THE EDITOR'S MAIL.

Sir.—I clip the following paragraph from your issue of last Monday.

"The Pictou cattle mystery is said to have been solved by the experts of the agriculture departments who have been investigating the disease. It is their opinion that a certain mold on the weed known as "willy" is the cause of the disease. This mold appears after the hay is stored." Hx. Herald.

I think that you will agree with me that it is fair to state that this valuable and important discovery was made, not by "the experts of the agricultural department" but by Mr. L. W. Watson, Secretary of the Natural History and Antiquarian Society of P. E. I., who to my certain knowledge has been investigating the matter and communicating the result to the authorities from time to time until he completed his conclusions. Yours etc.

JOHN NEWSON.
Pres. Nat. Hist. & Ant. Socy.

Count Zeppelin, recently in an interview in Stuttgart, made the following statement concerning his airship:

"All the defects indicated by the first three experiments have now been remedied. In the future no gas valve will open in the wrong time, no water cooling apparatus will break, no rudder will become entangled in the balloon covering.

"In other respects my balloon fulfils all reasonable conditions required of an aerial ship destined for long journeys. It floats well in the air, is sufficiently strong and safe, can be steered and possesses the desired velocity, which, if necessary, can be increased. Capt. von Siegfeld has calculated a velocity of 7.5 metres per second. The course was, however, never straight and, as a matter of fact, the velocity was 8.5 metres for the widest curve, or one and a half times as great as the speed of the steamers on Lake Constance.

"With such a velocity the ship could be used 300 days out of every year, and during half of the remainder for sailing with the wind.

"Improvements in the manufacture and installation of the newest Daimler motors show a saving weight of 380 pounds and twenty-five horse-power instead of the sixteen horse-power which the motors hitherto used for the balloon have each given. This represents a saving in weight of 780 pounds and an increase in horse-power from thirty-two to seventy. There is now the possibility of obtaining sixfold the power with the same weight as that of the present machines.

"The practiced aim of my ship is not competition with the railways or steamers. It will only come into use when these fail—for instance, for a carriage post between Germany and Scandinavia, when the harbors of the Baltic are frozen.

"Its most important application would be for military purposes. It would be of great value for the defensive capacity of a country if by means of the navigable balloon the approach of hostile armies or fleets could be detected when still hundreds of miles distant.

"As soon as the aerial ship has demonstrated its utility all nations will compete for its possession and the money invested will return a handsome profit. If my ship is abandoned before it has shown what it is capable of doing it will be no long time before another inventor will undertake the expense and trouble of resuming the experiments."

About $15,000 has been received by Count Zeppelin for further experiments. Trials will be resumed in the spring and it is calculated this sum will suffice for twelve ascents.

Latest Kipling Story.

Here's the latest story of Rudyard Kipling: Annoyed by the injury done to one of his trees by the driver and conductor of the local bus, Mr. Kipling wrote a vigorous letter to the bus owner, who is also landlord of an inn in Rottingdean. The landlord laid the letter before the select company of the bar parlor, who advised an attitude of calm indifference. Also a Croesus among them offered 10 shillings in cash for the autograph letter. Both advice and cash were accepted. In due course a second and stronger letter followed the first. The landlord convened another bar parliament, and the second letter also found a purchaser, this time at £1, as benefitted its increased violence. A.C. Boniface again sat tight! To him next day entered Mr. Kipling, briskly wrathful. "Why didn't I answer your letters, sir? Why, I was hoping you'd send me a fresh one every day. They pay a deal better than bus driving."

Francis Willard States.

A marble statue of Francis Willard is soon to be placed in Statuary Hall in the Capitol. It will be the only statue of a woman ever allowed in the historic chamber. It is donated by the state of Illinois, each Commonwealth of the Union being allowed to honor two persons in this manner.

The statue will be given one of the most prominent positions possible. The unveiling will be attended by elaborate ceremony, in which members of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union representing every section will be present. No one will see the work until the drapery is officially drawn aside.

"What a difference in the suffering at time of childbirth" when Dr. R. V. Pierce's medicines are used," writes Mrs. Edmon Jacobs, of Barkserville, Johnson County, Ind. "I had not heard of Dr. Pierce's medicines three years ago when I was confined, so had to suffer almost death. Before baby was born I could not be on my feet without two persons holding me.

The baby was a boy weighing nine and three-quarter pounds, and for some weeks after his birth I suffered severe pain. Last fall, following the advice of a neighbor, my husband bought me Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I was only in labor two hours and was on my feet without help until thirty minutes before my baby was born. He is now three months old and weighs nineteen pounds. I know it was Dr. Pierce's medicine that saved me from suffering. I advise all women to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, also his 'Pleasant Pellets' if necessary.

"Following the advice of a neighbor," there is in those six words. The neighbor had tried the "Favorite Prescription" and recommended it. Mrs. Jacobs has also tried it and proved its wonderful properties and now she recommends it. Beside such testimony as this its maker's words are unimportant. Mrs. Jacobs' experience is a fact. Her neighbor's experience is a fact. The written experiences of 250,000 other women are facts. There is no theory about it. There can be no question about it. In every neighborhood in this broad land there are women who have been cured by the "Favorite Prescription." It has cured more cases of female complaint than all other medicines for women combined. It is the only medicine of its kind invented by a skilled specialist in medicine—a regularly graduated physician of more than thirty years' actual experience.

A CARD OF THANKS.

I desire to tender my thanks to all who so generously made up the sum of $60 toward the purchase of an artificial leg for me, that cost $100, which now I have the comfort of wearing, and to Dr. R. J. McDonald who ordered it free of charge. Such acts of kindness have placed me under a debt of gratitude that I feel I shall be unable to repay, and may the Giver of every good and perfect gift bless and reward them.

Yours Sincerely,
ADELIA J. DOCKENDORFF,
Mount Hope, Lot 55,

BRONCHITIC ASTHMA CURED.

Kingston, Ont.—For ten years I have been a terrible sufferer from Bronchitic Asthma, oftentimes so bad that for nights at a time I could not rest. I spent hundreds of dollars on doctors "quacks" but one dollar's worth of Catarrhazone cured me." Capt. McDonald.

Four months later Capt. McDonald wrote saying: "I am still perfectly well and have no more bother from my old trouble."

Few marine men are better known on the great lakes than Capt. McDonald of Kingston, and his testimony will be convincing to all who know him. Ask your druggists to show you Catarrhazone, or we will send it post paid on receipt of $1.00 or a trial outfit for 10 cents in stamp. N. C. Polson, Kingston, Ont., Hartford, Conn.

Handle With Care..

Is not the label we put on our Furs. You may handle them as roughly as you wish and we will make good any defect. It's just our way of selling right furs. This is easy to be deceived into buying furs that are called as good as ours. But it's not so easy to get a coat or cap changed after being torn, not so easy as it else as it is here. How can we afford to replace a jacket free. Well we don't do it at all, every garment we buy is warranted by the maker, he is the man who loses when we replace any fur garment. He has not lost much this year because our furs are away above the usual standard. Now then why not buy your fur jacket of a firm who sell only guaranteed good furs. That's us our fur rule satisfaction without a compromise. Your money back if otherwise. And all our beautiful furs are now being sold 33 1/3 off. Talk is cheap but our furs are cheaper at these prices.
