Following close upon the sad accident of last Thursday comes the news of the drowning of James Curley, of Fort Augustus, a promising young man, aged sixteen.

Young Curley, who was a son of Michael Curley, went bathing in company with three companions named Birt. The three youths took a boat at Hayden's wharf and it seems paddled out into the river, took off their clothes and jumped overboard. Young Curley could not swim, it is said. Probably the boys were not aware that the water was so deep, but Curley sank, and one of the Birt boys went to his aid. The task was too much for him, as both sank and Birt became separated from the drowning lad.

The accident happened about four o'clock in the afternoon and the body was not recovered till seven o'clock. A sad circumstance in connection with the event is the fact that the father of the drowned boy left Saturday morning on a trip to Maine.

The world owes much to the genius of all ages. The Hebrews of the olden time remembered the prophets who helped humanity to realize a higher ideal of life and it is fitting that we in the present generation, should not forget the seers of this day who by the creations of their mighty genius inspired the human race to higher purposes and nobler lives. The congregation joined heartily in singing this noble hymn.

At an ice cream social held at Wellington under the auspices of the band, on July 30th, John H. Gallant, school teacher and member of band, was elected by A. G. Gaudet, Pres.; W. T. Cosgrove, Sec.; A. J. Poirer, Director and E. T. Arsenaux, Treasurer, on behalf of the band and school, with a gift accompanied by the following address:—John H. Gallant, member of the Wellington Cornet Band. Dear Friend and Brother Member: It is with mingled feelings of pleasure and regret that we the members of the Wellington Cornet Band and people of Wellington have assembled for this evening. We are all aware that your presence among us is rapidly coming to a close, and when we reflect on the happy relations that have existed between us, and which must so soon terminate, it is then that the thought of your departure brings to us all its full measure of genuine regret. Of your profession as a teacher much can be said to your credit. In the past few years during which you have managed our school it's steady progress and advancement has been evident, and we are proud that you, your persistent and painstaking efforts have been much appreciated. No doubt the little ones who have been under your care, will miss you even more than we, and in their behalf we tender you in words the feelings they are probably unable to express. Not only dear friend will you be missed generally by the people of Wellington with whom you have become so popular, but especially by the band boys, who are totally at a loss to express the profound regret they feel at your departure. Elected to the Vice-Presidency of our band, you have since it's organization been one of it's most active and progressive members, as well as a capable and efficient performer. In the matter of raising funds, in which considerable labor, expense, and responsibility were involved, you have always taken a foremost part, and your task was too arduous, no sentiment to detract, to merit anything but your undivided approval. Your cause, Nor was your zeal in our behalf marred by the thought that ere long you would be battling with life's prospects in a strange land. And now in the routine of practice as we take our respective places in the half circle and our glance along the line falls on a vacant chair, then a silent thought will speak in a language more eloquent than words. Non can we yet, dear friend, bring this address to a close without further words of praise and commendation. Above all, your good and sound Christian principle has appealed to us, your kind and unassuming manners have won our greatest respect, and your becoming conversation and many conduct have always proclaimed you to be a Christian and a gentleman, a credit to your parents and your native parish. And now dear friend as you are about to leave us we cannot let you depart without presenting you with some token by which to be remembered. We therefore take this opportunity to ask you to accept this gift as a slight evidence of our friendship and esteem, assuring you that with it goes the best and most sincere wishes of the band boys.

In your new field of labor you will likely be called on to endure and attend many things, to which you have as yet been a stranger. But in obedience to that good Guiding Hand that has already piloted you, you will remove all obstacles from your path and we earnestly hope to see you return ere long with your excellent health unimpaired and your every effort crowned with success.

WEDNESDAY. It is pleasing to know that George Smith, New Glasgow, who has reached the ripe age of ninety years, is able to walk out after a severe fall last winter.

ONLY A MASK. Many are being benefited by the summer vacation as they should be. Now, notwithstanding much outdoor life, they are little if any stronger than they were. The tan on their faces is darker and makes them look healthier, but it is only a mask. They are still nervous, easily tired, upset by trifles and they do not eat nor sleep well. What they need is what tones the nerves, perfects digestion, creates appetite, and makes sleep refreshing, and that is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Pupils and teachers generally will find the chief purpose of the vacation best subserved by the great medicine which, as we know, "builds up the whole system."

Charles Yeo, who has a quarry at Southport, in endeavoring to get at his work with the removal of the least possible amount of earth covering the stone, on his own authority extended his privileges as a citizen and encroached on the public highway. He had to appear before the Stipendiary to explain his conduct.

