

Heart Palpitation Dizzy, Sinking Spells

Mrs. M. A. Gagnon, Donatville, Alta., writes: "Some time ago I was very nervous, could not sleep at night, often dizzy, sinking spells and palpitation of the heart, and was so run down I could not do my housework, but just leave everything and sit down.

I spent a lot of money using medicines from the doctor, but it did not do me any good.

At last a friend told me to use and after using a couple of boxes I was not the same woman. I began to feel so much better, and after a few more boxes I was in perfect health. I always recommend them to all those I know who are suffering from heart trouble."

Price 50c. a box at all druggists or dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

AUCTION SALE

We will sell for Mrs. John McLaren on Monday, April 18th, commencing at 12 o'clock noon, her three tenement dwelling house, situated on Richmond Street, Nos. 308, 310, 312.

Terms at sale. BENJ. CARTER, Auctioneer. 4-13-15.

AUCTION SALE

We will sell for Mrs. John McLaren on Monday, April 18th, commencing at 12 o'clock noon, her three tenement dwelling house, situated on Richmond Street, Nos. 308, 310, 312.

Terms at sale. BENJ. CARTER, Auctioneer. 4-13-15.

FARM FOR SALE

One hundred and twenty-four acres of land at St. Theresa's, owned by Patrick Kenny. Splendid buildings in good repair, seventy acres in a high state of cultivation, balance covered with a heavy growth of hard and soft wood.

For further particulars apply JAMES F. KENNY, St. Theresa's, 467-4-14th St.

FARM FOR SALE

At Rose Valley, P. E. I., consisting of 45 acres of good land, balance covered with Hardwood and Softwood. Building in good repair. This farm is well fenced and for quick sale I will sell at a sacrifice as I am living in U. S. A. You want a bargain come and look it over.

For further particulars apply to BERT TROWSDALE, Westmorland, P. E. I. 4885-4-14-81.

MORTGAGE SALE

There will be sold at Public Auction at the Law Courts Building in Charlottetown, on Monday the second day of May, A. D. 1927 at twelve o'clock noon, ALL that tract piece of land and being on Lot Thirty-eight in Kings County in Prince Edward Island bounded and described as follows, that is to say: Bounded on the north by Savage Harbour Bay, on the east by a farm of land in possession of Benjamin Farquharson on the south by land in possession of Michael Cunningham on the west by land in possession of Donald Morrison and containing one hundred acres of land a little more or less.

The above sale is made under and by virtue of a Power of Sales contained in an Indenture of Mortgage dated the 20th December 1901 and made between John J. McEachern, Savage Harbour in King's County, Prince Edward Island, farmer, John D. McEachern, farmer of the same place and Mary McEachern wife of John D. McEachern of the one part and Mary A. Wright of Charlottetown in Queen's County, Prince Edward Island, spinster of the other part and assigned to James H. Gregor by Indenture dated 3rd September A. D. 1907, default having been made in payment of the principal and interest.

Dated this first day of April A. D. 1927. BARBARA E. GREGOR ANNE MARGARET POMEROY Executrices of Estate James H. Gregor 4-2-241.

Road Patrol Tenders

Separate Sealed Tenders addressed to the Undersigned and marked "Road Patrol Tender" will be received at this office until noon on Wednesday, April 20th, 1927, for the Maintenance and Patrol of the Improved Highways of the Province.

Specifications, List of Sections and Form of Tender may be seen at the office of the Department of Public Works, Charlottetown, and at the Residence of the Road Master for each Road District.

Parties tendering may tender for one or more Sections. The Department is not bound to accept the lowest or any tender. L. B. McMILLAN, Secretary of Public Works, 4885-4-14-81.

SMILES

SPORT CRACKS

WHEN THE FAN GET REAL MAD, YOUR BET BET IS A HOME-RUN.

DID THE REELS Bill: Gee, what a time I had at the dance last night! Jim: Why, you can't dance. Bill (still slightly stewed): Oh, but I did the reels.

He: Isn't spring wonderful! Everything is so fresh. She: And the fellows are too fresh.

TO REWARD ME FOR MY FAITHFUL services by making me a buyer for the glove and hosiery departments, I hope.

WANTED

Old Postage Stamps on or off the envelopes. On the original envelope preferred. You keep the letters. Look through your old trunks, chests, etc. I will pay you. Kindly let me know what you have. Cash for stamps issued before 1875. Kindly correspond at once with Box 596, Summerside. 4683-4-14-11.

