Nuclear Sub Fleet Is Russian Boast

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Soviet naval leaders boasted of Russia's rocket - carrying nuclear submarine fleet in a series of articles published Saturday — the eve of Soviet Navy Day.

Admiral Vitaly Fokin, the navy's first deputy commander-in-chief, told the Soviet news agency Tass that "submarines, including atomic submarines, form the mainstay and main force of the Russian navy."

Fokin said the recent achievements of rocket-carrying atomic submarines of the Soviet Arctic fleet counteracted statements spread in the West about the "unsurpassed qualities" of the American Polaris submarines.

Vice - Admiral S. Zakharov, writing in the newspaper Soviet Trade, said Soviet nuclear submarines "surpass American submarines in speed and manoeuvrability."

The statements followed reports a week ago that Premier Khrushchev watched what Western experts in Moscow believed was among the first test firings of missiles from submerged submarines.

Zakharov's article said the Soviet Union had sufficient rocket-carrying vessels and rocket-carrying aircraft which could operate far from their bases.

Another naval leader — identified only as Rear - Admiral Vyryakin — said "our rocket-carrying submarines have learned well how to operate under the Arctic ice."

Vyryakin concluded that the submarine fleet and navy's air arm "has given quite a new quality to our navy, and Soviet naval forces are capable of carrying our active military operations on the vast expanses of the open seas and oceans."

By RICHARD PYLE

DETROIT (AP)—A man who gave up golf because he hated to lose golf balls—and yet has spent millions of dollars on libraries, medical laboratories, orphanages and churches—will reach the 95-year mark July 31.

And as he passed another milestone in a life of success built on almost-legendary thrift, Sebastian Spering Kresge says he's prepared to keep right on going.

"I don't believe I can do it for another 95 years," admits this stocky, durable man whose career—from tinware salesman to multi - millionaire variety store merchant — could easily have been the model for a Horatio Alger story. "But I'll have a hand in things as long as I can.

There are two "things." One is the S. S. Kresge Company, a commercial empire which began in Detroit with a single store advertising "nothing over 10 cents," and now includes some 800 variety and department stores in the U.S. and Canada.

The other is the Kresge foundation, which in 48 years of existence has poured more than $56,000,000 into philanthropy, public and private.

MOTHER LIVED TO 100

Nearing 95, Sebastian Kresge —whose mother lived to be 100 and whose grandmother died at 101—is just beginning to slow down.

His involvement in the company and the foundation has been, in recent years, largely titular. He has turned over the administration of both to his oldest son, Stanley, and a core of trusted men, some of whom have been associated with him since the 1920s.

But he takes pride in being known as the oldest living founder of a company listed on the New York Stock Exchange—and probably the oldest chairman of the board in the United States."

To Kresge, "getting around pretty well" still means a swim in the pool, daily walks and regular calisthenics upon arising (at 7 a.m.) and before retiring (at 11 p.m.) each day.

"I don't know how many pushups I can do," he laughed. "I don't count 'em any more."

Prado Freed By Military

LIMA, Peru (AP) — Deposed president Manuel Prado was freed today by the military forces that overthrew his government July 18.

Gustavo Prado, a nephew of the 73-year-old president, said Prado was in good health.

Release of the moderate president had been expected since his six-year term ended Saturday. But Ricardo Perez Godoy, head of the military junta now in power, said earlier today it was up to Prado whether he wanted to live here or abroad. Prado's decision on possible exile was not announced.

Prado's release is believed to be a major factor in U.S. deliberations on whether to recognize the military government and to eventually resume aid for Peru.

The military regime has restored civil rights and promised to hold new elections to return civilians to control next June.

HUGE REFINERY

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (Reuters) Construction begins in October on New Zealand's first oil refinery, a $56,000,000 plant being built at Whangarei. It is scheduled to start production in 1964 with a daily capacity of 55,300 barrels of crude oil, producing gasoline, diesel fuel and bitumen.

WEALTHY ACTOR

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The Mexican actor-comic Cantinflas who starred in the movie Around the World in 80 Days has offered to donate enough land for a subdivision of low-cost homes. He said the development would be for bit-part players and other actors with low incomes.

BRITISH STARS

British actors Gordon Jackson and Angus Lennie star in the current filming at Munich of "The Great Escape."

The bidding:

| East | South | West | North |
|---|---|---|---|
| Pass | 1 NT | Pass | 3 NT |

Opening lead—king of clubs.

You don't have to agree with the notrump bid or North's raise to three, but that's not the point of this story. The play's the thing in this hand, so let's get on with it.

West led the king of clubs. Declarer ducked and West continued with the queen, dummy playing low again. Another club lead forced the ace and East had to choose a discard.

Now if you were East and saw only dummy's hand and your own, what would you discard at this point?

The best play is to discard the queen of diamonds, and if you do this, nothing can save declarer. He would go down two with normal play thereafter.

But if you don't, South makes the hand quite easily. All he does is lead a diamond from dummy at trick four. When you play the queen, he lets you hold the trick. As a result, he winds up with five diamond tricks, two spades, a heart and a club.

A good case can be made for discarding the queen of diamonds. If declarer has the A-K-J, the queen is a valueless card to keep. If declarer is missing one of these honors, it means that West has the ace, king, or jack as a possible entry for his clubs, and the queen once again serves no useful purpose in the East hand.

However, when the hand was played, East failed to appreciate the importance of discarding the queen of diamonds. Instead, he discarded the three of hearts.

But the fates were kind to him. Declarer, looking neither to the right nor left, won the club with the ace and led a diamond to the king. He paid no attention to the Qceen East was forced to play.

South continued with the ace of diamonds, hoping the jack would fall, but it didn't. Declarer could then do no better than give up a diamond trick to West and concede down two, thereby proving that two wrongs sometimes make a right.

3 Teams Tied In Bridge Play

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Three teams were tied Sunday for the lead with 18½ of 28 points in qualifying matches of the American Contract Bridge League's 34th annual summer tournament.

Eighty-nine teams began major play Saturday night. Qualifying play continued Sunday night, with the final rounds, Monday and Tuesday nights.

Tied for the lead at the end of the first qualifying session were teams composed of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Solomon of Philadelphia and Mr. and Mrs. Jules Farrell of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Robin Wolfe and William Grieve of San Antonio and Mrs. Julie Toledano of New Orleans; and Mrs. Alice Perlmutter and Ben Aisenberg of Denver, Casandra Wolfe of Paris, Ill., and Ivor Stakgold of Chicago.

IN CRITICAL CONDITION

ROME (AP)—Gabriele Acacia Cardinal Coussa was reported in critical condition Friday as pulmonary complications set in while he was recovering from an appendectomy.

The Syrian-born Cardinal, 65, secretary of the Vatican congregation for the Eastern Church, entered hospital Wednesday.

STIFF TERMS

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—Two employees convicted of stealing $20,000 from a pepper marketing plant were the first Hungarians to feel the weight of the Communist government's stiff new penal code. The supreme court increased to 12 and 15 years the 10 and 12-year terms handed out by a lower court.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
