Red Cross Makes Strong Appeal For Turtle-neck Sweaters

Mrs. J. H. McQuaid, Chairman of the work committee of the P. E. Island Division, Canadian Red Cross Society, has received a wire from Toronto Headquarters signed by Mrs. Campbell, National chairman, to send in grey and blue turtle neck sweaters as soon as possible. The greatest number available are wanted within the next ten days. This is a most urgent call. Knitters throughout the Province are urged to finish as quickly as possible any sweaters of this kind underway and if you can knit a sweater in ten days begin at once if you possibly can, as it is vitally important that this order be shipped on schedule time.

It is also important that the Red Cross Headquarters at Charlottetown have an idea beforehand how many they will have, so if you will have one to turn in, in ten days, if possible drop a card to headquarters to that effect.

There is also a need for seamen's stockings but it is not so urgent as the call for turtle neck sweaters—that is a definite order from Red Cross Hdqts.

If you are knitting seamen's stockings make them to stretch ten inches, at top, and you are advised to use No. 9 needles. They should measure 18 inches from the bottom of heel to top of leg.

Sweaters for the Air Force should not be made too large—the air men are usually of medium size.

The little church was beautifully becorated with gladiolus and other autumn flowers. Given in marriage by her father, the bride, who is a granddaughter of the late Archdeacon and Mrs. Keagh of Milton, P.E.I., wore a Queen model afternoon frock of star sapphire blue, with shirred bolero and pearl choker, with matching accessories, and a corsage bouquet of Ophelia roses and gardenias. There were no attendants, and the church organist played the wedding music. A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents after the ceremony, Mrs. MacGachen receiving in a gown of navy crepe, with a corsage bouquet of Joanna Hill roses. The bride's cake, surrounded with pink tulle and pink tapers, and roses in silver bud vases, centred the table from which refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. Truman left later on a tour of Vancouver Island, before leaving for Regina, via the Kettle Valley, with stops at Banff and Windermere. The bride travelled in a dressmaker suit of navy bouche, with matching accessories. They will make their home at Regina. Both bride and bridegroom are graduates of the University of Manitoba.—Vancouver Times.

Her bridesmaid, Miss Ruth James, wore a dress of rust crepe with accessories to match. Mr. Harvey MacInnis, brother of the bride, acted as groomsman. Public Oyster Beds Depleted By Disease

King's-Queen's County Fishermen Lose Valuable Source of Income — Private Beds Increase.

While the oyster industry in the privately owned beds of this Province was making big strides the fishing on the public beds was a "thing of the past," it was learned from Mr. J. J. Larabee, supervisor of fisheries for the Province.

Disease had wiped out practically all the oysters in formerly high producing beds in Queen's County. Only on Prince County privately owned beds is the oyster industry flourishing. King's county has never figured in the production of oysters.

Dr. A. W. H. Needler, scientist in charge of the oyster culture work of the Dominion Department of Fisheries, stationed at Ellerslie in this Province, describes the growth of private production of oysters in a recent report.

"There has been a great increase in the effort to grow oysters and a corresponding increase in yield," Dr. Needler said. "Even in the Malpeque Bay region, however, where development started first, more money is being spent than is being received from the oysters sold. The industry can hardly be considered to have reached maturity until the total receipts exceed the total expenditure."

There were 645 oyster farms in operation in this Province last year and the figure was in excess of that now. That compared with 584 farms in 1938 and only 26 in 1932 when the farming process might be said to have started.

The total acreage last year, was 2,347 acres. (Area under the oyster culture for 1940 was not available). In 1932 the acreage was 110.

Sales last year amounted to 3,805 barrels.

But while this great increase was taking place in the private beds the public beds elsewhere in the province were being wiped out by the same disease as the one which hit the Malpeque area earlier.

Mr. Larabee said it was believed the disease was carried to Queen's County on boats and rakes used by fishermen who came from the western section of the Province after the disease ended the public fishing there.

And in Queen's County waters, as in the Malpeque Bay, the only oysters to survive the plague were the ones at the heads of the streams where the water was less saline because of the inflow of fresh water. It was from those oysters in the brackish water areas, which seemed to be immune to the ravages of the malady which swept the other oysters away in a few seasons, that the beds were being restocked.

At one time 2,000 barrels of oysters were taken annually from Hillsboro River alone, Mr. Larabee said.

The oyster fishing season in the public beds opened on October 1, but there were no oysters to fish, the superintendent of fisheries said. It was a great loss to fishermen in Queen's and King's counties.

