PUBLISHED DEBATE THAT WASN'T HELD

PRESS GALLERY, House of Commons, Ottawa, Feb. 21—An amusing instance of political ethics occupied the attention of the House of Commons for a short time yesterday afternoon. The matter was brought up by Hon. Frank Oliver as a matter of privilege.

The Winnipeg Telegram of the 18th inst., contained a lengthy report of an address by Mr. Bradbury, the Conservative member for Selkirk, declared to have been delivered amid considerable enthusiasm in the House the previous day. The alleged speech was an extensive criticism of the Department of the Interior on its administration of the St. Peter Indian reserve. At the conclusion of Mr. Bradbury's purported eloquence the paper also included a report of an alleged reply by the Minister. It stated that Mr. Oliver had replied in "a tirade of abuse," and added that he had failed to produce a single argument in rebuttal, nor "submitted a tittle of evidence" in support of the Government's position.

"I have no objection at all," quoth Mr. Oliver "to the member for Selkirk publishing a speech which he did not deliver, but he need not have credited me with contributing to a debate which never occurred."

Mr. Bradbury rose amid Liberal laughter. He confessed he was "the victim of circumstances." He had supplied the newspaper with an advance copy of an address he intended to deliver, but was not responsible for its premature publication or for the report of the Minister's imaginary remarks. He hoped the House would accept his assurance as he was not "the first member to have his speech published before it was delivered."

"There is no objection to the member's speech," observed Mr. Oliver. "I referred only to what purports to have been my reply."

"That was an inspiration," was Mr. Foster's explanation.

"A sample of political enterprise," commented Hon. Mr. Graham amid Liberal "hear, hears."

$14,000,000 HOTEL FOR NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Feb. 20—The largest hotel in the world, Hotel McAlpin, is now building in this city at the centre of Thirty-Fourth Street and Broadway, and expects to open its doors in September, 1912, with more than 2,500 rooms of all sorts. It will cost nearly $14,000,000, or almost twice the cost of the Hotel Plaza, the next largest investment in Hotel property in the world.

The structure will be 25 stories in height, with a close adherence to the style by the Italian renaissance in architecture. There will be 1,620 guest rooms, 1,100 bath rooms, devoted to the use of guests and servants. The dimensions are 202 feet on Broadway, the entire western face of the block, running east in Thirty-Fourth Street 150 feet, and the same distance in Thirty-Third Street.

The main story is being done for the base, and the main shaft of the design in golden brown brick, while the upper portion of the design is to be carried out in this brick and colored terra cotta. To every bedroom light and air will have free access, and every room will have its bath or en suite be connected with a bathroom, and more space is to be allowed to rooms than to any new hotel of large size built in New York for a great many years.

The lobby will be the largest of its kind in the world. Its height is 50 feet and its width 64 by 96 in length. The entrances will be in Thirty-Fourth Street, Thirty-Third Street and Broadway. The banquet hall is to have a vaulted ceiling of unusually ornate effect, and the length of the room, 80 feet, with the high arch and the extreme narrowness 32 feet, all go to make it very unique and impressive. This room fronts in Broadway and is matched on the south by the ladies' tea room and restaurant, 30 by 65 feet, with a ladies' reception room 30 by 30 feet, adjoining, while on the east is the general writing room and library, 30 by 45 feet. On the second floor there will be a lounging room for men, 65 by 96, and private dining rooms. The kitchen of the McAlpin will not only be the largest in New York, but it is located immediately under the dining room and waiters and trays will ascend and descend by escalators.

The great size of the Hotel McAlpin may be better understood by giving the figures in the specifications. The area of the plot is 30,000 square feet; the private telephone exchange will be the largest ever built, being 30 by 120 feet; there will be seven miles of heating risers, mains and returns, and 115 miles of electric lighting wire. The tubing in the hotel will be three and one-fourth miles in length.

The man who originally conceived the idea for this mammoth hostelry was W. D. Marlow. Some time afterward the corporation was formed and the plot leased for 84 years. The officers of the company are William F. Andrews, president; William A. Ullman, vice-president and general counsel; Colonel E. B. McAlpin, treasurer; W. D. Marlow, secretary; the additional directors are Charles P. Taft, E. L. Young, A. S. White and C. A. B. Pratt. The company is capitalized at $7,100,000 and the McAlpin estate owners of the land, have made a first mortgage loan of $3,000,000 to the corporation.

THE PEACE RIVER COUNTRY.

Owing to the development in that part of Western Canada west of Edmonton and the business impetus that is now going on in that territory, and in order to adequately take care of the new Peace River country where 15,000 new homesteads will be offered for free entry by the Dominion Government this year, a daily except Sunday passenger train will be operated by the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway between Edmonton and Edson, Alta., commencing on Monday, February 13th. From the latter point the new Government wagon road enables settlers by their effects to travel with ease and comparative comfort in about one week's time to the Grande Prairie as against the much longer and more expensive routes through gateway east of Edson, which occupy from a month and a half to two months.

