End Seen Of Reform Period In Economics

(By Richard L. Turner, Associated Press Staff Writer)
 (A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
 WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—The end of a period of economic reform was seen—or at least hoped for—today by many business men in the newly formed partnership between industrial organizations and the United States Government.
 Just ahead, they predicted, lies an era of concentration upon the stimulation of business activity in which the optimistic spirit of the moment will be fostered and kept alive to the expectation that it may lead the way to recovery.
 Even the American Federation of Labor, which the businessmen have virtually excluded from the new cooperative effort, today reported the "powerful but intangible force" of business sentiment had apparently taken a turn for the better within the last month.
 Meanwhile, the attitude of business toward the part which labor may play in the movement was emphasized by publication of a report by a committee of Chamber of Commerce of the United States taking a firm and emphatic stand against one of the labor's favorite legislative objectives.
 A uniform statutory 30-hour week, the report asserted would work untold harm to both employer and employee. Reduced working hours, it said, "already have lowered the living standards of a large number of workers."
 At the same time, the National Association of Manufacturers which has joined with the Chamber and other like organization in promoting the cooperative move, issued a call for a "congress of American industry" to be held in New York, Dec. 5 and 6, with Donald R. Richberg, NRA head, and Raymond Moley, presidential adviser, listed as speakers.
STILL UNSETTLED.
 An elderly lady was asked which she thought was happier, people who were married or people who were not.
 "Well, I don't know," she said. "Sometimes I think there are as many is that ain't as ain't that is."

Jap Traffic Cop Slashes Throat In Remorse

(By Glenn Babb, Associated Press Foreign Staff)
 (A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
 TOKYO, Nov. 19.—A police sergeant who slashed his throat in remorse because he took the wrong turn and inconvenienced an Emperor was given a chance for recovery tonight.
 The inconvenience to Emperor Hirohito was not great but the embarrassment was enormous. Jui Honda, the sergeant tried to follow the code.
 Hirohito was touring Gumma province with his entourage and arrived ceremoniously at Kiryu, centre of the silk industry.
 Honda's plot car preceding the Royal automobile took a wrong turn causing the procession to travel streets considered inadequately policed. Nothing happened, but there was a mixup in schedule.
 Benji Matsuda, Minister of Education, was to have been received by the visiting ruler at Nishi Technical College. The Emperor arrived ahead of schedule and Matsuda, who was resting, was not properly clothed to be received by his monarch. Hirohito had to wait 20 minutes.
 Honda's wife later found him clad in his best uniform and covered with blood. At a hospital he thought at first he would die, but physicians said he tonight he might live after all.
 Others were remorseful also. The governor and other officials of the prefecture were reported intending to resign, while Home Minister Fumio Coto, whose ministry is responsible for all police matters, was considered likely to be compelled to step out, possibly precipitating a cabinet crisis.
RUBBING IT IN.
 "Did you get your money?" asked the wife of the country dentist, who had called to collect an account.
 "Not a farthing," growled the dentist; "and, worse than that, he insulted me, and gnashed my teeth at me!"

