marriage of Miss Elisabeth Compton, daughter of the late Mr. John Compton and Mrs. Compton of Bangor, P. E. I., to Mr. Joseph McElroy, Deputy Sheriff, of Middlesex County, Massachusetts. After the customary salutations and congratulations, the happy couple left on a motor trip through Northern New England and the Canadian Provinces, for two or three weeks. BOOSTS FOX SHOW—The fox industry is growing rapidly and is becoming a recognized important part of the livestock industry of the Maritimes. As such the Fox Show to be held at Charlottetown, P. E. I., towards the end of October next is an event of some importance. Shows stimulate interest in producing and purchasing circles; and moreover, attract the attention of the public. Prince Edward Island has long been a leader in fox-breeding, and the breeders of the Island assisted by the Canadian National Silver Fox Breeders' Association are arranging the show in question. A special appeal is made to the small breeders in the Maritimes, and it is hoped that there will be a strong representation of these at the show which is much nearer home than the show in Toronto. It is recognized that some of the best foxes are to be found on the small ranches and the Charlottetown Show should afford an opportunity to fix this fact in the interests of the small breeder. A show of this nature is assured in advance of wide support, but it is always possible to attract more and more exhibitors and those also who attend as purchasers, are interested in a general way in all the projects that serve to advance Maritime prosperity. This property must always be deeply rooted in the farm and as previously pointed out, the fox industry is now to be ranked among the great livestock industries in this section.—St. John Telegraph Journal.

Mr. Brown said that this summer the Chicago Motor Club had routed three times as many tourists to date to the Maritimes as in any three years in the past. "We believe," he said, "that the tourists are just beginning to learn of this country and we are satisfied that this is just the beginning of a tremendous tourist travel to eastern Canada in the years to come. This has become so evident to all motor and tourist associations throughout the United States that this summer the American Automobile Association, which comprises 1,068 United States motor clubs, have had road survey cars in the Maritimes, as had the Chicago Motor Club."

HANDBAG STOLEN—A young lady having some letters registered at the post office yesterday morning had the misfortune of having her handbag containing money and other articles stolen by a couple of young lads, who, apparently watching their chance, snatched the bag from a counter, and then made themselves scarce. The police were notified and soon after apprehended a couple of lads, who however stoutly denied any knowledge of the theft. In the afternoon the handbag, minus the money, was found on Pownal Street. The police have a very accurate description of the young culprit, and when caught will no doubt be made an example of.

Alfred was a bright, intelligent youth of sixteen. The only surviving son of his parents, his elder brother having died five years ago.
