to discontinue, it will hurt the other two or three clubs, as the case may be. We think with careful planning, and cutting out unnecessary expenditure you'd be surprised, or perhaps you wouldn't how much of that can go on in managing a hockey team) the league can be a success, barring a winter with an abnormal amount of snow and stormy weather. No one can do anything about the latter, not even the weather forecasters.

Summerside has organized a league which might prove pretty interesting before the season is over. The old Commercial League which flourished here a good many years ago is being revived. Some of the fellows who once kept Summerside on the hockey map who have retired, will get back into action. Charlie Deighan, Jim Hogan, Joe Bernard, Emmett Trainor and Gord Kelly are a few examples. These boys in their heyday could form another team and enter the league with Charlottetown, Amherst and the Aces, but there is no way of turning back the clock, and undoubtedly they are well over the hill as far as Canada's national pastime is concerned. They should be good enough to put up an exciting brand of hockey, however, and with some other old timers and younger fellows such as Claude Gaudet, the game as may be well worth watching.

Seems Turk Broda is high on a young hockey player by the name of Forbie Kennedy. Broda expressed the opinion that Kennedy might some day be the successor of Ted Lindsay on the Detroit Red Wings. He claims Forbie has a very high potential as a hockey player.

Besides paper, the ancients also used papyrus for making boats, sails and awnings.

Dick Shatto Wins Trophy

TORONTO (CP)—Dick Shatto, a mainstay with the last place Toronto Argonauts all season, Thursday was named 1957 winner of the Jeff Russell Memorial Trophy, awarded each year to the most sportsmanlike and valuable player in the Big Four Football Union.

The announcement was made by league president Bob Moran of Toronto who said also that Gary Williams, punt-return specialist with Argonauts, had been chosen rookie of the year in the Big Four. The 21-year-old Williams, graduate of Campbellford, Ont. high school ranks joined the pro club after two years with the Junior Toronto Parkdale Lions.

Shatto, 24-year old native of Springfield, Ohio, who sparkled on offence and defence, was chosen by the five league governors and staff of 14 game officials. He was among eight candidates, two from each team, chosen by the players themselves.

Roy Worters, Famous NHL Goalie Died On Thursday

TORONTO (CP)—Roy Worters, 57, former National Hockey League goalie who was small in stature but a giant in reputation, died Thursday at his home after a lengthy illness.

Worters, a hotel operator in recent years, was one of the smallest goalies in big league hockey at five feet three inches in nine seasons with New York Americans he became the first goalie to win both the Hart and Vezina trophies and twice was named to the league's second all-star team.

The awards climaxed a hard drive to the top, during which Worters constantly had to battle critics of his size and at one time in 1923 almost gave up all ideas of a hockey career.

GOOD AVERAGE

He won the Hart Trophy as the most valuable player in 1928-29 when Americans finished second behind Montreal Canadiens in the then 10-team, two-division NHL.

Worters allowed but 53 goals in 44 games, second to Montreal's George Hainsworth, New York Rangers eliminated Americans in the first round of the Stanley Cup playoffs 1-0 in a two game, total-goal series, the goal coming in overtime of the second game.

He won the Vezina as the goalie with the least goals against in 1930-31. Worters allowed 74 goals in 44 games but his mates could score only 76 — lowest in the league as Americans finished fourth.

Born in Toronto's "Cabbagetown" district, Worters first achieved prominence with the junior Toronto Parkdale Canoe Club, which he joined in 1917. They won the Memorial Cup as Canadian junior champions in 1920. A teammate was Lionel Conacher, voted Canada's outstanding athlete of the half-century in a 1950 Canadian Press poll.

ALMOST QUIT

After a year of senior hockey in Timmins he played with Toronto Argonauts of the Senior Ontario Hockey Association in 1922.

The following season Worters almost quit hockey. But Conacher persuaded him to go along to Pittsburgh Yellow Jackets of the American Amateur Hockey League. He stayed with them when they moved into the NHL in 1925 as the Pirates and was traded to Americans in 1928.

Americans never managed to end in first place or win a Stanley Cup, and with many top goalies around Worters never was named to the first all-star team. He made the second team in 1932 and 1934. All stars were not chosen before 1930, when Worters won the Hart, and oddly the year he won the Vezina he didn't make either team.