Employees To Receive Benefit Of Annuity Plan

TORONTO, Nov. 20.—Assurance of old age retirement incomes is given General Foods employees through a new co-operative annuity plan announced today by R. K. McInnis, vice president and general manager, General Foods Ltd., Toronto.
 The plan affects Foods employees in 45 plants and 29 sales divisions and districts in Canada and the United States.
 Joint contributions of company and employees will provide a fixed monthly income to be paid employees when they reach retirement eligibility—age 60 for women, 65 for men. General Foods pays more than half the total cost of the retirement plan. Although income payments start when women and men employees are 60 and 65 years old, respectively, retirement then is not obligatory. The plan also provides that employees with the company's consent may elect to retire, and receive income at a reduced rate, at any time within 10 years of customary retirement age.
 The amount of monthly income depends on length of service and rate of earnings prior to retirement. Payments by the company and the employee obtain for the participant a retirement income more than twice as large, on the average, as he could purchase individually through annuity insurance.
 September 1, 1934, has been designated as the date when the plan goes into effect. All employees of General Foods and subsidiary companies in Canada and the United States, now under retirement age who have been with the organization one year prior to September 1 are eligible to participate, but participation is not obligatory.
MYSTERIOUS 'PIP-PIPS' ON RADIO ARE HELPING SCIENTISTS
 LONDON, Nov. 20.—Why strange "pip-pip-pip-pip" sounds have broken into wireless programs at odd times lately has been puzzling listeners. For the "pip-pips" have nothing to do with the Greenwich time signals they resemble.
 A newspaper representative solved the mystery recently. The "pip-pips" are being sent over the ether in the cause of science.
 Mr. F. J. W. Whipple, superintendent of Kew Observatory, is making experiments for the Meteorological Office, to discover the time that sound takes to travel over considerable distances.
 The Meteorological Office has arranged with the War Office to be informed when guns are to be fired at Woolwich and elsewhere. They are warned by the sending out of the "pip-pips" by the B.B.C.
 Groups of skilled listeners, hearing them, know that within ten or twelve minutes the sound of guns

Three More Firms Increase Newsprint Price

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
 MONTREAL, Nov. 19.—Three additional companies swung into line today with price increases for newsprint with the result that practically the entire industry had concurred in the upward revision of prices announced one week ago by International Paper Company of New York.
 Mersey Paper Company of Liverpool, N.S., tonight announced through its President, Col. C. H. L. Jones that its 1935 prices would follow those of the larger companies, an increase of $2.50 per ton for the first six months of 1935 with a further increase of not more than $2.50 for the second six months. The 1934 figures were $40 per ton net to the consuming newspaper.
 Earlier in the day similar announcements came from the James MacLaren Company of Buckingham, Que., and the E. B. Eddy Company of Hull, Que. The forward movement has now been confirmed by 13 companies including International, which controls Canadian International Paper of St. Paul, Powell River of Vancouver, Lake St. John, J. R. Booth of Ottawa, Domnicon of Quebec and Great Lake of Toronto.
YOUNG KING ASKS FOR MOTORCYCLE
 BELGRADE, Nov. 20.—Pa'e presented King Peter II. with a golden throne and a glittering crown, but he wants a motorcycle. The 11-year-old boy, who became King of the 16,000,000 Serbs, Croats and Slovenes of Yugoslavia upon the assassination of his father, King Alexander, is looking forward with great eagerness to what Santa Claus may bring him next month. He confided to his grandmother today he wants it to be an airplane and a motor-cycle or rowboat.
 Hostess—Now, Tommy, why don't you go and play with your little friends?
 Tommy—I've only got one little friend, and I hate him.
 will reach them.
 They set machines in motion and record the sound waves. The records are sent to Mr. Whipple who is collecting all the data.

 Death came after a few weeks illness during which Mr. Waller, received all the loving care and kindness that could possibly be given him by every member of the family to make his remaining days as comfortable as possible.
 He was born in Hamilton, Bermuda, on December 25, 1861, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Waller. As a child he removed with his parents to Australia, where his father was in the employ of the Imperial Service.
 In 1873 when a lad of twelve he left with his parents and two brothers for Liverpool, England, the voyage being made by a sailing vessel. Later the family came to Charlottetown on the S. S. Prince Edward, owned by the Ocean Steamship Company.

 At the age of twenty-four he went to the United States and worked at his trade for some years. Later he entered the theatre business with Faye Brothers, Lowell, Mass., remaining with them till he accepted a position at the State School, retiring a few years ago on superannuation.
 In that position, he won the high esteem of the heads of the school, his fellow workers and the boys under his care.
 Mr. Waller was a man of splendid character and his death is deeply regretted by a wide circle of friends.
 A year ago he visited Charlottetown, spending three weeks with relatives and friends.
 He leaves to mourn one brother, Mr. Fred Waller of Charlottetown, and also an aunt, Miss Jessie Murray of Orient, Long Island, N. Y.
 The funeral took place from the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Purdon to All Saints Church, Ashmont, Mass., on Wednesday morning, November 14th, where services were held.
