Directions for Shipping Silver Fox Skins

To Messrs C. M. Lampson & Company, London, from Prince Edward Island by Registered Mail or Express

Silver Fox intended for Messrs. C. M. Lampson & Company's London Sales should be shipped by Registered Mail, and packed in parcels weighing not over 4 lbs. 6 ozs. or by Express, if more convenient.

If shipped by Registered Mail, the outer covering should be of unbleached muslin or similar material and the following address should be plainly marked on the outside of the package:

C. M. Lampson & Company,
64 Queen Street, London, E. C. 4, England.

In addition, the shipper's name and address should be placed on the outside of the package, to enable Messrs Lampson & Company to identify the package upon arrival, and packages should be numbered consecutively from No. 1 upwards.

Furs consigned to Messrs. Lampson & Company by Registered Mail or by Express may be insured under the terms of their open policies from the time they leave the shippers' possession until delivered to their final destination, provided that the shipper advises Alfred Fraser promptly and encloses Post Office Registry receipt or Express receipt.

If insurance under the terms of Messrs. Lampson & Company's open policies is desired, the above instructions should be carefully followed, and a letter of advice should be sent to Alfred Fraser, 212 Fifth Avenue, New York, N. Y., stating the number of packages shipped, the number of skins in each package and the amount of insurance desired on each package, and the Post Office receipt or Express receipt must accompany the letter of advice.

THE FUNNY MAN

Oh! Mr. Gallagher, Oh! Mr. Gallagher,
There's a book the Ladies read from morn till night.
They read it when in bed.
And will do so till they're dead,
To watch them would give any man a fright.

Oh! Mr. Shean, Oh! Mr. Shean,
I think I know the very book you mean,
It is full of things that's new.
And my wife has got one too.
Its a love story Mr. Gallagher?
No! Holman's Catalogue Mr. Shean!

In his announcement on a Sunday morning the vicar regretted that money was not coming in fast enough—but he was no pessimist.

"We have tried," he said, "to raise the necessary money in the usual manner. We have tried honestly. Now we are going to see what a bazar can do."—Savannah News.

DON'T WORRY

Mrs. Brown—"Dear me, I've broken my looking-glass. Seven years of bad luck, I suppose."

Mrs. Harris—"Don't you believe it, Mrs. Brown. A friend o' mine broke 'ers, and she didn't have no seven years! She was killed in a 'sposion two days later, so you needn't worry."

It was the maid's first day in her new situation, and when the first caller came to see her mistress, as instructed, she informed the visitor that her mistress was not at home. "When will she be back?" inquired the lady, "don't know, mum," answered the girl; she's not gone out yet."

Two ladies were lunching together one day, in the course of conversation they discussed their troubles with servants. "Was your last cook a good one?" inquired one of them. "Oh, yes, she was a good cook as cooks go," was the reply, "and as cooks go— she went."

"Do you wish the court to understand you refuse to renew your dog licence?" asked the magistrate.

"Yes, your worship but—" "We want no 'buts.' You will be fined." You know the license has expired." "Yes, but so has the dog."

An old lady said to her nephew, a poor preacher, "James, why did you enter the ministry?"

"Because I was called," he replied.

"James," said the old lady anxiously, "are you sure it wasn't some other noise you heard?"

"Do you know," said the conceited actress, "that I was offered $4,000 a week to remain in New York?"

"Indeed!" remarked a candid listener, "And was the offer made from Boston?"

"So your daughter's married, I hear. I expect you found it very hard to part with her."

"Hard! I should think so. Between you and me, my boy, I began to think it was impossible!"—Alnwick Guardian.

TWO NEWSBOYS went to see a performance of "Hamlet." In the last scenes, after Hamlet had killed Laertes and the king, and the queen har died of poison, and Hamlet of a poisoned wound, one of the newsboys exclaimed.

"Golly, Jim,' what a time that must have been for extras!"

A CERTAIN automobile manufacturer claimed to have put a car together in seven minutes.

A few weeks after this event was heralded in the newspapers, a voice on the telephone asked:

"Is it true that your factory put a car together in seven minutes?"

"Yes. Why?"

Oh, nothing. But I believe I have that car."

"I WAS in one of the big department stores the oher day," said Light-fingered Joe, "when the whole electric-light aparatus went wrong and all the different departments were as black as pitch."

" My word, what a bit o' luck!" chuckled his friend. "What did you get?"

"My beastly luck again. It's always dogging me. I was in the grand piano department."

"Yes, I tell you, I know the best people in society, I do."

"Then why don't you mix with them?"

"Because they know me."

"FANCY A big strapping fellow like you asking for money. You should be ashamed of yourself!"

"I am, ma'am. But once I got twelve months for taking it without asking."

"I DON'T believe you know what a bachelor is," said Rose's governess, having been amused at her pupil's use of the word in an English composition.

"Yes, I do," said Rose; "a bachelor is a very happy man."

"How do you know that?" inquired the governess.

"Father told me," said Rose.

Imperial Biscuit Co., Ltd., Charlottetown, P. E. I.

Dear Sirs:

With reference to your inquiry as to the results we have obtained from the use of Imperial Cod-Liver-Oil Fox Biscuits, we are very pleased indeed to be able to tell you that we have found the results satisfactory in every respect, and that Imperial Cod-Liver-Oil Fox Biscuits are the finest fox Biscuit that we have ever used. During the last two years we have used approximately sixteen tons of your Biscuits. Sometimes we feed them dry. Our foxes like the Biscuits and these Biscuits seem to supply several things that Foxes need. We intend to continue the use of Imperial Cod-Liver-Oil Fox Biscuits.

Yours very truly,