The war did not affect the oyster industry greatly, it was learned. Canadian production are still far below consumption and the demand was good this year with the prices materially the same as for the previous year.

STENTIFORD - STEWART WEDDING—A pretty wedding took place early Friday morning when Miss Joyce Stentiford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Stentiford, became the bride of Mr. Ira G. Stewart, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Stewart. The ceremony was performed by Rev. I. Judson Levy at the bride's home, which was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves and garden flowers. The bride, dressed in air force blue with wine accessories and wearing a corsage of pink carnations, was given in marriage by her father. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Angus MacEachern, who also played softly during the ceremony. About fifty relatives and friends of the young couple were present and an informal reception was held and a buffet breakfast served. The young couple left by car for a short honeymoon trip through the Maritimes.

Men Selected For Canada's 39 Training Camps

By FRANK FLAHERTY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA Oct. 4.—(CP) —Every man needed to fill Canada's 39 compulsory military training centres for the first training period now has been selected, Maj.-Gen. L. R. LaFleche, Associate Deputy Minister of National War Services, announced tonight.

Gen. LaFleche said notices have been sent out to 29,750 men, ordering them to report for a month's training next Wednesday. With the notices went railway tickets to the nearest centre.

Almost all the men are in the 21-year-old class —born between July 16, 1918, and July 15, 1919. In only a few areas was it necessary to call 22 and 23-year-olds to help fill the first training quota.

Selection of the men called up for training next Wednesday was carried out by special boards set up to handle mobilization in the 13 administrative districts across the dominion.

In most cases the centres consist of newly-erected huts of the latest approved type. In a few instances existing buildings, such as exhibition halls, are being used.

At Charlottetown, the training centre for Prince Edward Island which is to train only 250 men, the barracks is a hotel.

Malta has ruled that, because of the war, tenants may cancel leases.

of responsibility for the other."

A dramatic touch had been given the meeting even before it opened. The table at which the members sat was the one used by Hon. Edward Cornwallis nearly 200 years ago when, aboard the transport Beaufort in Halifax harbor, he opened his commission as Captain General and Governor of Nova Scotia, took his oath of office and established his civil government.

Then, as now, defence problems were uppermost in the minds of New Englanders and British settlers in Nova Scotia—defence of the seaboard against the French. Halifax was founded primarily as a rampart to protect New England against France.

United States members of the board left immediately after the meeting for Yarmouth, N. S., from where they proceed to Boston. The Canadian section probably will leave for Ottawa tomorrow.

Declares Nazis Have Secret Armistice Clause

LONDON, Oct. 4.—(CP) —General de Larminat, appointed Governor-General of French Equatorial Africa by General Charles de Gaulle, leader of Free Frenchmen, stated tonight that a secret clause of the French-German armistice returned Alsace-Lorraine to the Reich immediately and unconditionally.

He made the accusation in a message to the de Gaulle headquarters here.

De Larminat said the real terms of the armistice had been hidden from the French people.

He declared, too, that he had documents showing that agents of the German government had been authorized to fly to Dakar, West Africa, and were in command of the defence of that port when the de Gaulle forces with British support made their recent unsuccessful attempt to take it.

The Governor referred to a telegram which, he said, under date of Sept. 29 instructed the Governor-General of Dakar to "take all dispositions" to transport German officials from Liberia to Dakar.

Knows Tecumseh's Burial Place

(By Edwin S. Johnson, Canadian Press Staff Writer)

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, Oct. 4—(CP)—Direct descendant of the famous Indian chieftain Tecumseh, Joseph Stonefish, a full-blooded Shawnee from the Moravtantown Reservation near Thamesville, Ont., has come overseas for the second time to do his bit for the country his forefather served so well.

Stonefish, who came over with the signal corps of the 2nd Canadian Division, claims to be the only living person who knows where the Indian chief lies buried, a secret which Canadian historical associations have unsuccessfully sought to solve for generations.

Tecumseh, according to records fell in battle while fighting by the side of the British forces against the Americans in the war of 1812. No trace of his grave was ever found.

Stonefish, however, claims Tecumseh was murdered by a group of his followers who turned traitor. He says Tecumseh's grave was shown to him when he was a boy by a grandmother who made him promise he would never disclose the location.

"I feel genuinely sorry that I am not in a position to tell the authorities where the grave is, for I should like to see a memorial erected over the plot," he said. "But we Indians regard a pledge so given as sacred and I'm afraid the secret will have to pass with me into the grave."

Stonefish was a sniper in the last war.

