

PRINCE EDWARD—3.15—7.00—9.00—TODAY AND SATURDAY 2.30 ON SAT.

IT'S A HOWL!

The Funniest LOVE Comedy Since "Ninotchka!"

Clark GABLE and Claudette Colbert in "LAMAR" with "Comrade"

VERY LATEST M-G-M NEWS! DISNEY CARTOON and CANADA CARRIES ON—'Guards of North'

CAPITOL—3.15, 7.00, 8.45—Today—Sat. 2.30 Mat.

A STRAIGHT-SHOOTIN' PIONEER TRIO!

Challenging the forces of corruption as they stand alone in an effort to unite the untamed West!

The TRAIL BLAZERS ROBERT LIVINGSTON · BOB STEELE · RUFÉ DAVIS

DEAD END KIDS and THE LITTLE TOUGH GUYS in Chapter 5 of "JUNIOR G-MEN".

"HAPPY HAUNTING GROUND"—Cartoon "SPOTLIGHT ON INDO CHINA"—Adventure "OLIVER THE EIGHTH"—LAUREL & HARDY COMEDY

NEW ACTION FILM PICTURES COLORFUL HISTORICAL ERA

Republic utilizes a colorful but not widely exploited phase of history "The Trail Blazers," its latest Three Mesquiteers starring western which opened yesterday at the Capitol Theatre...

Amazing 1¢ Sale WOODBURY FACIAL SOAP This Cake 1¢ WHEN YOU BUY 3 CAKES AT REGULAR PRICE ALL 4 CAKES 23c

BROMO-SELTZER SPECIAL $1.20 SIZE FOR 69c LISTERINE TOOTH PASTE 3 TUBES REG. 75c SPECIAL 49c WILDERS STOMACH POWDER 50c and $1.00 REDDIN BROS. PHONE 86 WE DELIVER

The Central Guardian

This column is reserved for news of local interest, but advertising a newsy nature may be inserted at 5 cents a word, strictly payable in advance.

CRASWELL for Photographs CONFEDERATION LIFE INSURANCE L-9789-1-24-C-23

WE SERVICE all types of oil burners. F. H. Trainor, 50 Grafton St. L-689-2-4-6-7.

NEW STOCK Drednought Chains, cross chains, emergency grips just arrived. Rogers, Hardware. L-708-2-3-7.

HAMPTON UNITED CHARGE—Services on Sunday, February 9th, follows: Victoria 11 A. M. Hampton 3 P. M. Bonshaw 7 P. M. L-687-2-7-11.

CENTRAL PARISH CHURCH SERVICES for February 9th.—Clergy: Rev. J. M. Church, 2.30 P. M. Canoe Cove 7 P. M. Rev. T. W. Goodwill, Minister. L-683-2-6-11.

MOUNT STEWART UNITED PASTORAL CHARGE.—Mount Stewart 11 A. M. St. George's 4.30 at 3 P. M. Rev. Sidney J. Boyce, B. A., Minister. L-721-2-7-11.

NORTH RIVER BAPTIST CHURCHES, February 9th. Service at North River 11 A. M. Clyde River 11 A. M. St. George's 4.30 at 3 P. M. Rev. 7.15 P. M. Special music at all Churches. A. E. Todd, Minister. L-684-2-7-11.

THE UNITED CHURCH OF CANADA, Hunter River Pastoral Charge. Services will be held on Sunday, February 9th, as follows: Willsboro 11.00 A. M. Hampshire 2.30 P. M. Hunter River 7.00 P. M. Rev. Lewis M. Murray, Minister. L-712-2-7-21.

BORDEN SCHOOL MAKES ANOTHER DONATION.—The pupils of Borden School made a nice contribution for aid to children in Great Britain in December. They have since opened a Bank at the School, and the pupils now contribute pennies twice a week. The total sum of $6.25 was collected in this way for the month of January, and $1.00 in February. The principal, Mr. C. B. Jolly, to Save the Children Fund.

