SMILES

DO YOU KNOW?
Young Author: Of course, you like Milton's work, Miss Mabel?
She: What kind of work does he do?

He: I suppose you think you understand all about the country since you've been here a week. Well, what is buckwheat?
She: Wheat that sells for a buck a bushel.

HOPED HE WOULD

"If I ever catch you with my girl again I'll knock your block off!"
"I hope you will!"

LAUGHS AT HOME

"Do you go to many amusements these days, Bill?"
"No. Don't have to now. My son's gone to wearing Oxford bags and cretonne vests."

Home-made Supply of Fine Cough Syrup

Better than ready-made cough syrups, and saves about $2. Easily prepared.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" remedy, you probably could not get as much real curative power as there is in this simple home-made cough syrup, which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex, pour it into a 16-oz. bottle and fill the bottle with syrup, using either plain granulated sugar syrup, clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, as desired. The result is a cough syrup of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made and saves easily $2. Tastes pleasant and never irritates.

This Pinex and Syrup preparation gets right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, stops the nasty throat tickle and heals the sore, irritable membranes so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.

A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough and for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma, there is nothing better.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations to break up severe coughs. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. LONDON, Oct. 12.—Owing to the recent invasion of Buckingham palace by rats and their increase throughout the country the Anti-Rodent Society has started its fall campaign urging housewives, storekeepers and all other patriotic citizens to "do your rat killing early."

VOICE: His time's up. Sit down.
VOICE: What about Jeremiah Blanchard?
HON. MR. SINCLAIR: We reduced the revenue to the extent of $26,000,000 annually and with the expansion of trade that followed on account of reduction in duties, reduction in taxes, the actual reduction for the year that followed amounted to $52,000,000. With the careful control of the expenditure, the government of this country was able to...

Negligence in the matter of immigration, despite increased office expenditure in London, was charged against the King Government by Mr. McKinnon. The first speaker (Mr. Jenkins) had cited from a newspaper report that Canadians were returning from United States in larger numbers. But he had not read it all.

MR. JENKINS: "I beg your pardon; I read it all."
MR. MCKINNON: "There is another paragraph which states that from one part alone 25,000 people went across to the States, the year previous, and that last year only 14,000 went. The article was trying to show that there was a reduction in the exodus, but that paragraph was not read."
Mr. Jenkins produced the Guardian report from which he had quoted the whole article; while Mr. McKinnon continued reading from the Patriot report. There were voluntary comments from the audience, supplemented with hoots, cheers and cat-calls to add to the confusion. It was found that the paragraph referred to by Mr. McKinnon was not included in Mr. Jenkins' clipping.

"At any rate," said Mr. McKinnon, "I want to show that there was a reduction in emigration to the States. If there were 25,000 the previous year and only 14,000 this year would that show that emigration was not going on. Not at all. If you continue as they are doing there would very soon be 25,000 to go. There is no proof that people are not going. (Applause.)"

Continuing Mr. McKinnon referred to a statement by one of the Liberal speakers that 75 per cent of the pulp wood is manufactured in this country. But this was belated cause the Quebec Government controlled a large part of the pulp industry and refused to allow it to be sent into the United States to be manufactured. It was no thanks to the King Government.

MR. JENKINS who had ten minutes to reply followed Mr. McKinnon and spoke for about two minutes.

VOICE: We heard you already.
MR. JENKINS: Yes, well it is only for a minute now.
HON. DR. McMILLAN, the next speaker was greeted with cries of "Let's hear about the Mitchell case." He referred to the fair man in which the French Canadians had always been treated by the Conservative party in awarding positions of honor and emolument, and went on to answer Mr. Jenkins' question. What is Mr. Meighen's policy? by declaring that the Conservative policy has always been to do as much as it is the National policy the only policy possible for the Dominion.

MR. JENKINS: High protection!
HON. DR. McMILLAN: You have never changed it. It is the same policy that the King Government tried to use, and they have used it ever since.

Dr. McMILLAN then went on to ask what country had ever prospered without protection.

MR. JENKINS: Great Britain is good enough for me.
HON. DR. McMILLAN: Great Britain is good enough for me also. For 300 years she built her industries up under high protection, and during the Great War she found it necessary to put on her statute books another "high protection Act." Since the war 63 countries have increased their tariff walls, and they are prospering to a much greater extent than Canada today. (Applause.)

Other matters concerning the tariff were dealt with by Dr. McMILLAN who then spoke of the proposed Senate reform.

"I do not know if I should talk about this tonight, because I notice we have a Senator present, (Senator Prowse) but he was lucky enough to get in before there was any Senate reform. (Laughter.) In other words, he didn't have to sign that famous agreement which was put up to the recent Senators in which they agreed to support the measures of a Senate Reform that came to them. What a fine thing to ask self-respecting men to do—to go in there bound by an agreement to support any measure that came before them! That is the way he proposes to reform the Senate."

Dr. McMILLAN cited from "The Liberal Bible," the Toronto Globe, a scathing comment on a speech of McKENZIE KING's. This was the contemptuous attitude of the famous old Liberal newspaper towards the reform.

He then spoke of the matter of frost proofing the Georgetown warehouse and the fact that for some reason this item had not appeared in the Estimates, though expected by the potato growers.

Dr. McMILLAN did not propose to go at any length into the Mitchell matter, it had already been gone into at other meetings.

MR. E. C. BEPAGE (from the audience): It was all settled on the floor of Parliament.

OTHER VOICES: It never was settled.
HON. DR. McMILLAN: Let me answer that. There was an explanation made by Mr. Sinclair on the floor of the House of Commons. He spoke on a question of privilege, which is not debatable either then or afterwards. Do you know that, my smart friend? (Applause.)

MR. LEPAGE: Just what I told you; it was settled satisfactorily on the floor of the House.
HON. DR. McMILLAN: I will grant that settlement, as far as the House was concerned; but as a result the people of this Province are asked to pay $17,000 back to those who were robbed!

VOICE: Here, here.
Continuing Dr. McMILLAN referred to the question he had asked Mr. Jenkins the other night, which Mr. Jenkins had not answered.

MR. JENKINS: What is your question?
HON. DR. McMILLAN: Do you want the local Government to pay that $17,000?
MR. JENKINS: Might I ask you another question?
HON. DR. McMILLAN: When you answer that you can ask me as many as you like.
MR. JENKINS: Are you conducting an investigation all over this country?
HON. DR. McMILLAN: No, I have answered your question; now you answer mine.
MR. JENKINS: I would like to know what your candidates' policy is?
HON. DR. McMILLAN: You can ask the candidates any question you like, but I am asking you a question. I want to say, in all fairness to Mr. Sinclair, that if he didn't take him two minutes to answer the question.

MR. JENKINS: I don't propose to answer it. It is a legal question, on that record I stand or fall.
VOICE: I guess you will fall then.
MR. JENKINS: I represented the City of Charlottetown for several years on the Council and I was Mayor. And I can go into any home in Charlottetown and be welcomed.
VOICE: What do you know about politics? (Laughter.)
HON. MR. SINCLAIR moved a vote of thanks to the chairman.
VOICE: We would like to hear from Mr. Sinclair on the Mitchell question.
VOICE: We didn't hear about the Senatorship, either!
ANOTHER VOICE: What about Blanchard?
The meeting then adjourned. Mr. Bismark Craswell presided very fairly at the meeting.
