Indian Leader Resigns Seat

BOMBAY, India, July 9.—Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru, noted Indian moderator leader, along with M. R. Jayakar has resigned from the round-table consultative committee on Indian constitutional reform.

In a letter to Lord Willingdon, Viceroy of India, tonight, Sir Tej explained his faith in the British principles of development of self-government for India has not abated, but he has no faith in the revised procedure for working out the constitutional reforms announced by Sir Samuel Hoare, Secretary for India in the British government.

Sir Samuel last month announced formal sessions of large bodies like the Round Table Conference delayed solution of the problem and said the British Government would submit definite proposals to select committees of the House of Lords and House of Commons, who would invite Indian representatives with a view to speedier settlement of the details of the general principles which have already been agreed upon by the successive round table meetings.

Royal Army Medical Men Are Scarce

LONDON, July 9.—(By The Canadian Press)—For some years the War Office have experienced difficulty in securing a sufficient number of suitable applicants for commissions in the Royal Army Medical Corps. Steps which are now to be taken to reorganize this service will have, it is stated, "far reaching effects in consolidating and extending the teaching, research work and professional opportunities of officers, and in enhancing the status of the Corps."

It is intended to concentrate at the Royal Army Medical College the heads of all the specialist branches of medicine and surgery. The commandant of the College and the Director of Studies will in future have the rank of major-general, but on the other hand the Deputy Director of Medical Services at the War Office will be a colonel instead of a major-general.

In consequence of the elaboration of motor transport in recent years, many of the smaller hospitals in commands have been closed, and the patients concentrated in central hospitals fully equipped with all the special departments made necessary by modern methods of diagnosis and treatment. This has resulted in specialization in all branches of medical, surgical, and pathological work being now the rule rather than the exception.

Experts Sail For Ottawa Today

(Canadian Press Cable) LONDON, July 9.—The first of the British government's official advisers for the Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa sail tomorrow. Walter Citrine, General Secretary of the Trades Union Congress, and John Bromley, distinguished Labor leader who is now chairman of the Congress, sail on the liner Laurentic from Liverpool.

At the same time two experts of the Ministry of Agriculture, A. W. Street and H. L. French, and William Bailey, who is Secretary of the T. U. C. Economic Committee, travel to Canada for the conference. A large body of advisers and departmental experts sail on Saturday while the main British delegation, including six or seven Cabinet ministers, headed by Stanley Baldwin, sails next Wednesday.

"No more critical conference was ever held," stated Lord Hallisham Minister of War, tonight in a letter which explained the impossibility of his attending a prayer meeting of the World's Evangelistic Alliance at London on July 25, owing to his attendance at the Imperial Conference.

"We shall need the thoughts and prayers of all God-fearing, patriotic citizens if our discussions are to result in the maintenance and closer union of the Empire," Lord Hallisham added.

The cost-of-living index in Norway has not varied since last September.
