The latest news, first of all.

Loser of gold pin at Burns' concert should read classified column.

Mayor Compton and Mrs. Compton Summerside, were in the city yesterday.

Miss F. McAssey, the oldest resident of Cherry Hill, who is in her ninety fourth year, is reported ill.

The program at New Wenderland tonight is an exceptionally pleasing one, as will be seen by the reader of page four.

John T. and Mrs. Deacon and Miss Flora E. Campbell, North Wiltshire, are visiting in Humberly, Lot 48, the guests of Everett and Mrs. Boyer.

Capt. Anderson, who is well known in this city has been given command of the large four-masted schooner Gypsum Empress, now at Halifax.

The cold weather has created a steady demand on the American market for smelts and eels, and to supply their customers E. S. Ellis & Co., 176 Atlantic Avenue, Boston, solicit shipments from this Province. With the experience of years, they display their goods to the best possible advantage, and thus secure the highest market prices.

Mrs. A. E. Clark, wife of the station master of Souris and Miss Laura Cox of Souris, have been in the city for a week, the guests of Mrs. W. F. Tidmarsh. They leave by the first trip of the steamer from Georgetown, Mrs. Clark for Montreal on a visit to her sister, Mrs. Davies and Miss Cox for Toronto to visit Mrs. Gormely, daughter of Ex-Governor McIntyre.

An Islander resident in New York writing to a relative in this city says: "You see by The Guardian that I sent them some calendars. Well, when you see the editor tell him the paper is a good advertising medium, as every mail brings us requests from all parts of the Island for calendars. We have granted all requests as far as possible, but our supply has run out."

The death occurred at Mill View on Wednesday after a short illness of Mrs. Andrew C. Smith, aged seventy four years. She leaves to mourn beside her husband, three daughters, Mrs. Geo. Jelly, St. Eleanor's, Mrs. Jas. Villet, Hampton and Mrs. Dougherty in British Columbia and one son William at home. The funeral takes place this morning at ten o'clock to Belfast Cemetery, Rev. G. R. Chouven officiating.

Speaking of local conditions as they find them in the piano business, a writer to the Halifax Maritime Merchant says that in certain sections of the Maritime Provinces he had felt the adverse influence of the bad markets for fish and lumber, but it was one of the peculiarities of the Maritime Provinces that conditions were never bad all over. This year the shore sections are poor, but the Annapolis Valley and Prince Edward Island are better than usual.

Red and Gun for February is a choice number of that handsome and creditable Canadian monthly. It contains over thirty articles of varied interest to all concerned in hunting, fishing, snowshoeing, mooring, and kindred sports. It is handsomely illustrated with views which, like the articles, bring out in full relief the delights of winter sports and amusements in Canada. Every page is cheerful, optimistic and inspiring. Published by J. W. Taylor, Woodstock, Ont.

The Halifax Maritime Merchant says: Supplies of feeds are very fair but the demand for the present is not heavy. A little later in the season when home grown feeds and supplies of imported feeds laid in earlier have been broken, the demand will pick up and the prices will probably improve. The lightness of lumbering operations is having an influence on the trade; for where there is usually a brisk demand from the lumbermen, feed oats are firmer. The American supplies are short this year and the Canadian sources of supply are being drained in that direction, and American prices are much higher than Canadian. As a result of the export demand the domestic supplies are becoming materially reduced while the consumptive demand this year is heavier than ever. The influence of this on P.E.I. oats will inevitably be to make late shipments worth considerably more money, and we understand Island farmers are still holding large quantities. Hay is still in good supply, but there has been steady consumption and after a few weeks the surplus supplies should be pretty well out of first hands. But the supplies are large enough to make a change in prices unlikely for some time to come.

Miss Annie McKenna, Hillsboro, is reported ill.

A house with modern conveniences is to let. See classified column.

The tide will be high this afternoon at 4.52 and tomorrow afternoon at 5.37.

There will be services at St. John's church, Belfast, first Sabbath at the usual hour.

Mrs. L. E. Prowse leaves for Ottawa on Tuesday next to join her husband, and will be absent for three months.

The family of the late William Miller wish to thank their many friends for assistance, flowers, and sympathy shown during their sore bereavement.

Contractor Stover, Earncliffe, finished putting down a second supply of casing Wednesday, at which time the drill had reached a depth of one thousand feet.

Shippers of smelts and eels in this Province are asked to write Willis H. Rogers, 106 Fulton Market, New York, as he solicits consignments from this Province. He will secure the highest prices, make prompt returns and send any desired information upon application.