Yvon Durelle & Gautreau Win

MONCTON (CP) — Yvon Durelle, British Empire Light Heavyweight champion won a second-round knockout over Floyd McCoy of Staten Island, N.Y., Thursday night with a short smashing uppercut to the jaw.

The hard-hitting chaebpion from Bale Ste. Anne, N.B., knocked his opponent out of the exhibition fight with a thumping blow that nailed McCoy as he ducked another swing from Durelle. The 22-year-old American staggered to his feet at the count of 10, wobbled against the ropes and then sagged to the canvas again. A doctor worked over him for five minutes before helping him to the dressing room.

In the first round McCoy looked impressive as he worked fast, hammering in several good combination punches. But the second round was only 40 seconds old when he was counted out. The fight was scheduled for 10 rounds.

In the preliminaries, Norman Gautreau, Maritime Welterweight champ, dropped Roy Tiger Steele, New Glasgow and Charlottetown, for four mandatory eight counts to hammer out an unanimous six-round decision. Gautreau a hard punching Moncton man, but Steele as will and caught his opponent with several bone-crushing punches. Several times Steele looked like he was going to stay down but he got up and kept coming in for more. Gautreau's title was not at stake.

Nick Kovac, 160, Moncton and Hungary, used a piston-like left and a stinging right hand to score a six-round unanimous decision over Bob Ledley, 163, Dartmouth.

The first two rounds were even and listless Ledley, a veteran ring campaigner who dropped a decision to Kovac in their first meeting here in August, showed his best in the third when he opened up a strong two-fisted attack against Kovac. Kovac weathered the storm well and wrapped up the battle by gaining the edge in the fourth, fifth and sixth.

Judge Jack Brodie and Jack McMillon scored it 3-2-1 for Kovac while Judge Dane Crosby saw it 3-1-2 in favor of Kovac.

Bob Speight, 141, Saint John, survived two second round knockdowns to post a four-round decision over Norman Cormier, 143 Moncton. A right floored Speight for the mandatory eight count and then Speight visited the canvas shortly afterwards from another driving right. All this went for nothing. Referee Ed Lanx gave the round to Speight when Cormier fired him to the canvas in a neutral corner. Speight came on strong in the third and fourth and had Cormier bleeding from the mouth at the end.

Referee Jack Brodie gave Speight all four rounds. Jack McMillon had it 3-1 for Speight and Dane Crosby called it 2-2 but didn't receive Lansdale's instruction on the second round.

Dave Bell, 125, Saint John decisioned Fred LeBlanc, 112, Moncton in a four round bout. The weight advantage Bell carried helped him gain the nod. Jack Brodie had it 2-1-1 for Bell; Dane Crosby saw it 3-1-0 and

S.D.U. Runners To Go To Minto

The SDU cross-country runners will test their speed and stamina against the Minto, N.B. team the early part of next week, when they travel to the Mainland city.

The New Brunswick team, still have on their roster three members of their championship team which won top placing in the all-Canada competitions in Hamilton in 1955.

This will be the St. Dunstan's harriers first contest of the season, and the boys expect to provide some keen competition in the two and one-tenth mile Minto event.

Last year the Minto team won both individual and team honors in the two mile race against the College squad here.

In that contest Minto's Bill Bent finished first in the fast time of 10 min. 1 sec., wrapping up with his teammates a 15-21 victory.

In cross-country running one point is scored for first, two for second, etc., the first four in of each team to count. The lowest score wins the match.

Expected to give Bent the most trouble in the individual score at Minto next week is SDU's captain and top runner, Frank Driscoll.

Other members of the SDU team scheduled to leave for the mainland Monday are Phil Arsing, George Kelly, Loyola Griffin, Terry Solomon, Frank McGinnis, Gerry Sherry, and Paul Murphy. Bill Phillips is coach.

Football Game Mon. Afternoon

St. Francis Xavier University's Junior Varsity football squad will travel to Charlottetown for an exhibition football game with St. Dunstans University on Monday afternoon.

The St. Francis Xavier team played two games in the Nova Scotia Junior Football League, tieing St. Marys of Halifax 7-7 in one outing and defeating the highly rated Sherwater Flyers 20-13 in their other encounter.

They had one of the strongest teams in the Nova Scotia Junior League this year but because a few of their players are not of Junior age they were not eligible to travel to other cities for playoff purposes.