DAUGHTERS OF MIDAS

BY ANNE AUSTIN

(Continued) CHAPTER V

"But I tell you I never have worn a six and a half." A heavily powdered and rouged woman, who bought her dresses in the "stylish" department, glared at Billy Wells. "I always take a six or a six and a quarter, and when I was a girl I wore a five and a half, gov."

"Oh, Mrs. Dunlop," Billy interrupted with her carefully cultivated eagerness and flattery, "I can give you a six, but the latest word from Paris is that loosely-fitting gloves are the hallmark of the gentleman. How nicely you keep your hands! I see you are so busy, as she worked, with practiced fingers, to get the tight cover the padded hands of her customer."

"I was just noticing your hands," Mrs. Dunlop admitted, mollified. "How do you keep them so white and soft?" "Oh, I make a preparation of my own—equal parts of peroxide and glycerin, faintly scented with rose water, but in our cosmetics department—what is it, Gus?" She turned to the boy who had been trying to get her attention.

"Old T. Q. wants to see you in his private office," the boy whispered hastily. "All right, Gus, when I am free. Now, Mrs. Dunlop, I'm sure you'll want two pairs of these tawny-colored gloves."

"Three," Mrs. Dunlop said grandly. "I wonder," she lowered her voice, "if you can tell me if there's any truth at all in the rumor—just a rumor, of course—that that charming boy, Clay Curtis, has just been disinherited by his father, and is working in a factory and living with some dreadfully low-think you've got a better idea than that as to why I sent for you. That fool boy of mine is living at your house, isn't he? He gave your home address when he asked Livingston, the insurance man, for a job."

Make Better Bread Ask your grocer for ROYAL YEAST CAKES STANDARD OF QUALITY FOR OVER 50 YEARS

"I told him not to try insurance. He hasn't brass enough to bully people into buying something they ought to have and don't want." Billy shook her head with comical gravity.

"Did you know my son before he—er—disinherited the old man? I suppose he's told you his melodramatic story by this time, and, incidentally, that he's owing you a board bill that he has no prospects of paying."

"Mother and I aren't worried about his board bill," Billy told him calmly, but her blue eyes had been disinherited by his father, and "Pretty sure old T. Q. will auto live with some dreadfully low-sturdy, boyish little body tensed with anger. "Then he must be working in a factory," T. Q. signed. "Now look here, little lady, I don't want the boy to be really up against it. I'd like to slip you a little money to make up any deficit in his board bill, and enough to have his clothes cleaned and kept in order. Ten dollars a week is a ridiculous sum for room and board. Your mother can't be making a penny off him."

Billy could hold back her words no longer. "I think you must be forgetting how poor folks live, Mr. Curtis. We should have charged any other boarder ten dollars a week, and mother doesn't take a boarder for the fun of the thing. And Clay—young Mr. Curtis—can pay for having his clothes cleaned and pressed or do them himself, like other young men, who have to make their own living. He's all right, Mr. Curtis," she felened suddenly, as her employer's face went suddenly bleak and old; "don't you worry about him. It's good for him, really it is. He's trying to do something fine, something you should be proud of. He'll make the grade if you keep hands off. He's dead set on making a man of himself. No, I didn't know him before, except by sight, and he chose our place entirely by accident; had never heard of me before, or noticed me in the store, if that's what you mean. Oh, please, let him alone, Mr. Curtis! If he's worthy of his father, he'll make good, and if he isn't he'll come cry-babbling home to you."

"Maybe I'd better warn you, Miss Wells, that Clay has just been through a pretty bad time with a New York actress, and he's down on women for the time being. Better not count too much on this probability business."

"I think you're vile!" Billy blazed at him, and whirled toward the door. Then realization of what she had done swept over her. But it was not in her to eat her words just to save her position. "I suppose this lets me out," she said. "I'm sorry, but I can't take anything back. Julie Barker will make a good head of the department. Billy stopped off on the fifth floor at the women employees' rest room. The outer of the two rooms was furnished with book cases holding hundreds of books, tables with writing lamps, half a dozen well cushioned couches, and rugs almost as thick and soft as those that muted the footsteps of weary women shoppers.