Sir Cyril Newall Named Lieut.-Gov. Of New Zealand

LONDON, Oct. 4 —(CP) —Air Chief Marshal Sir Cyril Newall, chief of the Royal Air Force, today was appointed governor-general of New Zealand, succeeding Viscount Galway.

The announcement was made by the Dominions Department.

Air Marshal Sir Charles Portal, head of the R.A.F. bomber command succeeds Sir Cyril.

Sir Charles' successor is Air Marshal Sir Richard Peirse, who was appointed in April as a vice-chief of the air staff to relieve the strain on Sir Cyril, chief of the air force.

Sir Cyril, 54, attained his high rank in the R.A.F. in 1937, 23 years after he joined the force. He was born in India, was graduated from Sandhurst, and once headed a flying school in India. He commanded Britain's retaliation bombers in France in the last war.

He figured prominently in the British-French air force co-ordination planning between Munich and the start of the present war.

Sir Cyril and Lady Newall, the former Olive Tennyson Foster of Boston, were married in 1925, figured in an unsuccessful contest of a slander suit in the law courts in May, 1936. They were ordered to pay $400 damages to Air Commodore W. F. MacNeece Foster.

The case concerned a statement Lady Newall was alleged to have made about Foster in connection with correspondence between Sir Cyril and Foster on the question of promotion.

Newall's predecessor in New Zealand, Viscount Galway, was appointed Oct. 1, 1934.

Death Of Mrs. George V. Guy At Halifax

HALIFAX, Oct. 4.—(CP) — Mrs. George V. Guy died today at her home here following a long illness. She was 50. She was a native of Truro, the former Charlotte Jean Murray. Before her illness, she was engaged actively in church work here.

She is survived besides her husband, a retired banker, by two sons, Sgt. G. Ross Guy with the Canadian Active Service Force, and Thomas, employed with the Canadian Press at Halifax, and one daughter, Charlotte, at home.

The funeral will be held Monday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from All Saints' Cathedral with burial in St. John's cemetery here.

Sees Canada Developing Great Ports

NEW YORK, Oct 4.—(CP) — As one outgrowth of the war, Canada is certain to emerge with two, perhaps three of the greatest ports in the world, Hal O'Flaherty, managing editor of the Chicago Daily News, writes in his third article on the Dominion's war effort.

Mr. O'Flaherty was one of more than 30 United States newspapermen who recently made a tour of Canada's eastern training camps, industrial establishments and defence bases.

" . . . Canada is today, by virtue of war trade, one of the greatest maritime powers of the world," he stated. "In one of her eastern ports, a traffic has evolved such as this continent has not seen since 1918."

The writer described how in this harbour "flotillas of the greatest commercial ships ever to ply the seas load their hulls to the limit" and head for Britain, convoyed by warships.

Leonard Ware, of the Boston Herald, commenting on the present spirit in Canada, wrote in his fourth and concluding article:

"Determined as he (the Canadian) is to defend and maintain his Anglo-Saxon heritage of freedom of thought, of religion and of personal aspiration, he knows he must make heavy economic sacrifices."

The Christian Science Monitor, in the second of its series, described in detail the air training program, and declared, "If air power can win the war for the British Empire, victory is being built in Canada by the British Commonwealth air training plans."

Wiliam Davis Taylor, in an article in the Boston Globe, reviewed the development ofthe Canadian army. He remarked that when the Dominion's training camps are completed, more than 500,000 men will be in arms. "They should be a most formidable group," he concluded.

ITALIAN RAIL LINE BLOCKED

CAIRO, Egypt, Oct. 4.—(AP)—The railway line from Jibuti to Addis Ababa, Italy's only rail connection from the Gulf of Aden with Ethiopia, was blocked by bomb hits on junctions and a train was "successfully attacked," the Royal Air Force announced today.

Another rail line in Eritrea, connecting the coast with Massawa, also was attacked, the communique said, and a railway station set flaming.

Vichy Says Siam Stirring Up Trouble

VICHY, France, Oct. 4.—(AP) — The Petain government charged today that Thailand (Siam) is backing up territorial demands on French Indo-China with "systematic" violations of that colony's frontier by groups of 20 to 40 planes.

Furthermore, the government alleged, Thailand border guards have been substantially increased in an effort to bolster agitation for frontier revision.

RUMORED

ing, the President replied that he was merely quoting the press back at the correspondents. It was just a newspaper story, he said, and he was a little amused by it.

He laughed broadly when, a moment later, Raymond P. Brandt, of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, a newspaper which is opposing the President's re-election, observed that the article was "a pretty good ad" for his candidacy.

