"When Lord Saltire's disappearance was discovered, I at once called a roll of the whole establishment—boys, masters and servants. It was then that we ascertained that Lord Saltire had not been alone in his flight. Heidegger, the German master, was missing. His room was on the second floor at the farther end of the building, facing the same way as Lord Saltire's. His bed had also been slept in, but he had apparently gone away partly dressed, since his shirt and socks were lying on the floor. He had undoubtedly let himself down by the ivy, for we could see the marks of his feet where he had landed on the lawn. His bicycle was kept in a small shed beside this lawn, and it was also gone.

"He had been with me for two years and came with the best references, but he was a silent, morose man, not very popular either with masters or boys. No trace could be found of the fugitives, and now, on Thursday morning, we are as ignorant as we were on Tuesday. Inquiry was, of course, made at once at Holderness Hall. It is only a few miles away, and we imagined that in some sudden attack of homesickness the boy had gone back to his father, but nothing had been heard of him. The duke is greatly agitated, and as to me—you have seen yourselves the state of nervous prostration to which the suspense and the responsibility have reduced me. Mr. Holmes, if ever you put forward your full powers I implore you to do so now, for never in your life could you have a case which is more worthy of them."

Sherlock Holmes had listened with the utmost interest to the statement of the unhappy schoolmaster. His drawn brows and the deep furrow between them showed that he needed no exhortation to concentrate all his attention upon a problem which, apart from the tremendous interests involved, must appeal so directly to his love of the complex and the unusual. He now drew out his notebook and jotted down one or two memoranda.

"You have been very remiss in not coming to me sooner," said he severely. "You start me on my investigation with a very serious handicap. It is inconceivable, for example, that this ivy and this lawn would have yielded

Life Would Have More Happiness

IF THE LIVER WERE KEPT ACTIVE BY THE USE OF

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS.

Most people realize that, if they could only avoid the sufferings of indigestion and keep the bowels regular and active life would have for them much more of comfort and happiness.

We believe that these results are best accomplished by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and let us tell you why:

It is the liver which, by filtering bile from the blood and passing it into the intestines, ensures good digestion and the natural, healthful action of the bowels. Keep the liver active and you are sure of the proper working of the digestive and excretory systems.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have a direct and specific action on the liver. By invigorating this great filtering organ they guarantee the collection of bile from the blood, where it is poison, and the passing of it to the intestines, where it is necessary for indigestion and a proper action of the bowels.

It is not as a mere relief from indigestion and constipation that Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are recommended, but as a thorough and lasting cure. Put them to the test. The dose is one pill at bed time as often as is necessary to keep the bowels regular.

Mr. Luc Dugas, Theriault, Gloucester Co., N. B., writes:—"I am sixty eight years of age and used to suffer a great deal with very severe pains in the back from deranged kidneys. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have cured me and I have given a good many to friends who have also been much benefited by their use."

nothing to an expert observer."

"I am not to blame, Mr. Holmes. His grace was extremely desirous to avoid all public scandal. He was afraid of his family unhappiness being dragged before the world. He has a deep horror of anything of the kind."

"But there has been some official investigation?"

"Yes, sir, and it has proved most disappointing. An apparent clew was at once obtained, since a boy and a young man were reported to have been seen leaving a neighboring station by an early train. Only last night we had news that the couple had been hunted down in Liverpool, and they proved to have no connection whatever with the matter in hand. Then it was that in my despair and disappointment after a sleepless night I came straight to you by the early train."

"I suppose the local investigation was relaxed while this false clew was being followed up?"

"It was entirely dropped."

"So that three days have been wasted. The affair has been most deplorably handled."

"I feel it and admit it."

"And yet the problem should be capable of ultimate solution. I shall be very happy to look into it. Have you been able to trace any connection between the missing boy and this German master?"

"None at all."

"Was he in the master's class?"

"No; he never exchanged a word with him so far as I know."

"That is certainly very singular. Had the boy a bicycle?"

"No."

"Was any other bicycle missing?"

"No."

"Is that certain?"

"Quite."

"Well, now, you do not mean to seriously suggest that this German rode off upon a bicycle in the dead of the night, bearing the boy in his arms?"

"Certainly not."

"Then what is the theory in your mind?"

"The bicycle may have been a blind. It may have been hidden somewhere and the pair gone off on foot."

"Quite so, but it seems rather an absurd blind, does it not? Were there other bicycles in this shed?"

"Several."

"Would he not have hidden a couple had he desired to give the idea that they had gone off upon them?"

"Of course he would."

"If he had he would. The blind theory won't do. But the incident is an admirable starting point for an investigation. After all, a bicycle is not an easy thing to conceal or to destroy. One other question. Did any one call to see the boy on the day before he disappeared?"

"No."

"Did he get any letters?"

"Yes, one letter."

"From whom?"

"From his father."

"Do you open the boy's letters?"

"No."

"How do you know it was from the father?"