A voluptuous, black-eyed beauty arose from her couch and stretched luxuriously as Billy walked in. "Hello, dearie. My fifteen minute rest period's up darn the luck. Wish old T. Q'd make it we are. Lend me your lipstick, any mine's worn clear down."

"Sorry, Nyda. I just can't bear to let anyone use my lipstick, and I can't bear to use anyone else's," Billy told her curtly, because she was in a hurry to get away from Nyda Loma's too observing black eyes. "Well, for crying out loud!" Nyda ejaculated. "Just listen to Lady Clare Vere de Vere! B-t old T. Q. hawled you out. Your eyes are red. Julie said you'd been cal-

rose from her couch and stretched luxuriously as Billy walked in. "Hello, dearie. My fifteen minute rest period's up darn the luck. Wish old T. Q'd make it we are. Lend me your lipstick, any mine's worn clear down."

"I think you're vile!" Billy blazed at him, and whirled toward the door. Then realization of what she had done swept over her. But it was not in her to eat her words just to save her position. "I suppose this lets me out," she said. "I'm sorry, but I can't take anything back. Julie Barker will make a good head of the department. Billy stopped off on the fifth floor at the women employees' rest room. The outer of the two rooms was furnished with book cases holding hundreds of books, tables with writing lamps, half a dozen well cushioned couches, and rugs almost as thick and soft as those that muted the footsteps of weary women shoppers.

A voluptuous, black-eyed beauty arose from her couch and stretched luxuriously as Billy walked in. "Hello, dearie. My fifteen minute rest period's up darn the luck. Wish old T. Q'd make it we are. Lend me your lipstick, any mine's worn clear down."

"Sorry, Nyda. I just can't bear to let anyone use my lipstick, and I can't bear to use anyone else's," Billy told her curtly, because she was in a hurry to get away from Nyda Loma's too observing black eyes. "Well, for crying out loud!" Nyda ejaculated. "Just listen to Lady Clare Vere de Vere! B-t old T. Q. hawled you out. Your eyes are red. Julie said you'd been cal-

rose from her couch and stretched luxuriously as Billy walked in. "Hello, dearie. My fifteen minute rest period's up darn the luck. Wish old T. Q'd make it we are. Lend me your lipstick, any mine's worn clear down."

Advertisement for Kellogg's Corn Flakes. Features a cartoon of a woman and a box of cereal. Text: "I just had a treat! More than 11,000,000 people daily prefer Kellogg's Corn Flakes for wonderful flavor and crispness! And Kellogg's are fine for you—always easy to digest. Serve them for breakfast, lunch or dinner. With milk or cream—and add fresh or canned fruits or honey. Order them in cafeterias, hotels, dining-cars. At grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario. Oven-fresh in the inner-sealed red-and-green package. Imitations cannot equal such wonder-flavor. Demand the genuine! Kellogg's CORN FLAKES"

ment. Billy stopped off on the fifth floor at the women employees' rest room. The outer of the two rooms was furnished with book cases holding hundreds of books, tables with writing lamps, half a dozen well cushioned couches, and rugs almost as thick and soft as those that muted the footsteps of weary women shoppers.

Advertisement for McLaughlin Buick. Features a large image of a Buick car. Text: "How far will your car go before the miles begin to tell? ALMOST any car will give you a satisfactory results for the first 10,000 miles or so. But if you want the same fine service on through the second, third and many following tens of thousands of miles, buy a McLaughlin-Buick! Accurate tests at the great Proving Ground of General Motors, where all cars are driven and examined, show McLaughlin-Buick's sturdy construction and powerful Valve-in-Head Engine still gaining in efficiency at the point in miles where other cars are distinctly on the down grade. It is the care in McLaughlin-Buick design—the tests at the Proving Ground to be sure a suggested change is right—the search for better and more durable performance constantly carried on—which are responsible. Enormous volume and its savings make possible this extensive research and McLaughlin-Buick's superior construction. McLaughlin-Buick cars are built for big mileage on their speedometers—for greater satisfaction to their owners. Buy one for years of exceptional service. McLaughlin Sales & Service CHARLOTTETOWN Prince Motors SUMMERSIDE DEALERS FOR PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND McLAUGHLIN-BUICK WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT, McLAUGHLIN-BUICK WILL BUILD THEM PRODUCT OF GENERAL MOTORS OF CANADA LIMITED"