It was the first that he had seen; for although he had come this way a week ago, when the plague was already active in the neighborhood, yet it was then confined to Butcher's Row on the north side of the church and to the mean streets that issued thence. To find it thus upon the main road between the City and Whitehall was to be rendered unpleasantly conscious of its spread. And, as he now pursued his way with instinctively quickened steps, he found his thoughts thrust more closely than ever upon the uses which this dread pestilence might make of his district. Much brooding in his disturbed state of mind distorted his mental vision, so that he came presently to adopt the view that this plague was a visitation from Heaven upon a city abandoned to ungodliness. Heaven, it followed, must be on the side of those who labored to effect a purifying change.

The end of it was that, as he toiled up Ludgate Hill toward Paul's, his resolve was taken. That evening he would seek Tucker and throw in his lot with the republicans.

Coming into Paul's Yard, he found a considerable crowd assembled before the western door of the Cathedral. It was composed of people of all degrees: merchants, shopkeepers, prentices, horseboys, scavengers, rogues from the alleys that lay behind the Old Change, idlers and sharpers from

He BEHELD A MAN WITH A PIKE BEFORE A PAUL LOCKED DOOR.

Paul's Walk, with a sprinkling of women, of town-gallants, and of soldiers. And there upon the steps of the portico, stood the magnet that had drawn them in the shape of that black crow of a Jack's presbyter preaching the City's doom. And his text—recurring like the refrain of a song—was ever the same:

"Ye have defiled your sanctuaries by the multitude of your iniquities, by the iniquity of your traffic."

And yet, from between the Corinthian pillars which served him for his background, has been swept away the milliners' shops that had stood there during the Common wealth.

Whether some thought of this in the minds of his audience rendered his words humorously inapt, or whether it was merely that a spirit of irresponsible ribaldry was infused into the crowd by a crowd of young apprentices, loud derision greeted the preacher's utterance. Unshaken by the laughter and mocking cries, the prophet of doom presented a fearless and angry front.

"Repent, ye scoffers!" His voice shrilled to dominate their mirthful turbulence. "Behold you of whose ye stand! Yet forty days and London shall be destroyed! The pestilence lays siege upon this city of the ungodly! Like a raging lion doth it stalk round, seeking where it may leap upon you. Yet forty days, and—"

An egg flung by the hand of a butcher's boy smashed full in his face to crop his period short. He staggered and gasped as the glutinous mass of yolk and white crept sluggishly down his beard and dripped thence to spread upon the rusty black of his coat.

"Deriders! Scoffers!" he screamed, and with arms that thrashed the air in imprecation, he looked like a wind-tossed scarecrow. "Your doom is at hand. Your—"

A roar of laughter provoked by the spectacle he presented drowned his frenzied voice, and a shower of offensive missiles pelted him from

is not a diseased condition, but a defect in the physical formation and development of the Eye.

Medical treatment is not indicated, except perhaps to alleviate resultant distressing symptoms.

A careful examination should be made to determine just where the defect or weakness is situated, and with this information, the optometrist is able to prescribe the necessary remedy.

MRS. RICHARD WOOLRIDGE

There passed peacefully away at her home, Cove Head Road, on March the 27th, 1924, Sarah Selena Dover, beloved wife of Richard Woolridge at the age of 49 years, after a long illness which she bore with Christian patience always trusting in her Saviour.

There are left to mourn her bereaved husband, one daughter, Mrs. J. Edwin Birt, Peakes Station, two sons, Wallace and Lucas at home, five aged parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Dover of Suffolk, one sister, Mrs. Emma Ellis, Donaldson, a little grandson, Master Richard Birt and five brothers, Jas. Wheelwright River, David, Suffolk, Joseph, Dunstaffnage, Wallace, Worcester, Mass., and Everett of York, who have the deep sympathy of their many friends.

The funeral was held on the 29th, services being conducted by her pastor, Rev. Thomas Wilson who visited her quite frequently during her illness and whom she loved to see. He was assisted by the Rev. H. Smith of York. The hymns sung were her favorites, Jesus Lover of My Soul, Nearer My God to Thee, Rock of Ages and Abide With Me. The pall bearers were, Aeneas

Watch your Skin!

It's up to you to look your best

Young girls, old girls, plain girls, pretty girls—don't we all know those days before the mirror when, with a sigh, we turn away and say,

"Gosh—I do look plain!"

On those days when our skin looks bad and won't get right—our noses won't powder—our eyes are dull! We all know them. But wise women watch their skin and at the first sign of something take the best remedy—a dose of

Beecham's Pills

They purify the blood, clear the skin, make you happy,

LOOK OUT FOR THE 'FLU

Rainy, Murky Air is Full of Dangerous Germs

HEALTH IS YOUR SAFEGUARD

Keep Well by Taking "Fruit-a-lives", The Fruit Medicine.