MAJOR J. A. MacKENZIE WRITES.—In a personal note from Major J. A. MacKenzie, formerly of the West, but for some years a resident of Charlottetown and who has been ill for three years, he sends his greetings to the old friends. He still maintains his interest in the old country and follows all the doings closely. We were glad to hear from him and deliver his greeting message.—New Glasgow Eastern Chronicle.

PRINCE STREET SCHOOL Honor Roll—January: Grade X-1. Ann Duff; 2. June MacPherson; 3. Florence Kays. Grade IX-1. Joyce Coffin; 2. Louise Bennett; 3. Myrtle MacLeod; 4. Aleah Palmer; 3. Phyllis Brown. Grade VIII-1. Betty King; 2. Hilda Munro; 3. Joyce Gray. Grade VII-1. Marjorie MacLean and Elaine Hiller (equal); 2. Betty Cameron; 3. Marjorie Dalziel. Grade VI (Miss Rose)—Marjorie MacPherson 94; Norman Smith 94; Veima Buell 92; Margaret MacDonald 92; Nell Foster 90; Leith Douglas 88; Janet Murray 88; Howatt 84; Henry B. 84; Doreen Diamond 84.

Grade V (Miss Brenton)—Edith MacLean 94; James Johnstone 94; Margaret Coffin 88; Paula Rayfield 88; Laura King 87; Constance Cooke 87. Grade IV (Miss Brenton) Jean Gallant 98; Ian MacNeven 94; Edward Hodgson 88; Marjorie MacKenzie 87. Grade III (Miss Pullerton)—Donald Thompson, Olivine MacLean, Carl Brown; Frank Clarke; Edna Townsend; Carol Marie Coles. Grade II (Miss Watson)—Elaine Murley 94; Doris Clarke 93; Peter Larner 93; Evelyn MacLeod 91; Mary Benario 91; Mildred MacKenzie 90; Ardeth Murray 90; Doris Hynes 89; Donald Calbeck 87; Myrtle Hawkins 87; Carnon Thompson 87.

Grade I (Miss Ferguson)—Joan Rogerson 94; Joyce Bradley 93; Daisy Tweed 93; Sonia Arnfast 92; Alice Dickson 91; Anna Parton 91; Marion Pyle 91; Lloyd Oakes 91; Muriel White 90; Donald Barwise 90; Eunice MacEachern 90; Angus Ingram 90; Anna Matheson 90.

Grade II (Miss Macdonald)—Morris Jenkins 95; Peggy Campbell 94; Melvin Anderson 93; Louis Anderson 93; Douglas Cameron 90; Joyce Cameron 89; Audrey Dalziel 88; Helen Hyde 89; Ingham Palmer 88; Kilmont Taylor 87. Grade I (Miss Stewart)—Dorothy MacLean 95; Barbara Walsh 95; Stella Pickering 94; Thompson 94; Shirley Craswell 92; Sheila MacIntosh 91; Anita Phillips 91; Shirley Rogers 89; Marjorie MacLeod 89; Hugh Gillis 88; Shirley Russell 85; Jean Macdonald 85.

Grade II (Miss Pound)—Edward Carbonell 93; Mary Craig 92; Jean Watts 92; Robert Mills 92; Chris Biggar 91; Ronald Mable 91; Lily MacPherson 91; Nancy MacNeven 90; Ailsea Sherran 90.

Operating revenues for the year 1940 were $217,327.23, against $203,820.188 in 1939. Operating expenses in 1940 were $202,519.813 and in 1939 $183,655.768. For the month of December, operating revenue was $24,999.37 as compared with December 1939. The summaries follow: Month of Dec. 1939 Increase Operating Revenues: $23,736.807 $19,945.318 $4,690.489 Operating Expenses: $17,463.257 $15,272.705 $2,190.552 $6,273.550 $3,773.613 $2,499.937 Operating Revenues: $247,527.255 $203,820.187 $43,707.068 Operating Expenses: $202,519.813 $182,965.768 $19,554.045 $45,007.412 $20,854.419 $24,152.993

