Mrs. MARY D. HUBBARD widow of Adam Hubbard of Webster, died in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Louis G. Clarke, at Worcester, Mass., on May 4th after a long illness. She was 64 years, 4 months and 27 days old, and was born in Prince Edward Island. She is survived by one daughter Mrs. Clarke, and three sisters, Mrs. John Scott of Webster, Mass., Mrs. Clement White of Charlottetown, P. E. I. and Mrs. Lizzie MacKay of Westville, N. S.

THE Tourist Association is in receipt of a communication from The North American Transportation Company, Quebec, requesting literature bearing on the attractions of Prince Edward Island as a Seaside Summer Resort. Their S. S. Restigouche will be the only passenger steamer on the Montreal—Sydney's C. B. and St. John's, Newfoundland route—calling at Summerside and Charlottetown this season. It is the intention to operate the route on schedule time and make the round trip in two weeks. The Restigouche is a modern steamer fitted with large and commodious state rooms, which are heated with steam and have electric light and bells. In addition to a large dining saloon, the steamer has a magnificent ladies' cabin and smoking room on deck, besides a spacious deck from which to view the scenery or enjoy a promenade. As the North American Transportation Company has ticket agents at all Summer Resorts in the upper provinces Prince Edward Island will no doubt be well advertised. Cuts of scenes on the island are being forwarded for insertion in the company's Traveling Passenger Agent, which naturally implies that a rush of tourists to The Garden of the Gulf may be looked for this year.

THE directory dispute is settled and Dr. L. A. McAlpine and H. M. McAlpine will publish the St. John book of names and addresses, while the McAlpine Company will have Halifax and P. E. Island. The case of the McAlpine Publishing Company of Halifax vs. Dr. L. A. McAlpine and H. M. McAlpine of the St. John was amicably settled out of court. The suit was the result of an announcement by Dr. McAlpine and his brother of their intention of publishing the St. John city directory this year. It was also announced that the subscribers of last year's McAlpine's directory had promised to subscribe to the directory of the McAlpines of this city. The McAlpine Publishing Company of Halifax brought a suit. The trial promised to be a costly one as witnesses were to have been brought from several parts of the maritime provinces.

MANY former residents of Prince Edward Island, but now of this state, met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dix, 38 Dartmouth Av. April 16th, the occasion being to welcome Rev. Daniel McLean of Mount Herbert, minister of the church of Scotland, who they were all delighted to meet. After a hearty hand shaking and friendly greetings, John C. MacEachern in behalf of those present briefly referred to the occasion, stating that they all felt delighted to have with them such a distinguished guest, and presented Rev. D. MacLean with a beautiful watch, as a slight token of the esteem in which he is held by them. Mr. MacLean feelingly replied in his usual earnest manner, thanking each and every one for the kindness extended to him. Needless to say that a pleasant evening was enjoyed by all.

From the American Book Co., New York, Cincinnati and Chicago. The Guardian has received a copy of Baldwin's The Golden Fleece. Issued in the series of Electric School Readings, and intended for use in the fourth and fifth years, the story of Jason and his adventures is here retold by a well-known writer for children. The tale itself is one that for three thousand years has given pleasure to men and children of all lands, and in this retelling newness is given to the old story. Many sources have been borrowed from, and additions or omissions have been made as seemed best for the purpose of the book. As now presented it forms a fascinating narrative of heroes and their fearless deeds, of grievous wrongs not wholly righted, and of a strange first voyage through the perilous seas. Baldwin's The Golden Fleece. More Old Greek Stories. By James Baldwin, author of "Baldwin Readers" etc. Cloth, 12mo, 288 pages, with illustrations. Price 50 cents.

The highest price will be paid for Quahaugs by Wm. Mombouquette, agent Plant Line, foot Queen Street. 27dtwlm
