Claimed By Levesque New Spirit In Quebec

By ALAN DUCKETT

MONTREAL (CP) — Gerard D. Levesque, Quebec industry and commerce minister, says that "the new spirit of economic and social progress which is apparent everywhere in the province will give new dimensions to its growth."

Mr. Levesque makes the statement in a foreword to a kit issued by his department containing folders "intended to inform industrialists outside the province . . . of the importance of the economic developments which are taking place" in Quebec.

Quebec has entered a new era of development in its economic life, says Mr. Levesque, and this is "imparting a new dignity and sense of responsibility to our people and prosperity to our enterprises."

The 10 - section publication, called Quebec on the move—opportunity for growth, is being distributed across Canada and the United States.

The kit's 10 folders include Mr. Levesque's foreword and sections on the scope of the economy, manufacturing, markets, the labor force, hydro-electric power, services of the trade and industry department, financial and economic assistance to industry, taxation and the economic advisory council and planning.

INVESTMENT INCREASES

Mr. Levesque's foreword says "A considerable increase in investment in the private and public sectors has been brought about by the urgent social requirements as well as the need to modernize industrial plants and equipment."

Mr. Levesque says the provincial government "expects to play an active role in developing the economy." Quebec's large labor force "represents, for both the public and private sectors, a challenge and an asset."

"The challenge is to create new employment opportunities. The asset is represented by the human resources available to support the tremendous growth in production which lies ahead."

Expropriation of hydro-electric companies at the start of 1963, the foreword continues, has meant that "Quebec-Hydro already is actively engaged in the development of several important industries in remote regions and will be expanding that role in the years ahead."

COMPANY OFFERS LOANS

Mr. Levesque also mentions the General Investment Corporation, a credit and holding company formed with the Quebec government as a minority shareholder. The corporation, using both public and private funds, has an authorized capital of $150,000,000.

It offers loans for industrial and commercial purposes.

The government - sponsored economic advisory council has the job of preparing "the plan of the economic organization of Quebec with a view to the most complete utilization of its material and human resources."

Truck Aid May Reduce Feed Costs

OTTAWA (CP) — Forestry Minister Sauve said in the Commons Wednesday he hopes to announce next week new trucking subsidies to reduce transportation costs on feed grain for farmers in Eastern Canada.

He was replying to Louis-Joseph Pigeon (PC — Joliette-l'Assomption - Montcalm) who asked whether new legislation was planned on the feed grain problem.

Mr. Sauve, who is responsible for the Agricultural Rehabilitation and Development Agency also told Creditiste Leader Real Cacuette that he has reached agreement with Alcide Courcy, Quebec agriculture minister, on the interpretation of the ARDA legislation.

The minister said he will meet provincial officials in late August or early September to review agreements for ARDA projects.

Smallest Of Hen Family May Assist Whoopers

DENVER (AP) — One of the smallest members of the chicken family may get the job of hatching eggs for the largest flying bird — the whooping crane.

Details of the project were outlined by Ed Wellin, chief of the migratory bird population in the research centre here of the bureau of sports fisheries and wildlife.

Start of the project depends on a wet spring next year in the breeding area for the whooping crane, the Wood Buffalo National Park in the Northwest Territories.

As soon as the whooping crane lays any eggs, they will be picked up by helicopter, placed in an incubator and flown to the Monte Vista National Wildlife refuge in southern Colorado. There they will be placed under Japanese silky bantam hens.

Wellin says the silky bantams are very faithful and stay close to the eggs.

In addition to helping in the hatch, scientists are hopeful that by careful lifting of the eggs from the nests in Canada, the whoopers will be induced to lay more eggs there.

This has been the experience in New Orleans where six of the majestic birds are in captivity. One bird there laid 10 eggs this spring.

There are 39 known whoopers left in the world, including the six in Audubon Park in New Orleans. Seven young birds were counted last fall at the winter Aransas refuge in southern Texas.

Plans call for keeping the first whoopers hatched at Monte Vista in captivity in hopes of adding a few more. The long-range program calls for reintroducing captive-raised whoopers into the wild.

Father Acquitted In Exam Charge

GUELPH, Ont. (CP)—Donald Tutt, 53, was acquitted Wednesday by a jury on three charges of forging Grade 13 exam papers for the benefit of his son, Bruce Tutt, 19.

He had pleaded not guilty to the charges which arose after John Gregg Murray, 19, appealed to the department of education after receiving a failing mark in the English literature exam he wrote in June, 1963.

Subsequent investigation disclosed somebody had switched the name tag on Murray's paper to the younger Tutt's exam. Tutt's French composition and French authors papers were also found to bear corrections in a different handwriting than his own.

Canada's Top Soprano Here Sunday

It was the hard road which brought soprano Lois Marshall to success and made her one of Canada's best female vocalists. Strict discipline turned the little girl, who at two and a half was stricken with polio, into the star of international proportions which she is today.

Islanders will get a chance to see her in concert Sunday night in Memorial Theatre. This great Canadian singer recently completed a round-the-world tour termed a tremendous success. Music critics everywhere were loud in their praise, and it is hoped that when she travels to P.E.I. with her mentor and accompanist, Weldron Kilburn, many Islanders will come and be delighted by the beautiful sounds of "one of the most superb voices" of the concert hall.

Miss Marshall was chosen early in her career to sing the soprano role in RCA Victor's recording of Beethoven's Missa Solemnis, with Arturo Toscanini. That crusty old genius was murmuring "bravo, bravo!" before she had gone very far during the first rehearsal.

Now Miss Marshall, having risen with breathtaking rapidity since her splendid debut, is greeted everywhere with excitement when she goes to sing in concert, whether as soloist with the leading choral and orchestral groups in the world, or in recital, as she will appear here.

Opening lead—queen of diamonds.

This hand occurred in the match between South Africa and the United States during the Olympiad.

Robert Jordan and Arthur Robinson, both of Philadelphia, arrived at six notrump. It was an ambitious undertaking, considering the combined North-South cards, but a hard slam to stay out of. (The South African pair at the other table bid seven spades, which was defeated.)

West led a diamond and Robinson saw that he would need considerable luck to make the contract. He got off on the right foot by winning the diamond with the king and playing a low club.

East won with the nine and returned a diamond, the eight forcing the ace. South now played a spade to the ace and cashed the A-K of clubs, hoping to find the suit divided 3-3, but when West failed to follow to the king, the chances of making the slam dropped considerably.

There was then no choice but to lead spades, so Robinson played the deuce, on which West was forced to play the queen. This welcome card put Robinson back in business. He still had only eleven tricks in sight, but he now had an excellent chance of producing a twelfth by means of a squeeze.

After he had cashed his K-J-10 of spades, this became the position:

North
♠ 9
♥ K 10
♦ 7

West
♥ Q 9 8
♦ J

East
♥ J 7 5
♦ Q

South
♠ A 4 3
♣ 10

When dummy led the last spade, East was forced to release a heart. Robinson thereupon discarded a club. Now West found it impossible to discard safely. As a result, Robinson made six notrump for a U.S. gem of 1,040 points.
