SOMETHING ABOUT FAITH CURES

What a great variety of faith cures there must be some have faith in so-called divine healers others in the medicines they use. Every person who has tested Dr. Chase's Kidney Liver Pills has faith in them, but faith or no faith they cure just the same, for they act directly and specifically on the kidneys, liver and bowels and make these organs healthy, active and vigorous. Judging from the enormous demand for these Pills there must be hosts of people that have faith in them.

WAS PRES. MCKINLEY PROPERLY TREATED?

Drs. Taylor and Conroy Briefly Review the Case and

CONSIDER THE PRESIDENT'S ALARMING STATE

Should Have Been Earlier Suspected—Dr. Taylor Characterizes the Administering of Solid Food as an Exhibition of Blundering and Ignorance.

Great differences of opinion exist to-day in regard to the procedure of the physicians who attended the late President McKinley and a large number of reputable practitioners openly condemn the action of the doctors in allowing the President to be given solid foods. Yesterday evening Dr. Taylor was seen and asked to give his opinion upon the matter.

DR. TAYLOR'S OPINION.

The doctor said that the operation performed by Dr. Mann was perfectly correct. It was all right to close the bullet wounds, the one in the anterior and the other in the posterior walls of the stomach and also to make an incision sufficient to ascertain the condition of the bowels.

Gangrene of both walls of the stomach and pancreas has been declared to be the cause of death. The pancreas is an organ which is concerned in digestion. This gangrene probably existed from the start and was progressive. It or some other serious state of things should certainly have been suspected from the painful character of the abdominal wound made by the surgeon. Its refusal to heal and also its disposition to suppurate should certainly have been cause for grave apprehension.

The wound was also extremely sensitive to antiseptics and yet they considered him so well that they ordered him toast and meat. This was an exhibition of blundering and ignorance which is disgraceful.

The weak action of the heart was sympathetic with the gangrenous condition of the stomach and was not due to any inherent disease of its own which they appeared to suspect.

Dr. Taylor also gives it as his opinion that the late President could have been kept alive for a month on liquid food.

DR. CONROY'S OPINION.

Doctor Conroy when waited upon said that the symptoms in the President's case indicated that the wounds in the stomach were the cause of the rise of temperature, the quickened pulse, and general depression, and the failure of the rectum to receive nourishment administered in that way indicated paralysis of the sphincter.

His symptoms at no time indicated that there was a sanguine reason to expect recovery, as all the symptoms indicated an alarming condition and went to show that the wounds in the stomach were not healing under aseptic conditions.

The sepsis may have been caused by the bullet itself or may have been due to the lack of asepsis in the methods pursued in the operation. If this contagion was not carried in by means of a septic bullet it was so induced by the operator or the ligatures used in sewing up the wounds. He could only explain the hasty operation as due to the fear of hemorrhage.

The bulletins as given out to the public have reflected great discredit upon modern surgery. Much more grave operations are performed every day in large hospitals and in almost every case with perfect success.

The administration of the solids in Dr. Conroy's opinion could have no effect as fatal symptoms had already appeared.

The undiscovered bullet had nothing to do with causing the patient's death. The finding of a shred of clothing in the wound cannot be explained where the rules of surgery are observed to any degree.

Dr. Conroy concluded by again placing special emphasis upon the fact that a great discredit has been inflicted upon modern surgery.