"The coat of arms was on the envelope, and it was addressed in the duke's peculiar stiff hand. Besides, the duke remembers having written."

"When had he a letter before that?"

"Not for several days."

"Had he ever one from France?"

"No, never."

"You see the point of my questions, of course. Either the boy was carried off by force or he went of his own free will. In the latter case you would expect that some prompting from outside would be needed to make so young a lad do such a thing. If he has had no visitors, that prompting must have come in letters; hence I try to find out who were his correspondents."

"I fear I cannot help you much. His only correspondent, so far as I know, was his own father."

"Who wrote to him on the very day of his disappearance. Were the relations between father and son very friendly?"

"His grace is never very friendly with any one. He is completely immersed in large public questions and is rather inaccessible to all ordinary emotions. But he was always kind to the boy in his own way."

"But the sympathies of the latter were with the mother?"

"Yes."

"Did he say so?"

"No."

"The duke, then?"

"Good heavens, no!"

"Then how could you know?"

"I have had some confidential talks with Mr. James Wilder, his grace's secretary. It was he who gave me the information about Lord Saltire's feelings."

"I see. By the way, that last letter of the duke's—was it found in the boy's room after he was gone?"

"No; he had taken it with him. I think, Mr. Holmes, it is time that we were leaving for Euston."

WILL DROP SHELLS FROM AIRSHIPS

The French War Office to Conduct Novel Experiment—Balloon is Invulnerable.

PARIS, October 6.—A series of remarkable experiments with a view to testing the utility of the balloon as a fighting machine will be conducted at Toul in one of the Lebaudy airships. The tests are to be carried out under the direct supervision of representatives of the French war office.

The experiments will be made on the basis of a theoretical attack by a fleet of ten war balloons stationed about thirty miles in the rear of an army. In two hours such a fleet could cross above the lines of opposing armies, and each ship could drop ten shells loaded with 25 pounds of melinite, or any other explosive, on the enemy.

M. Julliot, who is mainly responsible for the scheme, points out that such an adventure would be risking only thirty lives and £120,000, while a cruiser, which is liable to destruction by a single torpedo, risks 800 lives and £1,200,000. This, he claims, renders the antipathy of the peace conference to the war balloon illogical.

A balloon, he says, is practically invulnerable at a height of 2,000 feet, owing to the difficulties of sighting. Whether these difficulties would be as great for the gunner in the balloon remains to be proved by experiments.

The Scourge of Consumption.

Thousands are Dying—if Tired, Languid or Run-Down Get Protection Before Too Late.

No child, man or woman is safe from consumption unless their blood is pure, rich and nourishing.

Allow the blood to become thin, and immediately the whole system grows weak. The lungs are deprived of resisting power and the ever present tubercular bacilli develop.

The most positive protection against consumption is Ferruzone, which restores the blood to full strength. Weak organs are instantly strengthened. Worn-out tissues are rebuilt. New life is given to the lungs and all danger of consumption is destroyed.

Mrs. E. J. Richardson, Manotick, Ont., tells as follows of her enormous gain in health from Ferruzone: "For two years I was not well. I was thin and anemic. Towards spring I fell into a condition of nervous exhaustion. A dead tiredness hung over me like a load of lead. House work of any kind I almost could not do. A bad cough developed that worried me greatly for I thought it might be tubercular. When I first read of Ferruzone I was convinced it was good. I took it regularly for eight weeks and the change in my condition was wonderful. My cheeks filled out and became clear and rosy. I gained eight pounds and now am strong and vigorous as possible."

Ferruzone feeds, nourishes and tones up the body—restores the thrill and vim of robust health from head to foot—makes you feel better at once. Won't you use Ferruzone? Price 50c. per box, six boxes for $2.50, all dealers or S. C. Polson & Co., Hartford Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston Ont.

SEAL CATCH ABOVE AVERAGE.

VICTORIA, B. C. October 5.—The sealing schooner City of San Diego returned from Behring Sea yesterday with the first news from the fleet of eighty sailing vessels from Victoria. The City of San Diego, which brought 720 sealskins, reports eleven schooners with good catches. The season's catch will exceed that of last year and be better than for some years. The City of San Diego took most of her skins northwest of the Pribyloffs, where she was boarded by the U. S. S. Manning, which found everything in order. The Manning's officers reported they had a warrant for Capt. McLean, of the schooner Anapulo, now in Victoria. The eleven vessels reported by the City of San Diego had over 6,000 skins. The total catch in Behring Sea last season was a little over 8,000.

WHEN SEVEN MEN DIE.

You know at least one of them had Consumption. At first it was only catarrh—but it was neglected. When "Catarrh" cures so quickly it's foolish to suffer—it's a shame to keep on sniffing and hawking. Catarrh goes direct to the cause of the disease—that's why it's so dead certain to cure. It stops the cough, prevents that disgusting discharge, clears phlegm out of the throat in five minutes. Very pleasant, and safe too; get Catarrh gone from your druggist today.