The annual meeting of the Cherry Valley Dairying Co., was held on Tuesday, and was fairly well attended. The officers' reports were read and approved. The directors for the ensuing year are: John Tweedy, Frank Mutch, Charles Mutch, William Carey, M. J. McLeod, Alex McDonald and Henry Wright.

Now that a monument to the immortal Burns has been suggested, perhaps, as a preliminary step, a more general reading for his inimitable strains might be taken up by the general public, for as the great Dr. Johnson once said, that to praise a work is much easier than to read and understand it. How few indeed in this Province can read intelligently and understand some of the best poems of the poet Burns. A Burns' Club might be the means of giving an impetus to the movement.

The steamer Minto arrived in Georgetown yesterday from Pictou about three twenty with the mails and passengers. The Stanley left Georgetown Tuesday morning in the steam and went as far as Cape Bear where she laid too for the day. On Wednesday she got within two miles of the east end of Pictou Island and yesterday she returned to Georgetown about one o'clock for coal and water, as it was easier to return than to make Pictou. This morning the Stanley leaves Georgetown at 6 o'clock for Pictou and it is not probable the Minto will move out of Georgetown until tomorrow morning.

The following tribute is paid to the late Rev. R. McLean, well known here in the annual report of the Milan Que. Presbyterian congregation of which he was pastor at the time of his demise: At present a sad gloom is cast over our congregation by the death of our beloved pastor who passed to his rest on Monday the 27th January, 1908, in the 54th year of his life. He was a burning and shining light. His sun has gone down when he has in the prime of his life and in the midst of his usefulness. We do not know as yet how much we shall miss his soul-stirring, heaven-breathed prayers; his preaching that was intensely aglow with living fervour, his sweet morsels for the poor and needy, the handfuls he would let fall on purpose for the Ruths, and the earnest pleading with sinners to close with the offers of the gospel. It is a sore chastisement to us, and we should not despise it, but humbly ourselves under the mighty hand of God and go with more earnestness to the throne of grace. Whilst we mourn his departure and feel his loss, yet we should endeavor to say "The Lord gave and the Lord hath taken away; blessed be the name of the Lord." It is to be hoped that this short faithful ministry among us will yet bear fruit. When he concluded that his end was near he said, "Bury me in Gislela cemetery that my silent grave may preach to them," and that reveals the earnest desire that was in him for the glory of God in the salvation of souls, when he was on the brink of the grave. We believe had his life been spared longer in the congregation, he would have raised it to a standard it never had before.

Guaranteed, black

French Taffeta 69c.

Special at

AND WHEN we say "guaranteed" it is not just a trifling figure of speech. It is not a more or less doubtful factory guarantee—it just means that we become personally responsible for every yard that we sell. That is to say—if you buy a dress or waist of this taffeta—and it splits or cracks within three months—we will replace the silk free.

As to the silk—it is a fine soft French taffeta—19 inches wide—black only. The finish is bright and lustrous and the quality is equal to anything we have previously been able to offer you at 85c. Many stores—most stores—69c in fact would regard it as good value at a dollar, our price..... 69c

Beware of imitations—our name is woven on every yard of the selvage of the genuine goods.

And still Remnants

We have just been looking the matter up—and find that this has been the biggest remnant sale—in point of amount of sales that we have ever had—and we have been having Charlottetown's one great remnant sale for fifteen years.

Just want to remind you that we have still a lot of most attractive bargains that are well worth looking into.

There are dress goods, muslins, prints, white cottons, laces, veilings, ribbons, trimmings—and a host of other nice goods at prices that are simply a joke.

Summer Muslins

going at one third off

On the second floor we have placed a big table full of last season's muslins and wash goods—dainty—fetching—trim patterns for street or evening wear. We have been selling a tremendous lot of these—but we thought perhaps you have not heard about them—hence this little reminder.

WHITE SALE

Of course you are waiting for the table linens in the white sale at Paton's. And of course we shall not disappoint you. You needn't take printers' ink for it, you can take observation, you can bring with you the best knowledge obtainable regarding values; the better, the better we will be pleased, the more liberally you will buy. Some of the linens: 64-inch heavy cream laddered table damasks, a dozen patterns, neat to hold several designs, 56c. 27-inch bleached Irish linen table damasks, slightly nice linens, these, and 50c. 64-inch heavy Scotch homespun table linens, damask effects, reversible, 56c. 1-29021.
