At the Police Court in this city yesterday the prohibition case against P. P. Gillis came up. Three new witnesses were examined. The missing witness, however, is still necessary in this case and a late report places him in Bangor, Me. The case was adjourned for a week.

George and Mrs. Cochrane, Boston, are spending a holiday in North River, the guests of Mr. Cochrane's sister, Mrs. A. H. Larter. Mr. Cochrane is a native of Halifax and is an engineer. This is his first visit to P. E. Island and he speaks in high terms of the Garden Province. The trip and is delighted with the climate. During his short stay here he is making many fast friends who will regret that he cannot spend a longer period with them. He leaves on return on Wednesday next.

Mrs. Bulman, Royalty, who was injured by a fall at Sherwood Wednesday evening while alighting from the picnic train was reported last night to be doing very good though she was somewhat bruised about the shoulder. Supt. Sharp, upon investigation, states that the conductor of the picnic train had no knowledge of any passengers having tickets to get on or off at Sherwood and no one asked to be put off at that station. Consequently he did not stop as he otherwise would have done. The only passengers to be allowed off by the conductor was a young man, who got on at Royalty Junction and that passenger was safely landed by him on the return trip at that station. The conductor claims that had he been notified by the passengers to stop at Sherwood the train would have waited until all were safely landed and no accident would have happened but he does not know where those referred to got on and was not told to stop other than at Royalty, as he did.

A correspondent from South Melville writes:--Hay-making is the order of the day here and the farmers in general report an average yield. In fact all the crops are looking their best, although the usual pest, the potato bug, seems to be getting a little in advance of the farmers. Among the visitors to spend Sunday here were Messes Alice McQuade of Bonwell, Lauretta Egan of Hampton, Stephen McMurrer and his sister, Miss Mary, of Royalty, James Tole of Bonshaw, Philip McCaughey of DeSable, Neil Ferguson and Warren Inman of Hampton. Miss Anna MacFarlane, formerly of South Melville but now of Jamaica Plains, Mass., is visiting here. A series of basket ball games have been played lately between the Invincibles and Heroes of this place, attracting a large number of spectators from adjacent districts. Owing to the busy season the games have been discontinued for an indefinite period. It is rumored that Basket ball is the cause of Cupid's arrows falling thicker and faster than ever recorded here before. Rumors also has it that one of the most popular of our fair sex contemplates a permanent residence in an adjoining Lot. However we must only console ourselves with the charitable thought that our loss will be another's gain.

CAMPBELLTON FIDE.

Campbellton, N.B. July, 21-10

By the fire in Campbellton July 11th, the Baptist church and parsonage were totally destroyed and all our members in town lost their homes and places of business. The insurance on parsonage only cancels the debt against it. The insurance on church pays debt against it and about two thousand, two hundred dollars ($2,200), with which to build church and parsonage.

We have sold church lot and bought one of the best lots in town. Our people are stripped for the most part of everything--home furniture and business. One third of our congregation have gone away, leaving the burden of building for the rest. Our people will not be able to do much for one year, either toward pastor's salary or building fund, except a few of them, who will do nobly. We are compelled to look to the denomination to put us in possession of buildings or disband. We must build without debt as we could not carry even a small debt. Anything but a good building would mean failure for us. We are awaiting your answer. Unless the outside within four months, they cannot be until next summer. There are no buildings to secure either for worship or to live in. Most of us are now living in tents. Help us and help us now. G. W. Schurman Pastor.