Hundreds of people come down with the 'Flu in March and April because they will not take care of their health.

No matter what the weather or how full of disease germs the air may be, there is no danger of Grippe, 'Flu, Pneumonia, as long as your blood is pure and clean, your nerves steady, your bowels and kidneys regular.

The best protection against colds, grippe, 'Flu, Rheumatism, is the good health which "Fruit-a-lives" bring. These tablets, made of the fresh juices of apples, oranges, figs and prunes, combined with tonics, are just what you need as a bracing, invigorating, cleansing spring tonic. They regulate the kidneys, bowels, liver and skin—sweeten the stomach, purify the blood—and so tone up the vital organs of the body—that the whole system is also able to resist the ravages of disease.

Take "Fruit-a-lives" now—they take them regularly through the wet, changeable spring weather, and your own vigorous health will protect you against the 'Flu.

IN MEMORIAM

MR. PETER McKENNA

Seldom has a death occurred which caused such widespread sympathy as that of Peter McKenna which took place at his home at Baldwin's Road on March 14th at the age of 76 years. Deceased had been ailing since the beginning of the year, but he bore his sufferings with patience and resignation to the Holy Will of God. During his illness he was fortified by frequent visits from his Pastor, Rev. I. R. A. McDonald who administered to him the last rites of the Holy Catholic Church he was also consoled by a visit from his son Rev. Herman McKenna, Owatonna, Minn.

Deceased who was a man of sterling character, upright and honest in all his dealings will be greatly missed by his family and in the community in which he lived. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, a funeral which took place on Sunday after noon was largely attended. The services at the church and grave were conducted by his Pastor, assisted by Rev. P. D. McGuigan, Vernon River, Rev. Bernard Gillis, Cardigan assisted the choir.

The pall bearers were Messrs. Edward Walsh, John J. Walsh, John T. Gill, Patrick Donnelly, John T. Curran and Michael Corcoran. He leaves to mourn a sorrowing widow, two sons and two daughters, namely, Rev. Herman J. McKenna, Pastor of St. Joseph's Church, Owatonna Minn., Mrs. James Gill Elliott, Mayme and Peter at home also one sister Mary of Baldwin's Road.

May his soul rest in peace. Think of him faring on, as dear In the love of There, as the love of here. Think of him still as the same, I say. He is not dead—he is just away. (Patriot Please Copy)

SIR EDMUND WALKER DIES

President of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, who died Thursday morning after a few days' illness. He was one of the greatest of living Canadians, a leader in the promotion of art, music, and science, Chancellor of the University of Toronto, honorary president of the Mendelssohn choir, the great choir on the continent, since its organization. He was also Canadian Consul in Japan for many years. Sir Edmund started work in his uncle's bank before he was thirteen years old and entered the service of the Bank of Commerce as a clerk in 1868. He was Canadian-born, and probably no man in Canada today combines the unique versatility of interests which marked Sir Edmund Walker.

CONCERT ENJOYED

The members of "McEwen" L. O. L. Pinette, held a very successful concert and box social in their hall on March 19th. The weather being favorable there was a large crowd of people present, and the order throughout the evening was excellent. Thos. W. Morrison performed the duties of chairman in his usual capable manner. The following programme was well rendered:

Opening remarks by chairman, Thos. W. Morrison

Chorus—"Golden Gate"

Recitation by Edward Gillis ... Duet—"Happy the Children" by Lillian McKenzie and Anna MacLeod

Reading by Miss Emily Miller (encored.)

Duet—"Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Sheen" by Dan Ross and R. Cameron MacPhee

Dialogue—"Two Greenhorns" by Sinclair Morrison and Angus Murchison

Male chorus—"My Sunny Tennessee" (encored)

Recitation—"Too early for church" Ivy McPherson (encored)

Dialogue—"Teaching Josiah Manners" by Rod'k Murchison

Reading by Mrs. Rod'k McKenzie

Darky ditty—"Oh Susanna" by R. S. West and R. C. McPhee

Reading—Thos. W. Morrison

Chorus—"Its Canada the land for me"

The accompanists of the evening were Ethel MacDonald, Emily Miller and Florence MacPhee. At the completion of the programme Mr. Thos. W. Morrison auctioned the boxes to the satisfaction of all, and the handsome sum of seventy dollars ($70.00) was realized. The committee take this opportunity of thanking those from outside districts who helped to make the concert a success.

The singing of the National Anthem brought a pleasant evening to a close.