Then a reporter mentioned that in some quarters it was contended that American assistance to Great Britain is below the level of the President's "all aid short of war formula."

As a general proposition that statement was untrue, the President responded.

There had been no discussion of training Canadian fliers at air fields in the southern United States, but that there had been conversations regarding training in private flying schools.

A Canadian, he said, has a right to come to the United States and get training in a private school where he would pay tuition, adding that what he did with the knowledge was a matter to be determined when he returned to Canada.

Mr. Roosevelt further told reporters that Canada had bought some tanks of first Great War type from the United States for training purposes. Not many were bought, he said, and he doubted whether most of them would move under their own power.

(One hundred and five old tanks moved into Canada yesterday through Detroit and Windsor, Ont.)

Explosion Wrecks Plant

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Oct. 5 — (AP) — A terrific explosion set afire to the 10-storey research laboratory of the Commercial Solvents Corporation here tonight.

There was no immediate indication as to how many persons were hurt or whether any were killed.

Within a half-hour after the blast ambulances had made seven trips to St. Anthony's and Union Hospitals with injured.

Officials made no announcement as to the cause of the explosion or the damage.

PORT ARTHUR, Ont., Oct. 4—(CP)—Police here today said they had been asked to be on the lookout for two men whose escape from a northwestern Ontario internment camp was discovered at 5:29 o'clock this afternoon.

The men, believed to have escaped while outside the camp with a working party, were reported to be:

Rudolph Reuschendach, 16, sailor, five feet, nine inches tall, 145 pounds, gray eyes, fresh complexion and dark brown hair.

Ernest Mueller, no age given, six feet, one inch tall, 190 pounds, described as a "dark blonde."

War—25 Years Ago Today

Oct. 5, 1915—Diplomatic relations broken off between Russia and Bulgaria. Political crisis in Greece resulted in the resignation of Premier Venizelos who urged Greek allegiance to Allied cause. Bulgaria demanded cession of Macedonian territory by Serbia.

Oct. 6, 1915—Austro-German invaded Serbia, crossing the Drina, Save and Danube Rivers. French troops advanced beyong the Navarin Farm in the Champagne, taking more than 1,000 prisoners.

SEARCH FOR MISSING MEN

GLACE BAY, N.S., Oct. 4.—(CP) Search was begun today through the woods in this district for Rod McLeod and Edward Hanrahan of nearby MacKay's Corner, missing since Sunday night.

Volunteers began hunting through the marshes and heavily-wooded area between here and reserve in the belief they might have become lost. Both men are coal miners.

Because of a shortage of fuel in Newmarket, Australia, gymnasiums are being installed in buildings so clerks may exercise and keep warm.

Signallers Hold Parade Along City Streets

One hundred and twenty members of the No. 6 District Signallers, N. P.A.M., representing four divisions, presented a fine appearance as they paraded through the streets of Charlottetown on their first street march last night. They were headed by Major K. S. Rogers and ten other officers. The unit started training Sept. 9.

Hundreds of Charlottetown citizens lined the route of the procession to catch a glimpse of the unit which was led by the West Kent School band consisting of 21 boys under the direction of William Hine. The parade left the Armouries and proceeded via Kent Street to Rochford, Euston, Great George, Kent, Prince, Grafton, Queen and Kent back to the starting point.

Although in training less than a month the unit presented a smart appearance last night and many favourable comments were heard about the marching. They are working at full speed to turn out signallers for the C.A.S.F. and besides the two nights a week training are working two additional nights each week.

Two Special Drill Sergeants, J. C. Emslie and M. E. Jollimore, from the Veteran's Home Guard of Canada, Sydney Command, have been assigned to the unit for instructing in drill work.

Complaints about young children mingling with the band were heard last night. This was said to be hampering the work of the boys from West Kent. It appears these young children run in and out among the members of the band and make it difficult for them to do their work.

discussion of a possible new "prestige" campaign in this area.

They expect new efforts to get Greece to repudiate Britain's guarantee to help against any threat to Greek independence.

Some observers believe the new Axis program may include an invitation to Hungary, Bulgaria and Rumania to join the Axis in a military alliance as part of new pressure against Greece and Turkey, which also has British ties.

The sight of Messerschmitts among 18 planes in "defensive reconnaissance flight" over Rumanian fields was taken as an indication of the manner in which that country is coming under German military protection and guidance.

Rumors of government changes favorable to the Axis were current in Sofia, Bulgarian capital, while in Hungary membership in the now united Hungarian Nazi party was reported gaining rapidly.