The new train will leave Edmonton daily except Sunday at 6.30 a. m., arrive Edson (130 miles) at 1.00 p. m., returning leave Edson at 3.30 p. m., daily except Sunday, arrive Edson 10.05 p. m.

SEE DANGER TO AMERICAN UNION

NEW YORK, Feb. 21—"On the eve of Washington's birthday from a patriotic motive and for the welfare of our common country" a joint mass meeting of the German-American and Irish-American Societies of New York was held at Cooper Union last night to protest against the proposed arbitration treaty between the United States and Great Britain. "Mindful of the warning in Washington's farewell address" said Thos. Suler, State President of the German American alliance, "we are here to express our opposition to closer relation with England even in the guise of a broader arbitration treaty than the one now existing. In the words of George Washington, 'so far as we have already formed arrangements let them be fulfilled with perfect good faith. Here let us stop.'"

John Devey, representing the Irish American Protestants, declared that their objection to closer alliance with England were not prompted by the situation in Ireland, but that their reasons were strictly American—namely—that closer alliance with England would be bad for America. At the conclusion of more fervent speeches the meeting unanimously adopted resolutions in opposition to the proposed treaty. "On the ground that such an alliance would provoke resentment on the part of other European powers and impair our relations with them."

COLD WEATHER SORES

Some people's skin is so tender that in winter they are never long free from cold sores, blisters, cracks, etc. For such Zam-Buk is really fine. Mrs. P. Drummond, of Theford Mines, Que., writes: "For some years, as soon as cold weather has started, my little daughter's face and hands have been covered with rough watery patches, which before long turned into nasty sores. These would itch and smart terribly. They remained on her face from Fall until Spring for three successive years; and we could get nothing which did her any good, until a short time ago I started using Zam-Buk. Now, after Zam-Buk treatment, the sores have entirely disappeared, leaving her skin as smooth and clear as is possible."

Zam-Buk also cures eczema, ulcers, piles, abscesses, chapped hands, cold sores, and all skin injuries and diseases. 50c. box all stores.

CAVALIERI WILL SUE FOR DIVORCE NOW

NEW YORK, Feb. 21—It was learned today that "Finis" has been written upon the romance of the famous operatic song-bird Lina Cavalieri and Robt. W. Chandler.

Following a secret trip to this country several weeks ago on the part of Oreste Cavaleri, representing his sister, a conference was held during which it was agreed that Mme. Cavaleri will sue for her freedom through the Courts of France. Furthermore, Mme. Cavaleri agreed to drop all civil suits against her husband including present and future attempts to enforce the famous prenuptial agreement by the terms of which Robt. W. Chandler said he turned over all his property to his bride. In return for these concessions on Mme. Cavaleri's part Chandler and his brothers to settle an unconditional sum upon the diva. This sum is said to amount approximately $50,000.

PHILADELPHIA INQUIRER.

The "Clock" that Registered $1,000,000 and more in twelve days.

The victory was won six hours before the closing time set. On the last day $331,381.87 was gathered in pledges by the canvassers. The largest opening gift was $100,000 by P. A. Widener, then the Elkins family gave $160,000 and Rodman Wanamaker $40,000. This is one of a series of campaigns handled by C. S. Ward who has in five and a half years raised over $12,000,000 in similar undertakings. The North American, in an extended discriminating editorial, gives this comment on what it calls "a victory for Philadelphia—a triumph." "The victorious forces comprise a volunteer army called together from the citizenship of the city for the first time. Neither the private soldiers nor the officers of this army had ever come together before for any purpose. The captains, as a rule, were not men widely known in public affairs. Rank and file line and staff represented the solid moral fiber of the city, the hidden forces and talent which keeps Philadelphia from decay. The people have an object lesson of their own strength. Unattached to the old ruling forces, not enlisted in any armies, are the thousands and thousands unknown except in their immediate circles, possessing the genius and power to do anything they undertake. In this fact lies the hope of redemption of the city. Nothing has occurred in its recent life to suggest greater possibilities of good than the uncovering of this force of private citizenship by the million dollar campaign."

The gift that swung the fund over the million dollar mark was that of Rodman Wanamaker of four lots worth $40,000—to erect a building for working boys next to the Central, "to perpetuate the work of John Wanamaker, the first paid secretary of the Philadelphia Association." One of the four buildings provided besides large additions to three others, will be for the Colored Association. The negroes of the city alone gave twenty thousand, eight hundred and nineteen dollars. Philadelphia will be the second city to avail itself of the offer of Julius Rosenwald of Chicago of $25,000 to every city providing $75,000 more for a colored Association building.

That there was a generous thing done by the Germantown Branch, which was to come in for $165,000 of the million dollars to enlarge its building. When the need of a colored building and another for south Philadelphia were advanced, it yielded half its portion of the fund to them.
