Had Eczema When Five Years Old

On Hands, Arms, Feet and Limbs. Could Not Sleep. Itched and Pain. Cuticula Completely Healed.

My little boy had eczema when he was five years old. He itched with his hands and feet, and his arms and legs, and he could not sleep. He was very miserable. I tried everything, but nothing helped. I was very anxious for him to get well.

Laurier's Record NOT INSPIRING

From The Winnipeg Tribune (Ind.-Lib.)

But why is Sir Wilfrid Laurier indorsed by a body of men who passed the series of radical and progressive resolutions presented to the convention? What, in his past record, would indicate that he has any sympathy with, or can be relied upon to fight for the realization of the principles and policies embodied in these resolutions? The spirit of most of these resolutions was embodied in the Liberal platform of 1893. They are not new. What did Sir Wilfrid or his Government do to the "Combiners" (which were as eloquently denounced in the 1893 platform as in the present resolutions) after his accession to power in 1896? He enormously strengthened their hold on the industries of the country, and they had never previously been so strong as now numerous as when he left office in 1911.

A Protege, the Big Interests.

We heard much about the "big interests" in the Convention discussions. Did Sir Wilfrid Laurier do anything to curb or restrict the large and dangerous powers which these interests exercise? Not noticeably. On the contrary, under his administration, and with his benign encouragement, they acquired a power and influence in the Government of this country which, in their most fantastic dreams, they could not have thought of aspiring to. The "mergers" formed under his aegis, or at least under his eyes, frequently by very cheap financial adventures, now control, with iron-clad rigidity, most of our staples of production and consumption.

In the hands of the most dangerous "interests" of all, the franchise exploiting subsidy-grabbing manipulators, who make railway exploitations their specialty, he was as clay which willingly adapted itself to the designs of the sculptor. During his "reign," franchises of enormous value, public subsidies, lands, cash and credit, to the value of at least a billion dollars, have been turned over to these "interests." With what result? Because of the anarchic bungling the people of Canada not only now pay an unnecessarily high freight and passenger rates, but are actually asked to pay still higher, and on top of all this, are called upon to pay the interest on their guarantees of the sums required for the construction of absurdly unnecessary railways.

At the beginning of the war, Sir Wilfrid Laurier heartily sympathized with the cause of the Allies and with the resolve of the Government of Canada to support that cause with arms and resources. He says he is still of the same view, but he objects to Canada sending any man to the war who does not wish to go. It is only necessary to state this position and to reflect a little over its effect when carried to its logical conclusion, to demonstrate that it is both absurd and undemocratic.

What is the Real Motive?

Wherein do the Liberals of the Western Convention find the justification for ranging themselves behind Sir Wilfrid Laurier? Wherein do they find any reason for believing that he is a Liberal, or that he even comprehends the meaning of Liberalism? The Tribune has, for twenty years, declared that Sir Wilfrid is not a Liberal, but a Tory, an Ultramontane, and a reactionary, and that he has no understanding of, nor sympathy with, Liberalism or progress. In proof and in support of its declaration it has always turned to Sir Wilfrid's record. No denial of the facts asserted by the Tribune has been nor can be made.

The Tribune, further, now believes that he is not a loyal citizen of the British Empire nor a loyal Canadian. It is willing to believe that he does not wish to be, and does not think that he is, in any way disloyal. But we are dealing with effects, and not intentions. Sir Wilfrid occupies a high position of much responsibility, and he is as much responsible for the clarity and accuracy of his vision, as for the goodness of his intentions.

WARM TRIBUTE TO CANADIAN SOLDIERS

LONDON.—In the House of Commons yesterday during discussion of the Colonial Office vote, Rt. Hon. Walter Long, Secretary of State for the Colonies paid a warm tribute to the overseas armies of the British Dominions.

Mr. Long said that the fine part played by the Dominions and crown colonies in the war required no special description. The part which the Dominions' troops had taken was well known to the world, and especially to our enemies. They had made their mark, whether they came from Australia, New Zealand, Canada, Newfoundland or South Africa, they had shown themselves worthy of the best traditions of the British army, and no greater praise than that could be bestowed on any soldier.

The Dominions had made great sacrifices in other directions, he said. Many of the Dominions had suffered severely owing to the limitations of imports into the United Kingdom, although many people failed to realize the greatness of the sacrifices imposed upon the Dominions in this connection. They were also hearing a very heavy war expenditure, and were simultaneously called on to bear a very heavy burden owing to interference with their trade.

Mr. Long paid a tribute also to the magnificent patience and goodwill with which the Dominions had made this sacrifice. There was no foundation, he said, for any criticism that any part of the Empire had not done its full share in the war.

The volume of support from the Dominions was steeper now than it had ever been. Referring to criticism regarding the frequent mention of deeds of the Dominion soldiers, and to the suggestion that the attempt was being made to claim too great a share of credit, Mr. Long suggested that any alteration should be in the direction