Among the many good men in the teaching profession in this province who cannot be mentioned in the obituary column is the busy worker outside the Garden of the Gulf are H. B. McLean and A. Campbell of the Hillsborough Consolidated School. They have resigned their positions on the staff of that school to take others in distant provinces. Their departure from the profession will be keenly felt in their particular professional circle. Professor Bayman and Mat the of the Prince of Wales College are also leaving their native heat and have received appointments in Edmonton and Rossland respectively.

These passed peacefully away at Hampton on July 25th, 1909, after a severe illness of several months, which she bore with Christian resignation to the Divine Will, Susan, beloved wife of Mr. McGee, aged 55 years. All that loving care and medical skill could do was unavailing and death claimed her as its own. The deceased was a member of the Roman Catholic Church, and her last hours were attended by her pastor Rev. Terrence Campbell. Friendly and highly esteemed she will be greatly missed in the home and community in which she lived. She leaves a sorrowing husband to mourn also six daughters and three sons:—Mrs. C. C. Clark, San Francisco, Mrs. M. E. Clark, and Miss Margaret, all in Maine; Margaret and Charles in Dorchester, Mass.; Margaret, Josie, Cecelia and Eugene at home. Her funeral on July 27th, was largely attended. A High Mass was sung by the Rev. J. J. McDonald and all that was left of a kind wife and loving mother was laid to rest in the cemetery at Kinkora. To the bereaved family and friends The Guardian extends deepest sympathy in their irreparable loss.

The opening meeting of the Campaign in the Fourth Electoral District of Prince County was held Monday night in Kinkora Hall. The attendance was large and representative, the order and attention was good, except in one or two cases. The speakers were warm in good time and Hugh Duffy, Kinkora, was appointed Chairman.

The speakers were as follows and spoke in the order given:—Michael Delaney, Captain Read, James Kennedy, M.P.P., J. J. Johnston, K. C., John A. Mathieson, Leader of the Opposition and Premier Hazard. The principal topic touched upon had reference to Captain Read's retention of the seat in the House under the existing circumstances and the argument grew warm on the point only being relieved by the speaker's time limit expiring. Other interesting subjects brought up were the Government Hay Question and Seed Oats matter, both of which were thoroughly threshed out. Only in one or two instances did the audience interfere in any way with the hearing of a speaker.

THURSDAY. The funeral of the late Catherine Bonnell was held from the residence of John M. Cameron, Caledonia, last Sunday afternoon. The floral tributes were numerous and elegant and more worthy tribute to the character and life of the deceased. Rev. Mr. McLellan, Caledonia, officiated at the funeral services. The remains were followed to their last resting place by about eighty carriages.

—Young Mr. McEachern who had his leg amputated a few weeks ago is doing nicely under the skillful treatment of Dr. Crawford. It is noticed that where it is necessary to use the knife it is necessary in all cases to have Crawford on hand.

—It is suspected that McIntyre, who jumped from the train near Pinesville yesterday morning, and Lewis who was arrested and taken back to Alberton, were the persons who broke into J. J. Arsenault's store in Tignish last week. Defectives are after them on that account.

A subscriber from Malpeque writes:—"The Guardian is the first newspaper inquired for when the mails arrive. Liberals and Conservatives all read The Guardian. The reason is—it's the only independent journal published in the Province and it contains the latest news and the best editorials—something new and up-to-date every day. Keep on advocating reform, including vote by ballot."

After a very pleasant visit of a fortnight amidst relatives and friends at Upper Belle River, Murdoch and Mrs. McKenzie and daughter of Salt Lake City, Utah, have left for their home accompanied by the best wishes of a host of friends. Mr. McKenzie left his native Isle for the Western States some fifteen years ago, and since that time has become one of the successful Islanders abroad. —Mrs. Wm. N. McLeod of Valleyfield died on the first day of August, 1909 at the age of forty five years. Her last illness was born with Christian fortitude to the very last. Until some time ago she was strong and healthy and of a cheerful disposition. It is only a few months ago when she looked the picture of health. Mrs. McLeod was much beloved by her neighbors and a large circle of friends and acquaintances. She was a loving mother and leaves a sorrowful husband, three sons and one daughter to mourn her loss. The Rev. Mr. McPhee of Montague of whose church the deceased was a member took part in the funeral services. The subject of his very appropriate discourse was based on the 23rd Psalm: "The need of the Good Shepherd to guide and protect through life and especially through the Valley and shadow of Death. The funeral proceedings were one of the largest ever seen in Valleyfield."

—Yesterday morning when the train from Tignish was running along at usual speed between Elmsdale and Pinesville, a man was seen to jump from the train. Conductor Gillis ordered the train stopped and backed up, but before the train reached the spot the man was seen to gather himself up and run at a lively pace across the field toward the woods. It was afterwards discovered that he was wanted at Alberton to explain about some money that had been stolen from a man by the name of Maynard Lewis, the previous night. Lewis missed the money and suspected two young men, Louis McIntyre and Irving Lewis. He took the train at Alberton expecting to intercept them along the Railway at Elmsdale and the two young men boarded the train and were thus in Lewis' track. McIntyre appears to have decided to take the chances of a leap for liberty, but young Lewis returned to Alberton and was conducted from the train at Pinesville without showing much resistance. It is said that both these young men had tickets for the Harvest Excursion.