In Memoriam MRS. C. J. JAILLET The death of Mrs. C. J. Jaillet, 205 Archibald Street, Moncton, occurred Tuesday in sudden death came as a blow to her relatives and friends for she had been ill but a few days. Deceased was a native of Wellington, N. B., but had made her home in Moncton for many years. She was a member of the Assumption Cathedral parish and a prominent member of the "Society of St. Anne. Mrs. Jaillet leaves to mourn their loss her husband, C. J. Jaillet, and three daughters, Simone, Rheaude and Claudette. She is also survived by her father, P. E. Arseneau, of Wellington, P. E. I., also a brother, Edmund, and a sister, Mrs. Paul Perry, also of Wellington. The funeral will be held Thursday morning at 9 o'clock in the Assumption Cathedral. Burial will be in Shediac Road cemetery, — Moncton Times.

From labor health, from health enjoyment gains—Zam-Buk.

The People and Democracy

4. A few Social Reforms Suggested. Never was there a time when the democratic principle of free and open discussion of all the issues more essential. We do not arrive at astute conclusions except by the democratic way.

The voters are entitled to and must find out from the man they are asked to vote for what kind of fellow he is, in the free exchange of ideas. An election campaign should be a free and open exchange of ideas, when the last freedom of democracy stands before the world on test. Those elements of doubt and uncertainty which have brought about communism, Nazism and Fascism in Russia, Germany and Italy must not be allowed to occur here.

I do not believe in the rigidities of political partisanship. We must all irrespective of our past political affiliations elect to parliament men who will work for, win and hold the well-being of all citizens, irrespective of political partisanship.

True Democracy is the way men live together to accomplish the greatest good to all citizens irrespective of nationality, class, creed and especially political partisanship, which latter evil is the chief cause of the shaking of the foundations of our Democratic system and making the democratic way of life ineffective.

People on a starvation relief in idleness are weakened and enervated so they no longer are interested in work. The simple fact is that the problem of defense and modern industrial prosperity is production and distribution of the necessities of life food, clothing, shelter etc., according to each man's deserts.

New leadership must now come in to command the confidence and respect of industry, of all branches of labour and of agriculture, which will bring about the greatest flow of goods necessary for the maintenance of life in peace. More wealth (i. e. the necessities of life) cannot be distributed until more is produced and the means of distribution money distributed to the producers, according to their deserts, to obtain it.

Social security and labour laws must be made impartial. And finally we must have more candor and less provocative statements of mutual interjection affairs. These are but a few of the things people must examine if we are to avoid the totalitarian form of government that stirs our tongues and freezes our minds.

I will quote the following true statements made by three leading democratic statesmen. President of the United States of America Mr. F. D. Roosevelt has stated: "Capital is essential, reasonable earnings on Capital are essential, but the misuse of the power of capital on the selfish suspension of the employment of capital must be ended or the capitalistic system will destroy itself through its own abuse. An election eve statement of Prime Minister Mackenzie King at Saskatoon was as follows:—Canada is faced with a great battle between the money powers and the power of the people, a battle which will be waged in our new parliament. I plead for a sweeping Liberal victory to carry out my policy of public control of currency and credit. Until the control of currency and credit is restored to the government, all talk of Sovereignty of Parliament and democracy is idle and futile." The Right Honourable Anthony Eden Britain's present minister for Foreign Affairs has stated: "We say we are fighting for the maintenance of democracy but what we have to do, after this war, is to make democracy worthy to be sustained."

The following opinion and action has been taken by that leading Anglo-Catholic Dignitary Dr. Temple, Archbishop of York, England: "The Archbishop of York (Dr. Temple) has called a conference for January 8 to 10, 1941, at Malverne college to consider fundamental facts about the order of the 'new society that is evidently emerging due to the war.' The Archbishop contends the consumer should be the factor of primary importance. Goods should be produced in order that they might be enjoyed. The producer has become the decisive factor and the profit motive has become dominant. The Archbishop asserts that the system shows signs of ceasing to work. As late as August, 1940, after the absorption of war and special industries; there still remained three-quarters of a million unemployed in Britain. First steps suggested by the Archbishop include: (1) limitation of profits whenever limitation of liability is granted. In the new world that is to be of Jubilee should be applied in order to prevent perpetual investment; (2) contribution of labor equally with the contribution of capital must carry a title to representation on boards of directors. In this latter connection something resembling the Guild system might be established but in order to avoid the duplication of evils of the Fascist system the right of free association should be maintained. 'In a word,' says the Archbishop, 'the 'natural order' is that consumption should control production and that production should control finance. In the new world that is to be we must work out the just relation between freedom and order, personality and fellowship.'"

