The many friends of Mr. Victor Macdonald are sorry to hear that he has entered the Provincial Sanatorium for treatment. Before World War I1 Victor travelled over the island, and at the beginning of hostilities enlisted in the Navy and saw action in many theatres of war. After he got his discharge he resumed his former job, until he entered the sanatorium.

SLIGHTLY INJURED - Mr. Eric Howard of Margate, employed by Pardon Maritime Ltd., on board a ferry pier was slightly injured while at work on Saturday. He was taken to the Prince County Hospital but examination revealed that his injuries were only minor and he will be released today. He was injured when a log fell on his chest. - S.

HORSE DROPS DEAD - A horse owned by Mrs. Wallace MacCallum of St. Eleonors dropped dead Saturday night while standing in the Holmans stables in Summerside. The body of the animal was loaded on a sleigh and a car secured to tow it out of town. However, on Water Street West, another car was in collision with the sleigh and as a consequence the body of the horse was knocked off. As sufficient help was not available to re-load it, it was left on the side of the street for the night. The car involved in the collision was damaged considerably. - S.

On Monday, March 15, the residents of Rocky Point and surrounding districts were shocked to learn of the sad and sudden passing of an estimable citizen in the person of Mr. Ernest Currie. He had been suffering from an ailment for some time, although not able to do much strenuous work outside. He was as usual on Monday, and in the evening shortly after a neighbour had dropped in for a chat, he complained of not feeling so well. The family for a few minutes were not unduly alarmed as he had on previous occasions had a similar condition, but he suddenly became worse and in a few minutes his soul took its flight to meet his Maker. His untimely death was especially sad as his wife at the time was a patient in the Prince Edward Island Hospital.

The death occurred at the Prince Edward Island Hospital on Friday, March 26th, of Elmer H. Foster, prominent Charlottetown contractor, in his fifty-fourth year. Although not in good health for some time, he continued to carry on his work until his sudden illness two weeks ago.

Born at Dunstaffnage, P. E. I., Mr. Foster came to Charlottetown, when a young man, where he engaged in the building trade and later entered into business on his own, and designed and built many homes in Charlottetown and surrounding districts, which now stand as monuments to his name.

Several years ago he entered into partnership with Mr. Stanley Bryant, of this city, and carried on in this capacity until his death.

He leaves to mourn his wife, formerly Edith MacKay of Charlottetown; two sons, Eric and Everett; and two daughters, June and Lois, all of Charlottetown; also his mother, Mrs. Amanda Foster of Dunstaffnage; three brothers, Edley of Charlottetown and Harry and John of Dunstaffnage; five sisters, Ella, Mrs. Russell Pickard of Charlottetown; Pearl, Mrs. John MacCracken of Melville, Mass.; Leah, Mrs. John Bell of Apopka, Florida; Sylvia, Mrs. Charles Ellis of Donaldson and Edith, Mrs. John Welsh of Dunstaffnage.

The Guardian extends sincere sympathy to the bereaved family.

For the second time in a week a U. S. Air Force plane from Hamilton Field, Newfoundland landed at Charlottetown yesterday in a load of eggshells and supplies of milk, eggs and other dairy supplies had to be sent down by truck. The reason for landing at Charlottetown is that the action of frost has caused some slight damage to certain sections of the runways at Summerside and the Americans had been advised by the R. C. A. F. that the airfield had been closed to R. C. A. F. planes and anyone using it would do so at their own risk. However, Maritime Central Airways are using the runways and with the approval of the Department of Transport, and they report that there is no risk to pilots who are familiar with the field.

Mr. James Tuplin, known throughout Canada and the United States as one of the pioneer breeders of silver foxes, died at his home in O'Leary yesterday morning. He was 79 years old.

In 1920 he sold the larger part of his ranch to the late Messrs. W. K. Rogers and J. Stanley Wedlock at a price said to approximate $200,000, and though keeping a few pairs of foxes for his own ranching purposes, thereafter gradually retired from his previous strenuous activities.

During the last few years, Mr. Tuplin had not been in good health and had received hospital treatment in Boston, Montreal, and Charlottetown. His wife predeceased him about a year ago.

Surviving are two sons, Reuben, in Halifax, and George in Conway; also two daughters, Mrs. Charles Keizer of O'Leary, now a patient in the Prince Edward Island Hospital; and Olive, at home. Another son, Denzel, died about two years ago.

Surrounded by his entire family of thirteen and two daughters, on Tuesday, March 23rd, in the old home he has occupied in the Harbour for almost seventy-five years, Mr. Thomas Oulton celebrated the 88th anniversary of his birth. Born at Trout Brook, Little Shemogue, Westmorland County, N.B., and as a small boy, he and his parents moved to Prince Edward Island and resided at Fort Hill and district for a few years before he moved to Bras Harbour with his father, a silver black Trenchholm Oulton, a silver black fox plover, and a bowed out of the forest on the west shore of the Northumberland Strait, which he and his youngest son, Roy, have occupied and farmed all these intervening years. In spite of his 88 years, while Mr. Oulton suffered a severe illness a year or so ago, he is now enjoying fairly good health. He has a keen mind and often gives reminiscent talks of the good old days when he had to start out before daybreak in the morning to drive his team of horses to Summerside for supplies etc. in order to get back home on the same day. He continues to be a keen reader, has a great interest in the news of the day and when weather and roads permit, regularly attends church service in the Bras United Church of which he is the senior elder, and this high and holy office he has held continuously in that church for thirty-two years.

Present for the birthday celebration were his son Humphrey G. and Mrs. Oulton of Glenwood; his son Robert T. and Mrs. Oulton of the Bras; their daughters, Gwen (Mrs. Gerald Gamble) and her husband, a great grandson, thus representing four generations; his daughter, Mrs. Matheral (Pearle), a daughter, who is living with her father and Mrs. W.A. Trenchholm (Eleanore), a daughter, with her husband from Montreal and Roy (son) and his wife on the home farm.

Topping the dinner party, a birthday cake, beautifully and artistically decorated with lighted candles and the number "88" thereon, made by Mrs. Roy Oulton was presented to the reverend "Guest of Honor" and "Happy Birthday to you Daddy" was sung by those present.