On Thursday evening, July 22th, Rev. Mr. and Mrs. McHattie entertained a large number of the young people from the different sections of his congregation at the Manse, Montrose. Miss Flossie Squarebriggs very ably presided and led the meeting. A number of short readings were given by several of the Guild members, the topic being The missionaries of China. A solo, Abide with Me, was very sweetly sung by Mrs. Alijah McLean of Amherst, accompanied on the organ by Miss Mae Marchbank. The choir gave some very nice selections. Miss Barbara Hardy very ably performed the duties of organist. Rev. Mr. McHattie gave a very interesting address on the progress of the missionary work in China, after which all were invited to the Manse where the evening was very pleasantly spent in various games, instrumental and vocal music, and social intercourse. Luncheon was served and prepared by the hostess in a very tasteful manner and was much enjoyed by all present. After thanking Mr. and Mrs. McHattie for the very pleasant evening spent and wishing them every success in their new field of labor all returned home well pleased with their evening's entertainment.

—Wednesday night at bedtime Lucas and Mrs. Allan Summerside found they had one more than the usual number of children. To find out where the "little three year old tot came from puzzled all the neighbors in that vicinity and the police were called in to help to find a claimant for the small boy. Later on he was claimed by his mother, Mrs. George B. Chappell. She had prepared the youngster for bed but he thought it was a little too early and tripped out to have a trot around and got astray.

At Valleyfield East, on Sunday evening, August 1st, Sarah Flay, dearly beloved wife of Wm N. McLeod, passed to her rest aged 45 years. For about three years she had suffered from cancer, and though the best medical skill available had been obtained and delicate operations had been performed, death claimed her as its own. When but a young woman the deceased confessed her faith in Jesus Christ, and united with the Montague Baptist Church under the ministry of Rev. John Williams. The last intelligible words she was heard to utter were: "Happy—happy—happy in Jesus." She leaves to mourn their loss a disconsolate husband, four children, her widowed mother, one brother, and two sisters, besides a large circle of friends and relatives, among them an uncle Rev. D. G. McDonald in the great east. On the 3rd inst. the funeral service was held at her late home conducted by Revs. A. S. Stewart, (Pres.) and E. A. McPhee, (Bapt.), and an immense concourse of friends followed her remains to their last resting place, where they were laid away in the sure and certain hope of a glorious resurrection.—Com.

The death occurred at the Delaware Hospital, Wilmington, Del., on August 3rd, after a six weeks' illness of Charles Davy. The following kind expressions signed by Norman McLeod, John D. McLeod and Alex. K. McDonald have been forwarded on behalf of Knox L. O. L. No 1047 to Brother Alex. McKenzie and other members of the family. "On behalf of Knox L. O. L. No 1047, Hartsville, we extend to you and other members of the family our sincere sympathy as it has pleased God in his allwise Providence to take the soul of your dear father to that home on high which He has prepared for those that love Him. Although your hearts are filled with grief, what a joy it is to know that you can meet again where there shall be no parting and where sorrow is unknown. We each and all would gladly help you bear your burden but we feel there is so little we can do, we only can direct you to the God of all comfort and consolation, to the great burden-bearer the man of sorrow who is acquainted with grief."

To The Mothers Of Pale Girls A Case Showing How the Tonic Treatment Restores Lost Health.

Anæmia is simply lack of blood. It is one of the most common and at the same time most dangerous diseases with which growing girls suffer. It is often common because the blood so often becomes impoverished through development, when girls suffer from overwork and suffer from lack of exercise. It is dangerous because of the stealthiness of its approach and because of its tendency to grow so steadily worse, if not promptly checked, that it may run into consumption. Every growing girl should take an occasional tonic to ward off the insidious trouble; and in all the world there is no tonic so effective as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Every dose of this medicine helps to make new rich blood, which promptly makes weak, pale, listless girls bright, rosy and strong. Miss A. M. Dugay, Lower Cove, N. S., says:—"I believe I owe my life to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. My blood seemed to have turned to water. I was pale as a sheet, suffering from headaches and floating specks seemed to be constantly before my eyes. As the trouble progressed my limbs began to swell, and it was feared that dropsy had set in and that my case was hopeless. Up to this time two doctors had attended me, but notwithstanding I kept growing worse. It was at this juncture I began using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and in such quick trial they will not disappoint you. Sold by all medicine dealers, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