As Dr. Temple rightly states, "The natural order is that consumption should control production and that production should control finance. We must each of us cease, as meek cautious respectable men and women, so comfortable and fortunate, our appetite to any change in the existing economic system which is so clearly in need of change under the changed industrial conditions under increasing mechanized production."

I think that all professing Christians must in future co-operate with the Almighty to accomplish what we so often request of Him in the Lord's prayer—"Thy Kingdom Come Thy will be done on Earth as it is in Heaven."

Why suffer from sore, tired, aching feet when, with a nightly massage with soothing, healing Zam-Buk will give you perfect foot comfort? Zam-Buk also relieves chafing, chapped skin, cuts, burns and bruises.

Use ZAM-BUG Nightly

Why suffer from sore, tired, aching feet when, with a nightly massage with soothing, healing Zam-Buk will give you perfect foot comfort? Zam-Buk also relieves chafing, chapped skin, cuts, burns and bruises.

Use ZAM-BUG Nightly

Use ZAM-BUG Nightly

South From Mayfair By Pearl Bellairs

(Continued from page 2)

looked up; he smiled slightly, the wary smile of a man who preserves the outward conventions, but conveys a personal meaning. Lorna drew back immediately. An unpleasant little feeling haunted her, a kind of amusement flickered in her eyes. "Completely trivial," he said. He turned away, without another word. Lorna sat staring at his back furiously; never in her life had any man looked at her like that. And then the tense silence was broken as he got up to open the door of the car for her.

All the way to Mount Egmont, over the green pastures and through the wrecked bush at the foot of the mountain; up the narrow, winding roadway through the close, dark virgin bush on the mountain side, Lorna seethed inwardly. At the Mountain House when they got out to look at all New Zealand spread below them, and the South Island, she glanced at him to see if he regretted his temerity. His face was a study of impulsive difference. He did not look at her.

"I didn't know you were engaged." "Didn't you?" said Lorna, annoyed to find herself in a trifling nervous. "If I'd known I wouldn't have been poaching on someone else's preserve." "I don't regard myself as anyone's 'preserve'." Lorna said, at least, "I'm a free individual—at least, I hope so! You need not regard yourself as solely responsible!"

He turned and looked at her then, his brows knitted. She tried to withstand the examination coolly, and a slight resentment at his thinking himself able to affect her affairs one way or another made her acid. "It's a very trivial matter, Mr. Hawkford, isn't it?" There was a brief pause. His jaw set, and she knew immediately that he had seen the photograph. "Good morning, Hawkford!" "Good morning." Why were his eyes so stern, so questioning? She sat in the back of the car; he got into his seat in front, and immediately, without looking round, said quietly: "I don't know you were engaged."

"I didn't know you were engaged." "Didn't you?" said Lorna, annoyed to find herself in a trifling nervous. "If I'd known I wouldn't have been poaching on someone else's preserve." "I don't regard myself as anyone's 'preserve'." Lorna said, at least, "I'm a free individual—at least, I hope so! You need not regard yourself as solely responsible!"

He turned and looked at her then, his brows knitted. She tried to withstand the examination coolly, and a slight resentment at his thinking himself able to affect her affairs one way or another made her acid. "It's a very trivial matter, Mr. Hawkford, isn't it?" There was a brief pause. His jaw set, and she knew immediately that he had seen the photograph. "Good morning, Hawkford!" "Good morning." Why were his eyes so stern, so questioning? She sat in the back of the car; he got into his seat in front, and immediately, without looking round, said quietly: "I don't know you were engaged."

