

Huge Surpluses Reported Of Pork, Butter And Milk

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer
OTTAWA (CP) — The government's larger is loaded with some 40,000,000 pounds of surplus pork and the total is increasing, authorities disclosed Tuesday.

They said it may climb to some 55,000,000 pounds or more by the end of May. The outlook for disposal is none too encouraging. Some of the pork, neatly packed in cans, may end up in cans, shipped behind the Iron Curtain at below cost.

This rising surplus was one of the main factors in the government's decision to trim the price support for pork and attempt eventually to turn federal aid into a limited form of deficiency payment—covering the farmer on his losses but letting him do his own marketing.

The government Monday announced it would trim price support on hogs to $23.65 a hundredweight from $25, effective next Oct. 1.

SIMILAR SITUATION

Some similar consideration also is being given to dairy products. Authorities estimated that by May 1, the government will have a surplus of 45,000,000 pounds of butter and about 65,000,000 pounds of milk powder.

Officials indicated that swigging the government's aid program into deficiency payments may have some advantages, but would raise a number of problems. One is the reaction of importing countries.

Through the system of deficiency payments, products would be allowed to find their own market price, with any fixed losses covered by the government later. The concern here is that the United States, for example, might argue that Canada was in fact subsidizing exports and thus competing unfairly.

If such exports, say of pork, brought complaints from competing suppliers in the U.S., the result might be new restrictions on Canadian shipments.

Premier Asserts

that every Province had a sales tax in force as Mr. Bell had indicated, the Premier said. Premier Frost had refused to put the Ontario hospital plan on this basis because he felt he would need this added source of revenue at a later date.

"I would have been unfaithful and unfair to the trust the people of the Province had placed in me, had I imposed a provincial sales tax," Hon. Mr. Matheson asserted.

There were not too many citizens unable to pay the small premium required, and to those who claimed they could not do so, a strict means test would be applied.

NO GOOD HERE

Collecting sufficient money to pay for the plan under a sales tax similar to that in effect in Nova Scotia would be impossible, the leader of the government maintained.

So many major items such as food, gas, autos, farm equipment, etc., were exempted under the Nova Scotia Act, applying their plan to this Province would leave nothing worthwhile to tax.

The fact that one small operator could clear as much as $230 on one-quarter of an acre of broccoli indicated how much value the frozen food plant would be in future, the Premier said.

OTTAWA BLAMED

The delegation of authority from deputy to minister instead of from minister to minister as had obtained heretofore, was the cause of much of this mix-up and uncertainty, Hon. Mr. Matheson explained.

Referring to the motion of non-confidence moved earlier in the session by Dr. L. G. Dewar (PC—2nd. Prince), the Premier said that he could not understand how the present budget under consideration could be considered as "partisan, improvident, inadequate for education, making improper provision for the hospital insurance, failing to develop basic industry, or indicating a lack of leadership."

ABORTIVE ATTEMPT

He said that this abortive attempt to cast doubt on his government was made by Dr. Dewar with "tongue in cheek," and did not indicate his true feelings.

The member from O'Leary had done pretty well for a beginner in the first three sessions he had attended so it was too bad that he had ruined things during this one, the Premier remarked.

On a standing vote, the vote of non-confidence was lost 13-3. During his budget address the Premier also gave the House an up-to-date summary of the rural electrification program. This will appear in a later issue of this newspaper.

Cooks from practically all hospitals in Prince Edward Island are expected to be in Charlottetown next week for a refresher course stressing the importance of the nutritional value of foods, proper cooking, and the necessity of making hospital food attractive and appetizing.

Instructors include Miss Suzanne Saint-Hilaire of Ottawa, Miss Hazel Roland, director of the nutrition division, Nova Scotia Department of Public Health, Halifax, and Miss Rosemary Clarke, a dietitian at the P.E.I. Hospital.

There will be demonstrations of meat carving by Alfred Trainor, chef of the Charlottetown Hotel, and demonstrations of cutting meat carcasses by Canada Packers.

The course, which will be held Wednesday, Thursday and Friday in the household arts department of Queen Charlotte High School, through the cooperation of the Charlottetown School Board, has been arranged by Mrs. Maylea Manning, dietitian at the Provincial Sanatorium, Miss Dorothy Baxter, dietitian at the P.E.I. Hospital, Miss Mona Wilson, of the Provincial Department of Health, and the nutritional division of the Department of National Health and Welfare.

Imperial Oil Cuts Gas Price

TORONTO (CP) — Gasoline price cuts at the wholesale level were announced Tuesday by Imperial Oil Limited.

In Newfoundland, the Marlin, Quebec and the Ottawa valley area of Ontario, the decrease was one-half cent per gallon on all grades.

For the rest of Ontario regular and farm grades dropped 7-10ths of a cent per gallon. The same grades were reduced a half-cent per gallon in the Prairies and British Columbia.

An Imperial Oil spokesman said it would be up to individual service station owners to decide if the reductions are to be passed on to the retail buyer.

Other company officials said they expect operators will pass on the reduction to the public.

M. M. Riley, vice-president of Superpetroleum Corporation Limited, said there was "a good possibility" his firm would also cut its price.

A representative for McColl-Frontenac Oil Company (Texasco) said his company would have to consider the matter seriously "because gasoline is a difficult product to sell at a higher price than competitors."

Toronto Girls Defend Models

TORONTO (CP) — Several Toronto girls Tuesday jumped to the defence of Canadian models after Paris-born Mary Paulyn accused them of being "awkward, unnatural and unfeminine" in their posing style.

Joan King, just back from a modelling assignment in New York, said Canadian and United States models are more popular in France than French girls.

Miss Paulyn, who is married with three children and has been in Canada about four years, recalled comments she made some time ago.

"Awkward! Unnatural! Unfeminine! It's that abstract trend again," she said. Although she has since become somewhat resigned to the "American idea of fashion posing," she still prefers the sophisticated style of France.

Miss King said Parisians liked the sort of "outdoor, homey look." The highest paid fashion models in Europe are either Canadian or United States girls, she said.

Second Service In Series Held At City Church

The second in a series of Passion Week Services being currently conducted in the First Baptist Church, Charlottetown, was held in the church sanctuary last evening, and was led by the pastor, Rev. H. L. Mitton. Special groups attending the service included the 4th Baptist Boy Scout Troop and their leaders, and representatives of the Men's Association.

During the service some twenty people gave a verbal witness to the fact that they had received Jesus Christ as their personal Saviour, and that they desired to unite with the fellowship of the church following baptism. The pastor commended the candidates to the prayers of the church, and called upon the church's Moderator, Walter Baker, to secure the approval and support of the congregation in the candidate's behalf.

Nfld. Loggers Are Eligible For Benefits

OTTAWA (CP) — Workers laid off because of the Newfoundland loggers' strike have been eligible for normal unemployment insurance benefits since March 15, Labor Minister Starr said Tuesday.

Replying in the Commons to J. W. Pickersgill, Liberal MP for the Newfoundland constituency of Bonaville-Twillingate, he said unemployment insurance regulations disqualify workers put out of work as a result of a strike.

However, any disqualification imposed on Newfoundland loggers for this reason had been lifted as of March 15, when it was learned that the company involved was back on normal production.

The International Woodworkers of America went on strike New Year's Eve against the Anglo-Newfoundland Development Company.
