CONFIDENT GERMAN INTRIGUE WILL NOT INFLUENCE MOHAMMEDANS
 "German intrigue cannot influence the loyalty to Great Britain of the 70,000,000 Mohammedans in India and the feeling of the Mohammedans in Egypt. They must look with detestation on the misguided action under foreign influence at Constantinople, which will inevitably lead to the disintegration of the Turkish Empire, which shows such forgetfulness of the many occasions on which Great Britain has shown her friendship to Turkey."
 They must feel bitterly, the degeneration of their co-religionists who can thus be dominated against their will by German influences, and many of them realize that when Turkey is pushed into war by Germany they must disassociate themselves from a source of action that is prejudicial to the position of Turkey itself.
 Prelude to More Aggression
 "The Turkish Government, summarily and without notice, shut off telegraphic communication with the British Embassy at Constantinople; this is no doubt a prelude to further acts of aggression on their part, and the British Government must take whatever action is required to protect the British interests in the territory and in Egypt, from attacks that have been made and are threatened."
 "The British Ambassador in a note to the Sublime Porte on October 6, which did not reach London until October 18, acknowledged receipt of the Porte's note of September 28, setting forth the rules laid down by Turkey to secure for her neutrality. The Ambassador said that the rules indicated a conception of the duties of neutrals, and therefore it was a matter of surprise that the practice of the Ottoman Government should be so at variance with these principles."
 Game of Bluff By the Goeben and Breslau
 "The Ambassador pointed out that despite the rule to the contrary, the

Dardanelles Status Violated
 "Finally," says the note, "the status of the Dardanelles has been violated by Turkey itself, in violation of the series of international acts, and she has interfered with the free passage of British merchant ships through the Straits."
 The ambassador's note concludes: "In the presence of the facts set forth above it is impossible for the Imperial Ottoman Government to maintain that they have hitherto observed their duty of neutrality, the performance of which the Imperial Government has declared them to have had in view when drawing up the rules embodied in the circular note of September 26."
 The Final Warning
 "If, after concentrating their recognition of these duties by an official communication the Imperial Government should continue to tolerate the use of Turkish territory by German ships and agents for purposes connected with the war, His Majesty's Government will feel it constrained to protest with renewed vigor against what it cannot but consider the partial and unneutral attitude on the part of the Imperial Ottoman Government and must reserve to His Majesty's Government complete liberty of action. If, on the other hand, the object of communication is to prove that the Imperial Government is prepared to embark on a new line of action, the Embassy will have the utmost satisfaction in taking the assurance in that sense and bringing it to the knowledge of the British Government."

EVEN CROSS, SICK CHILDREN LOVE SYRUP OF FIGS
 If feverish, bilious, constipated, give fruit laxative at once.
 Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.
 When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomachache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never falls to make their little "insides" clean and sweet.
 Keep it handy, Mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeits sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

MAGIC READ THE BAKING LABEL NO ALUM POWDER

Goeben and Breslau were allowed to enter the Dardanelles, and remain in Turkish waters for an indefinite period on the pretext that a sale—as to the genuineness of which no evidence exists—had taken place."
 "The note goes on to point out that the two warships were not interned, that they were allowed to search British ships in the Dardanelles were repaired in Turkish waters, have put to sea under Turkish command, and were revictualled at German expense, on their return from cruises in the Black Sea, and were generally allowed to use the Turkish port as a base.

"In cold history the war between Austria and Serbia will be set down as the sequel to a foul murder. With equal sincerity, persons other than historians might attribute both crime and campaign to a woman's curse. Uttered against him when he was a boy, the tragic misfortunes of the Emperor Franz Josef have fulfilled the course to the letter. Only one particular remains, the culmination as it were, and that this will be forthcoming during the present war is far from being remote as a contingency. Consequently, taken in conjunction with what has already happened, the whole affair has a very special significance at the present juncture.
 It was in the year 1849—the year that witnessed the repression and absorption of Hungary—that the curse was uttered. Its author was the countess Konally whose husband had been one of the victims to Austrian ferocity. Her imprecation ran thus:
 May heaven blast his happiness!
 May his family be exterminated!
 May his children be brought to ruin!
 May he perish miserably and broken hearted!
 When this terrible malisou was launched, the subject of it was only nineteen years on the throne. For a considerable time afterwards there seemed little indication of its dreadful nature being realized, but once tragedy did step in, sorrow after sorrow was poured upon the stricken monarch. Right and left violent death or insanity robbed him of kith and kin, until, half a century after the curse had been delivered, the old man was left practically alone. Here is only a partial list of the terrible happenings that have shadowed his life:
 Emperor Maximilian, brother—shot in Mexico.
 Crown Prince Rudolph, son and heir—committed suicide.
 Empress Elizabeth, wife—Assassinated.
 Count Ludwig de Trani, brother-in-law—committed suicide.
 Duchess d'Alencon, sister-in-law—burned to death.
 Archduke Carl Ludwig—died.
 Archduke Charles Louis, brother—died.
 Otto of Bavaria, cousin—went mad.
 Princess Marie Charlotte, cousin—went mad.
 Archduke John, nephew—disappeared at sea.
 Archduke Francis Ferdinand, nephew—assassinated.
