RECEIVED PROMOTION.—Mr. J. A. McNeill of the Customs and Excise Dept., City, has received notice from the Department, Ottawa, advising him of his promotion to the position of Senior Customs and Excise clerk at the Port of Charlottetown effective June 1st, inst. Mr. McNeill is a returned soldier, having gone overseas with the original 26th. Battalion St. John, and entered the Government service here on May 1st, 1919. Mr. McNeill's rapid promotion to the responsible position he now holds will be very gratifying to his many friends in this city and elsewhere.

AGAIN IN THE HANDS OF THE LAW.—John Paris, the colored man who went through five trials for the murder of little Sadie McAulay in St. John, and who was released from Rockhead Prison, Saturday morning where he completed a term of six months for selling liquor, again appeared in court yesterday, charged with being drunk, Paris, when fined $2, asked that time be given for payment. Magistrate Cluney refused this application.—Halifax Mail.

Rev. R. W. Stevenson, formerly of Charlottetown Central Christian Church, now of Toronto, arrived in the city Wednesday night, and left yesterday for Montague, where he will conduct a series of special meetings in the Christian Church.

GILLIS—CREIGHTON.—At high noon, on May 27th, 1924, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Creighton, West River, Pictou County, a very pretty wedding was solemnized when their daughter, Jessie Mary, became the bride of Rev. Angus N. Gillis of Charlottetown. To the strains of the wedding march, played by Miss Myrtle Grant of Pictou, the bride couple took their places beneath an arch of cherry blossoms and daffodils. The officiating clergyman, was Rev. John D. McLeod, assisted by Rev. C. H. Peters, Bradalbane. Rev. John Stewart, Walls. The bride was gracefully attired in white georgette and lace, worn with conventional veil and orange blossoms, and carried a Miss Ross, Summerside; Miss Duncanson, and sweet peas. Bride and groom were unattended. The groom's gift to the bride was a stone marton to the organist, a pearl ring. The bride's traveling costume was a navy tailored suit, with hat and accessories of grey. Numerous useful and beautiful gifts testified to the popularity of both young people. After a delicious buffet luncheon, amid showers of confetti and good wishes, the happy couple motored to Stellarton taking the train for Moncton. The honeymoon will be spent in P. E. I. and other points of interest in the Maritime Provinces. Mr. and Mrs. Gillis will reside at Waterville, King's County, where the groom is at present stationed.—Halifax Evening Mail.

Next week the night meetings will go on as usual except that the Young People's League will meet in the Recreation Field at 6.30 p. m. instead of in the Hall. Rev. C. Graham, Pastor.

YOU FEEL YOU WANT TO BUY IT.—A while ago there was a wide difference in prices between ordinary teas and the best—and you naturally hesitated to buy the best. Now, the once cheap teas are double what they were, while the best RED ROSE ORANGE PEKOE—1 lb. still the same price—48c per lb. package—only 8c more than other package teas. It's so strong, too, it goes much further. You really save money by using it. You ought to try it.

WELCOME VISITOR.—Mrs. F. N. Darke, of Regina, Sask., arrived in the city Monday evening June 9th, and is visiting with her mother Mrs. Joseph Wise and a cousin Mrs. Charles B. Grafton. Mrs. Darke attended a convention at Toronto University June 6th, where her son Clarence graduated in Arts, and also visited her son Trevino, who is a student in residence of Upper Canada College, Toronto. Mrs. Darke is spending a very pleasant time with relatives, and friends, and later will join with husband and sons, who will visit on the island for a short time, after which the party will leave for the British Empire Exhibition.

Report of the Fiftieth Annual Term of the Charlottetown Business College. Most Gratifying Results Marked the Term Throughout

The regular annual term of the Charlottetown Business College closed on Friday, May 30th, this year, but, owing to the amount of work in collecting and preparing the data of the term, and to give a few an opportunity to complete their examinations—the work has been carried on. At the regular closing, certificates and diplomas were given to those who had been successful in completing their courses of study, after which the students were addressed at some length by Principal Miller, reviewing the term and advising the graduating classes. He heartily congratulated the graduates, and remarked that the term had been an exceptionally satisfactory one, not only from the point of attendance, but from the progress made and results attained. While this could be said of all departments, he was justly proud of the work done in the Shorthand and Typewriting Departments. Without reflecting in any way on former graduates—for they had completely vindicated their ability to satisfactorily perform the duties required of them—yet, those who were just passing out had gone over more work, and have greater proiciency in transcribing their notes, as evidenced in their ability to operate the machines. "Following the example set by Miss McLennan—your teacher—in winning the silver medal and bar of the Underwood Typewriter Company, you were inspired to greater and more faithful effort, and many of you have been rewarded in obtaining this much coveted prize—while all have been very greatly benefited," and he "hoped they would continue in their office work the instructions they had received in this particular department. Never before at the close of a term were the machines left in such splendid condition. This alone would be appreciated by business men." In delivering the certificates and diplomas, he congratulated them on their hard earned and well merited success, but warned them not to be content; having made a successful start—thus showing the possibilities within themselves, urged them to go forward, increasing their knowledge and in consequence—their usefulness. He might possibly be asked a little selfish in asking them to acquit themselves in whatever position they may be found as to reflect credit upon themselves and their parents, who had done so much for them, and who entertained such hopes of them, for in this reflection the College would appear. "I realize that no better advertisement can any institution have than a well equipped graduate and that is why I have incessantly tried to make you realize the value of time and appreciate the opportunities which are yours. I have been accused of making it too hard to get a diploma, but some day you will thank me for it, as the business public do now. OUR CERTIFICATES AND DIPLOMAS MUST REPRESENT SOMETHING. Neither is of avail unless there is quality in the individual. Avoid flippancy of speech, and study to mind your own business. Be loyal to yourself and your employers' interests, and if you expect promotion and success—do not be afraid to give a full measure of service cheerfully for the wages received. Notwithstanding the fact that the wave of prosperity has not reached this Province, he was pleased to see so many of the students getting positions here, which showed the confidence the business public had in the College. "To those of you who are waiting for employment, my advice is to keep yourselves in a state of preparedness, for you may receive a call to a position when you least expect it." The following is a list of those who were graduated from the Business Training Department during the closing of the term, May 30th, 1924. Evelyn Sterns, City. Evelyn Mellett, Union. Selma Owen, City.
