NEW YORK

NEW YORK (AP)—Late selling upset a stock market advance Wednesday and the list ended with an irregular decline, its first loss in 11 sessions. Volume for the abbreviated session was 8,540,000 shares compared with 8,900,000 Tuesday. The stock exchanges in New York close at 2 p.m. EST instead of 3:30 p.m during the transit strike.

Much late selling was said to be precautionary on the basis of President Johnson's state-of-the-union message scheduled for Wednesday night. Wall Street expected the president would stress the need for a tough posture in regard to Viet Nam even while a peaceful solution was being sought. Caution overtook the market place as the session wore on, however, and traders deemed it the better part of wisdom to take some profits as a hedge against possible unpleasant surprises in the president's address.

The Dow Jones industrial average ended with a loss of 2.89 at 983.96.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks lost .2 at 365.7.

Crucible steel was the most active stock, ending with a gain of ¼ at 36 on 356,500 shares.

On the upside among Canadian issues were Granby Mining, Distillers Seagrams and Canadian Pacific.

Prices were irregularly higher on the American Stock Exchange where Banff Oil and Scurry Rainbow Oil both rose 1¼.
