COSTLY FARM FIRE

LUDNEY, Ont. (CP) — Fire Monday night destroyed a barn and 85 head of cattle on the farm of Bruce Mundie. Mr. Mundie estimated his loss between $75,000 to $100,000. A number of pigs were lost as well as a quantity of hay.

West Pessimism Deepens On Southeast Asia Look

KUALA LUMPUR (AP) — A rash of developments in South east Asia has deepened Western pessimism about this area's chances of uniting against threats of Chinese expansion.

American influence, which once helped stitch together key sections of the region, has worn thin.

An open attempt by France to move in where the United States is edging—or being edged—out has complicated the picture.

Amid the confusion, Communists have registered fresh military gains in the Southeast Asian heartland.

Along the outer arc, where Communist aggression is not an immediate factor, the Malaysia crisis has ripped neighbors apart.

These developments point up the trend:

1. In neutralist Cambodia, Prince Norodom Sihanouk has threatened to cut Western ties and form military alliances with Communist China and North Viet Nam unless the West agrees to guarantee his country's neutrality.

FEARS OVERTHROWN

The threat comes against the backdrop of Sihanouk's quarrel with the U.S. He has accused Americans and their allies in Thailand South Viet Nam of helping a movement to overthrow his regime, a charge repeatedly denied. The Cambodian leader has renounced a yearly U.S. dole of $30,000,000 in economic and military aid.

2. In Laos, pro-Communist Pathet Lao forces, bolstered by North Vietnamese, have stepped up attacks in the north and north-central sectors in a fresh, bold attempt to widen Communist control in that little kingdom.

Laos, which used to be maintained by steady doses of American assistance, has been trying to go it alone since 1962 under a troika system that vies right-wing, neutralist and left-wing elements an equal say in a government run by Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma — a middle-of-the-road briliever. That government is faltering under Communist pressures.

3. In Viet Nam, the Communist Viet Cong has intensified terrorist activity while the country is still rebounding from its second coup d'etat in three months. American troops have become the target of bombs.

INSTABILITY AIDS REDS

Last November's overthrow of Ngo Dinh Diem's autocratic civilian regime unleashed political instability that is setting back U.S. efforts to end a bloody jungle war against the Reds.

4. On the Southeast Asian rim, the fledgling Malaysia federation faces the opposition of two of its biggest neighbors, Indonesia and the Philippines.

Malaysa, formed out of Malaya, Singapore and the one-time British Borneo territories of Sarawak and Sabah (North Borneo), was designed as a bulwark against Chinese Communist expansionism. But Indonesia claims it is a form of British neocolonialism and has pledged to crush it.

The pro-American Phillippines—an unlikely ally of Indonesia and its freewheeling neutralism that often veers left—has kept its disapproval of Malaysia within peaceful limits. It has taken the initiative in trying to patch up its part of the dispute, based on a Manila claim to North Borneo.

RAIDS ALONG FRONTIER

Indonesia's anti - Malaysia campaign has included guerrilla raids across an 800-mile frontier on Borneo island. A cease-fire was arranged last month with Robert F. Kennedy's help and last week there were signs that Indonesia was anxious for some sort of face-saving formula to extricate itself.

A Malaysian broadcast Saturday following fresh shooting in Sarawak charged that Indonesia has violated the Malaysian border a half-dozen times since the cease-fire went into effect.

5. In Indonesia itself, internal troubles—fanned by a big, Chinese-leaning Communist party and aggravated by widespread starvation—have given rise to speculation about a Communist takeover.

6. Thailand is trying to act as a mediator in the Malaysia crisis but has the Laos problem to worry about, too. It shares a long border with that troubled country. And Cambodia's latest threats are not helping set Thai minds at rest.

BID TO RETURN

France disengaged itself from Southeast Asia after the 1954 Geneva conference cut French Indochina loose. Now it is bidding for a return in a big-brother role.

President de Gaulle has suggested a French-backed policy of neutralization, based on recognition of Communist China.

The immediate effect has been to sharpen the diving line in a part of the world where no more divisions are needed.

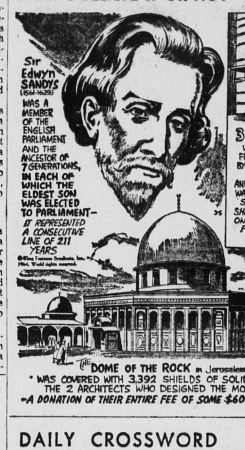
Predictably, the de Gaulle plan has been challenged by staunchly pro-Western Thailand, South Viet Nam and the Philippines. In Saigon the leader of the latest coup claimed the previous military government was helping pave the way for neutralization.