St. Dunstans will have a tough time with this team then they have had with the other teams they have played against this year, so all you football fans can expect a good exciting game on Monday afternoon.

The St. Francis team will travel to Charlottetown by bus with a squad of about 25 or 30 top-flight players and will be in town in plenty of time to be at the St. Dunstans field at game time which is 2.30.

So if you want a good afternoons entertainment be on hand Monday afternoon when the two teams clash head-on.

PWC Takes On Souris

Two years ago, the last out-side team visited Souris and defeated the hometowners in an exciting basketball game. These boys were from Queen Square School in Charlottetown. They started off at a fast clip and built up a commanding lead after the first half. In the second half the Souris boys staged a comeback that fell just a little short.

Since then, the only basketball played in Souris, has been supplied by the High School Basketball League. This month, however, another team will visit Souris. This team will be the Second Prince of Wales squad from Charlottetown.

In all probability, the Prince of Wales team will leave town with a victory under their belts, but the locals are working hard, and hope to give them a good run for their money. If an upset is in the cards, and the locals manage a win, it could be the biggest shot in the arm, that basketball could receive in this district.

Two years ago, Souris High had a pretty good squad, but since then have lost some of their top players. However, some like Claude Peters, Henry Paquet, and Kenny O'Hanley will be missed. But some other standbys like Mel Walsh, Ed Lutz, Mel LaBrech and Cyril Gallant can be hard to stop.

This game is to be staged on the twenty-first of this month. A return game will be played at Prince of Wales at a later date.

Souris hoopsters may get an earlier chance to size up some outside opposition this year. There is a possibility that a team from Charlottetown will visit on Friday night. This team, if the play comes off, will have one of Souris' former top bowlers among its ranks. This player is Hudson LongPhee.

Hudson will be remembered as a member of the All Stars, a team that dominated the Men's League for a few years before disbanding. He was also a member of the Dodgers, another championship team. Exactly who will compose the Souris squad is as yet undecided.

So far, the Men's League is shaping up as a battle between the Federals and the Perfectionists for first place. Both teams are undefeated after four games, and the Federals hold a point and a half lead to date. In the Women's League, it looks like a race between the Claim Jumpers and the Old Timers. Cousins 4, Absenteeis 1; Old Timers 5 Happy Gang 0; Claim Jumpers 3½ Blue Goons 1½.

Eskimos Don't Approve Of Pix

EDMONTON (CP)—The manager of the Edmonton Eskimo football team says it is highly unlikely the Western Interprovincial Football Union club would have approved a doctored up cover-picture on a national magazine if it had seen the picture it was used.

The photograph on the November issue of the Reader's Digest Canadian edition, showing end Hal Patterson of Montreal Alouettes apparently intercepting a forward pass from an Edmonton player wearing the No. 91 of Jackie Parker, has rekindled a smouldering East - West football rivalry.

Hal Pawson, Edmonton Journal sports editor, in a column Oct. 25 said the magazine "perhaps unwittingly" has be'n drafted into the eastern "propaganda forces" to try to establish Patterson as Canada's outstanding player ahead of Parker.

In a letter column Nov. 1, Pawson said the Reader's Digest had explained in a letter the photo in question was taken during an exhibition game in Montreal between the Eskimos and Alouettes.

The Digest letter states the Eskimos saw the photo. Not so, replies Mr. Rolfe.

Pawson said Rolfe asked for a copy of the photo for visual approval, but it did not arrive until after the magazine was on the stand. He quotes Rolfe as saying, "It is highly unlikely the Eskimos would have approved this photo had we seen it before the cover appeared. We didn't know Patterson would be taking the ball from the Eskimo."

Pawson said the letter stated the cover was approved by Eskimo manager Keith Rolfe who suggested the Eskimo player's number be changed to 91.

"Manager Rolfe states he was contacted by telephone by the magazine last spring and advised that concern wished to use a Montreal Edmonton photo of two players going up together for a pass, a picture that was not derogatory to either team or either player, but just a pleasant, interesting football scene.

"The Digest letter states the Eskimos saw the photo. Not so, replies Mr. Rolfe."

Pawson said Rolfe of Patterson preventing an interception by Eskimo Bill Howe kamp, no longer with the club.