"I didn't know you were engaged." "Didn't you?" said Lorna, annoyed to find herself in a trifling nervous. "If I'd known I wouldn't have been poaching on someone else's preserve." "I don't regard myself as anyone's 'preserve'." Lorna said, at least, "I'm a free individual—at least, I hope so! You need not regard yourself as solely responsible!"

He turned and looked at her then, his brows knitted. She tried to withstand the examination coolly, and a slight resentment at his thinking himself able to affect her affairs one way or another made her acid. "It's a very trivial matter, Mr. Hawkford, isn't it?" There was a brief pause. His jaw set, and she knew immediately that he had seen the photograph. "Good morning, Hawkford!" "Good morning." Why were his eyes so stern, so questioning? She sat in the back of the car; he got into his seat in front, and immediately, without looking round, said quietly: "I don't know you were engaged."

"I didn't know you were engaged." "Didn't you?" said Lorna, annoyed to find herself in a trifling nervous. "If I'd known I wouldn't have been poaching on someone else's preserve." "I don't regard myself as anyone's 'preserve'." Lorna said, at least, "I'm a free individual—at least, I hope so! You need not regard yourself as solely responsible!"

He turned and looked at her then, his brows knitted. She tried to withstand the examination coolly, and a slight resentment at his thinking himself able to affect her affairs one way or another made her acid. "It's a very trivial matter, Mr. Hawkford, isn't it?" There was a brief pause. His jaw set, and she knew immediately that he had seen the photograph. "Good morning, Hawkford!" "Good morning." Why were his eyes so stern, so questioning? She sat in the back of the car; he got into his seat in front, and immediately, without looking round, said quietly: "I don't know you were engaged."

"I didn't know you were engaged." "Didn't you?" said Lorna, annoyed to find herself in a trifling nervous. "If I'd known I wouldn't have been poaching on someone else's preserve." "I don't regard myself as anyone's 'preserve'." Lorna said, at least, "I'm a free individual—at least, I hope so! You need not regard yourself as solely responsible!"

He turned and looked at her then, his brows knitted. She tried to withstand the examination coolly, and a slight resentment at his thinking himself able to affect her affairs one way or another made her acid. "It's a very trivial matter, Mr. Hawkford, isn't it?" There was a brief pause. His jaw set, and she knew immediately that he had seen the photograph. "Good morning, Hawkford!" "Good morning." Why were his eyes so stern, so questioning? She sat in the back of the car; he got into his seat in front, and immediately, without looking round, said quietly: "I don't know you were engaged."

"I didn't know you were engaged." "Didn't you?" said Lorna, annoyed to find herself in a trifling nervous. "If I'd known I wouldn't have been poaching on someone else's preserve." "I don't regard myself as anyone's 'preserve'." Lorna said, at least, "I'm a free individual—at least, I hope so! You need not regard yourself as solely responsible!"

He turned and looked at her then, his brows knitted. She tried to withstand the examination coolly, and a slight resentment at his thinking himself able to affect her affairs one way or another made her acid. "It's a very trivial matter, Mr. Hawkford, isn't it?" There was a brief pause. His jaw set, and she knew immediately that he had seen the photograph. "Good morning, Hawkford!" "Good morning." Why were his eyes so stern, so questioning? She sat in the back of the car; he got into his seat in front, and immediately, without looking round, said quietly: "I don't know you were engaged."

"I didn't know you were engaged." "Didn't you?" said Lorna, annoyed to find herself in a trifling nervous. "If I'd known I wouldn't have been poaching on someone else's preserve." "I don't regard myself as anyone's 'preserve'." Lorna said, at least, "I'm a free individual—at least, I hope so! You need not regard yourself as solely responsible!"

He turned and looked at her then, his brows knitted. She tried to withstand the examination coolly, and a slight resentment at his thinking himself able to affect her affairs one way or another made her acid. "It's a very trivial matter, Mr. Hawkford, isn't it?" There was a brief pause. His jaw set, and she knew immediately that he had seen the photograph. "Good morning, Hawkford!" "Good morning." Why were his eyes so stern, so questioning? She sat in the back of the car; he got into his seat in front, and immediately, without looking round, said quietly: "I don't know you were engaged."