Malaysia, with a sizable overseas Chinese population that likes to straddle the fence on the Peking vs. Nationalist China issue, has officially reacted with studied silence.

The non-aligned bloc of Indonesia, Laos, Cambodia and Burma has welcomed de Gaulle's recognition of Peking.

A widely shared view is that the only ones who stand to gain from the present chain of crisis developments are Communist China and its North Vietnamese ally.

RIPLEY'S BELIEVE IT OR NOT



Hugh John Questions Merit Of Power Plans

OTTAWA (CP) — Hugh John Flemming, former New Brunswick premier, seriously questions the merit of a $100,000,000-plus power project on the Saint John River financed jointly by the federal and New Brunswick governments.

Mr. Flemming (PC—Victoria-Carleton) said during the Commons throne speech debate here that planners of the Mactaquac hydro project should "stop, look and investigate" other sources of power.

The Atlantic Development Board recently earmarked $20,000,000 in federal funds to assist construction of a huge dam about 15 miles upstream from Fredericton.

The project is being undertaken by the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission. The dam will create a lake 55 miles long in the Saint John River, extending to the southern part of Mr. Flemming's constituency.

DESTROYS HERITAGE

Mr. Flemming said the project would destroy the "heritage of the beautiful river," likely would destroy salmon stocks, flood churches and cemeteries and radically change the appearance of the scenic Saint John Valley.

The New Brunswick power picture needed more study before the irrevocable MacTaquac project was launched.

Cheap power could be produced by harnessing the high tides at both ends of the Bay of Fundy — at the Isthmus of Chignecto and in Passamaquoddy Bay — he said. He referred to American plans to proceed with this project.

The province might investigate other power sources, such as a nuclear power plant near the proposed heavy water plant at Glace Bay, N.S. the proposed Hamilton Falls hydro project in Labrador and the proposed national power grid.

FOR OTHER USES

Mr. Fleming said the $20,000,000 federal grant need not apply to the Mactaquac project it could be used to finance any cheap power project for the benefit of New Brunswick.

John Mullally (L — Kings), speaking later in the debate, defended the Mactaquac project.

He said the development will provide cheap power not only for New Brunswick but for his native province of Prince Edward Island as well.

The Atlantic Development Board was studying the feasibility of a submarine power cable linking the two provinces and he had every hope this extension of the maritime power grid would be achieved.

QUEEN READY FOR FOURTH

LONDON (Reuters) — The midwife who will assist in the delivery of Queen Elizabeth's fourth child, expected some time this month, was moving into Buckingham Palace Monday night. A court spokesman said it was "no sudden summons."

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	1♠	Pass
2NT	Pass	3♠	Pass
5♠	Pass	4♠	Dble.

Opening lead — Jack of hearts.

M. Harrison - Gray, one of England's top players, makes an interesting point about this hand reported in the British Bridge magazine.

South is playing four spades doubled and West leads the jack of hearts. West's double is questionable, for, while he can reasonably expect to beat four spades, there is a decided danger of alerting declarer to the trump situation by doubling — which in turn might affect South's normal line of play and produce the winning result for him.

Certainly it is not difficult, after the double, for South to realize that the trumps are stacked against him. The only uncertainty is whether West has four or five trumps headed by the K - Q - 10.

Declarer has a right to assume that if West lacks the ace of clubs, he is bound to have all five trumps; otherwise, his double would not make sense. If West has only four trumps, he is likely to have the ace of clubs as part of his double.

Since South's method of play depends on whether West has four or five trumps, he shapes his play to try to find out which is the case. He takes three rounds of hearts, discarding a club, and leads the king of clubs, not a low one.

When East covers with the ace, South knows he is fighting a 5-0 trump division. He ruffs the club, plays a diamond to the jack, ruffs another club, and plays two more rounds of diamonds. West ruffs and returns a club, and, after South trumps, the position is this:

North

West
♠ K Q 10 6

East
Immaterial

South
♠ A J

♦ A K

Having lost only one trick to date, South now leads a diamond. Regardless of what West does, he can score only two trumps tricks and declarer makes the contract.
