

"broad"?)

This model of society that has worked great for thousands of years has only served men and worked great in the minds of people like you. I think that feminists are not weak, but strong for standing up for what they believe in and signing their names to letters that they write. If you are serious and believe so strongly in what you write, why don't you sign your name? I think from the attitude put forth in your letter that it's you that has the chip on your shoulder.

The way it is Libby Whelan

Editor:

I would like to respond to your editorial in the March 19th issue of the X-Press.

First, I really wouldn't call what had been going on around our campus "fun". I happen to think that this is quite serious and I do not appreciate you making a joke of it with your patronizing attitude.

Secondly, as for the so-called "misunderstanding" of the students who ripped out the "Campus Women", this is simply not true. I happen to know exactly who these students were and one of their names appears regularly in the X-Press. This particular student knew exactly what she was doing. When asked why she was ripping out the "Campus Women" she replied "because the poster says to rip out the "Backlash" and we're pro-Backlash". Now, call me crazy, but to me that is confirming the belief that the Backlash is against women. How could someone confuse the words "Backlash" and "Campus Women"? You also know who this person is as it was called to your attention the day it happened. As for your job, I feel that you are abusing the power you hold as editor. I agree we should be "able to discuss these issues in an open and responsible manner" but I do not feel there is "a blatant overreaction" occurring. I am simply standing up for that I believe in and I do not believe that I should be subjected to material that offends me in a paper that I pay for. This isn't a students newspaper. It's Cory Large's newspaper and it holds all of his one-sided and egotistical opinions.

Finally, I would like to register my official complaint about the "Backlash" with you and I would encourage other students who feel the same to do likewise.
Libby Whelan

DEAR EDITOR,

I would like to respond to the letter that appeared last week.

Firstly, about "all this feminist business that is appearing in the X-press.." The Campus Women page is nothing new, it was started last year by a friend of mine Ella Holt. It was not started after, because of, or in response to the Backlash page. If some people would read the paper as often as they say many comments about Campus Women made recently would not have been said, simply because the people making the comments would then not exactly what they are talking about themselves and not simply repeating someone else's views, also these people would then see that there is nothing to fear from feminism (but I guess

Shady's

Lebanese & Canadian Cuisine
Family Restaurant — Licensed
Daily Lunch Specials

lunch, soup and coffee

Monday to Thursday $4.99

Friday $5.99

*Also serving other popular Lebanese dishes such as Falafel ($3.25), Shawarma ($4.99)
and Shish Taouk ($4.25)*

 Students receive 10% off main dishes*
(must present Student I.D. before ordering)*

*Located in the Ellis Bros./Sherwood Shopping Center
tel: 628-1919*