NO TEMPORARY RELIEF FOR ME...I'M THROUGH WITH CONSTIPATION!

Yes, thousands of people suffering from constipation due to lack of the right kind of "bulk" in their diet have been able to say the same thing. For now there is a sensible way to correct this condition... far better than cathartics, which only give temporary relief. If you suffer from this common trouble, try eating delicious KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN every morning. It contains the necessary "bulk" to help you become "regular"... naturally! Why not do this? Get your KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN daily... drink plenty of water... and discover for yourself how easily you get your old "trouble" disappeared. Get KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN at all grocers! Made by Kellogg's in London, Canada.

WILLIAM M. HAMILTON SUMMERVILLE, Feb. 4.—After an illness of about four weeks, the death took place at his home here on Friday of William H. Hamilton, aged 68 years. The deceased was a life-long resident, and was highly esteemed by all. He was a son of Margaret Kirby Hamilton and the late James Hamilton. Funeral services were held on Sunday afternoon, February 2nd, from his late residence. He is survived by his widow, formerly Miss Laura MacKeen, two sons, Harry at home, and Alston, Hamilton in California; three daughters, Miss Madeline MacRhole Island; Mrs. Malcolm MacDonald in Kennebunkport, Me.; Mrs. Robert Lawrence, Cambridge, Mass.; one brother Edmund Hamilton, Halifax; two sisters, Mrs. Walter MacCauley, Charlottetown, P.E.I.; Mrs. Clifford Crowell, West Newton, Mass.

GRIPPY COLDS Buckley's Cinnamonated Capsules bring you THREE ingredients to relieve Gippy Colds, and reduce cold misery. One relieves pain and refreshes. The third stimulates relaxation of nerves. In addition, they contain Oil of Cinnamon leaf and other natural ingredients for faster relief of GRIPPE—RELIEF WITHOUT REACTION! 15 doses only 35c.

(To Be Continued)

WEEK END FOOD SAVINGS FRIDAY --- SATURDAY and MONDAY

Table listing food items and prices: ARROW BRAND PEAS 16 oz. Tin 10c 3 Tins - 27c; CULVER HOUSE TOMATO JUICE 3 For - 29c; ROYAL RUSSET APPLE JUICE 105 oz. Tin - 39c; LYNN VALLEY NO. 2 1-2 LARGE TOMATOES Tin 10c 2 For - 23c; P and G SOAP Each 5c 10 For - 43c; QUAKER CORN FLAKES Pkg. 8c 3 For - 23c; NABASCO SHREDDED WHEAT Pkg. 12c 2 For - 23c; LIPTONS TEA 1 Lb. Pkg. 63c, 1-2 Lb. Pkg. 33c; DOMESTIC SHORTENING 1 Lb. Pkg. 14c 2 For - 27c; EATON'S ARTIFICIAL VANILLA 16 OZ. CRUET EACH 19c; PASTRY FLOUR 7 LB. BAG - 25c; GRANULATED OR BROWN SUGAR LB. 7c 10 LBS. - 69c; EATON'S SNOW FLAKE 1 LB. TIN 14c; BAKING POWDER 2 FOR 27c; QUALITY MEATS - BONELESS STEW BEEF, Lb. 15c 2 Lbs. - 29c; CHUCK ROAST BEEF, Lb. - 14c; RIB ROAST BEEF, Lb. - 23c; FRESH PLATE RIBS, Lb. 13c 2 Lbs. - 25c; CORNED PORK HOCKS, Lb. 10c 2 Lbs. - 19c; FRESH BACON, Lb. - 19c; TRIMMED PORK CHOPS, Lb. - 28c; SMOKED FILLETS Lb. 15c - 29c; WEEBALL HERRING 6 For - 25c; FILLETS of SOLE Lb. - 29c; BORDEN'S EVAPORATED MILK TALL TIN 9c 3 FOR - 25c; EATON'S CAIRO PALM TOILET SOAP EACH 4c 6 FOR - 21c; THE CANADIAN STORES LTD.