King Boris of Bulgaria awarded the Superlative Order of St. Alexander today to Goering and the Berlin and Rome Foreign Ministers, Ribbentrop and Ciano.

Balkan press reports from Berlin and Rome discussed "possible extension of the Axis European front" and reports from all Balkan capitals indicated a developing political nervousness.

The prevailing impression was that the Axis, held up in western Europe, now is planning a more active Mediterranean and Near East policy in which a tight hold on southeastern Europe is considered essential.

Some Sofia observers saw evidence of German haste to ensure Bulgaria as an Axis ally. Unconfirmed reports that the Greek minister to Sofia had suggested talks on Thrace revisionism (Bulgarian territorial claims on Greece) encouraged a belief that Athens might be trying to smooth relations with Bulgaria, with the sanction of Britain.

H. G. Wells Defends Reds Invasion Moves

NEW YORK, Oct. 4—(AP)—H. G. Wells, British author, today defended Soviet Russia's invasions of Finland and Poland.

"Suppose some foreign power was situated on Staten Island, a harmless little neutral state," said Wells in referring to the Russo-Finnish war, "but this little state was armed to the teeth with powerful guns that commanded the narrows and you had a theory that this country might be used as a spearhead of attack against the United States. I ask you what Uncle Sam would do? I am sure he would dismantle those batteries and I am afraid he would act almost as dreadfully as Russia did."

The author in an interview defended the Soviet march into eastern Poland by asserting she merely took back land awarded her by the "Curzon line" in 1920 and which had been held by Poland "in spite of the League of Nations."

Minard's kills pain.

Recently an article appeared in a local paper telling of the rescue of forty-six survivors of the torpedoed refugee ship "City of Benares."

The presence of those in the drifting lifeboat was made known to the pilot of a Sunderland flying boat by a boy in Scout uniform who signalled in Morse Code, with a white handkerchief. The pilot picked up the message through glasses, and soon the rescue was completed.

This shows the pluck and resourcefulness of a young lad who received Scout training.

English Scouts by the hundreds are assisting as messengers for many organizations in the war zone, carrying important documents, doing First Aid work, and numerous other services. These boys are making use of Scout Training, which teaches them to think and act for themselves.

Scouters Club

A meeting of the Scouters' Club was held in the Charlottetown Yacht Club on Thursday, October 3. This was the Annual meeting, and new officers were elected as follows:

Vice-President Sea S.M. Sellers
Secretary C.M. Grace Diamond
Treasurer A.C.M. Irene MacDonald.

Committees were appointed for Apple Day, Toy Shop and the collection of medicine bottles, tinfoil, tooth paste tubes, etc. Nothing definite has been decided with regard to these activities, but the committee will look into these matters and report at the next meeting which is to be held on Thursday, October 10 at 7.30 in the 5th Charlottetown (Zion) Headquarters. We make a special appeal to all Leaders to attend this meeting as important matters are to be discussed.

2nd Charlottetown Troop (St. Peters)

Last Saturday this Troop took part in an afternoon's outing which included the playing of wide games. The boys enjoyed themselves so much, that a hike has been arranged for this Saturday for the purpose of test passing, and outdoor work. This hike is to end up with a Camp Fire. This Troop is very keen on outdoor work, and it is sure to have GOOD SCOUTING.

KEEP APPLE DAY IN MIND

Rev. Mr. Phillips recently of Milton, who was an active Scouter at Alberton is now with the Chaplains Overseas Service. We extend our best wishes.

6th Charlottetown Pack (Holy Redeemer)

The Pack began its year's Cubbing with a weiner fry. The whole Pack was out and all had a grand time. "Keggo", the diminutive Assistant, had quite a time trying to keep the weiners from catching fire in the pan, but all the Cubs and Leaders can testify to his ability as a cook. Mr. Fred Wedge is now an Assistant in this Pack, we wish him GOOD HUNTING.

REMEMBER APPLE DAY WILL BE HERE SOON—Be PREPARED.

8th Charlottetown Cub Pack (Trinity)

Miss Grace Diamond has consented to lead the Trinity Cub Pack. She has been active in Cubbing for the past year, and has completed the outdoor part of the Akela Wood Badge, having attended the Maritime Akela Gilwell at Camp Buchan this summer. We congratulate her and wish her every success, and Good Cubbing.

"KEEP THE OUT IN SCOUTING"

Corporal Jack McCarville and William Toombs are now home on furlough, these two young men were very active in Scouting before the War broke out. It was a very pleasant surprise to all Scouters to see them at the meeting Thursday night. We wish them the best of luck.
