April Weather Unspringlike But Pastures Will Benefit

By MARIAN BRUCE
Guardian-Patriot Staff Writer

April, 1963, may go on record as the most unspringlike April, if present weather trends continue.

According to figures released by Warren Burns, weather observer at the experiment farm, Charlottetown, an accumulation of 19.4 inches of snow has been recorded to date this month, just 3.7 inches short of the record of 23.1 inches for the entire month.

Average snowfall for April over a 53-year period is 7.8 inches. Last year's accumulation for the whole month was higher than average, but 7.4 inches short of the April, 1963, fall to date.

The season's total is running above average, also, with 128.4 inch - snowfall challenged up so far, as compared with the 53-year average of 107 inches.

The precipitation total, calculated on the basis of rain and snow converted to rainfall, has reached 13.71 inches. Average precipitation up to the end of April is 13.87 inches.

Temperatures this month have remained slightly below average. Mean temperature to date was 30.6 degrees; the April average is 37.4. Lowest reading this year was eight degrees below zero.

Mr. Burns warned that the province should be prepared for further snowfall accumulation, if past years are any indication. Snow came as late as May 9 last year, and snowfall amounts up to 8.5 inches have been recorded in the early part of May.

The season's moist weather has been "excellent" as far as farm crops are concerned, Stewart Wright, deputy minister of agriculture stated.

He said no harm whatsoever to pastures was expected to result from the wet weather and said he thought there was no frost damage since the ground began to thaw.

Fifth Kings Liberal Has Sharp Criticism

"Most people will be paying more for hospital insurance than they did under the premium plan," George Ferguson, Lib. 5th Kings, said yesterday of the new gasoline and sales tax increases.

Mr. Ferguson rose in the Legislature in the afternoon session to resume his part in the budget debate which he had opened the night before.

He asked the government benches why instructors at the Summerside Vocational School were receiving $4,400 a year in salary while those at Charlottetown school were only paid $3,500 and wondered if they were better teachers.

Interrupted by Premier Shaw, he laughingly warned, "If you aren't quiet I won't recommend you for the lieutenant-governorship." Mr. Shaw retorted, "you people can't find one". Said Mr. Ferguson: "Perhaps I'll take it myself since you people have done away with Fifth Kings. Remember?"

CRITICAL OF CHANGE

He then bitterly criticized the government for the action taken during the morning session when amendments to the Election Act were passed adding to two seats to Charlottetown's legislative representation and doing away with the present 5th District of Kings.

"I object to the underhanded, I repeat 'underhanded', way it was done. I expected more principle, I repeat 'principle', from members of the government. I expected too much," he stated.

The Liberal Party's new financial critic said the present administration had piled up three successive deficits totalling $7,000,000 and had increased its liabilities by well over twelve million dollars. "Now they forecast a deficit of $2,469,000 but there is no guarantee the same thing will not happen again and the deficit could be $20,000,000, he said.

He stated all this was happening despite various Ministers telling of new revenues and the government putting on tax increases, and asked, "Where is the money going"? He termed it a "terrible and disgraceful" condition.

NOT NEWS

Mr. Ferguson noted the total direct and indirect liabilities of the province now are $40,000,000 and said, "but this is not news to us as the leader of the Opposition predicted it before the last provincial election. The people were told then by the government that provincial finances were in order. Now they know who was telling the truth."

The speaker was critical of the late date of receiving the public accounts and maintained those for the period ending March 31 last year should have been received in July and not on January 17 this year as was the case.

He also warned the provincial treasurer he should exercise more control over the travelling expenses.
