THE DAILY EXAMINER.

JULY 15, 1889.

Notes and Clippings.

There are many who are neither little children, nor invalids, nor victims of great sorrow and trial, who yet insist on laying on others the loads which belong to themselves. In this way they also become hinderers instead of helpers.

The importance of teaching children to have a genuine love of country cannot be exaggerated. It is of just as much importance to teach them patriotism as geography. Children in Germany, France and other countries are taught all the national hymns, which they know by heart.

General Butler, in his recent address at the Colby University, strongly advocated the political annexation of Canada to the United States. It will be time enough for the American people to consider this question when the people of Canada desire such annexation, which is not the fact at present. Great Britain would be likely to have something to say on the subject. So says the Independent of New York.

The returns of British trade with Canada are fairly good. The exports to Canada during June decreased 10.82 per cent. as compared with June, 1888; the total for the half year, $2,439,694, being a decrease of 1.24 per cent. The largest decline was in horses. Imports from Canada increased 11.16 per cent. during the month, the total for the six months being $1,303,225—an increase of 10.53 per cent. The largest increases were in oxen, flour, cheese and wood. There was a large decline in wheat.

President Harrison, in the course of a recent speech, felicitated the United States on the fact that it is not beset by foreign and aggressive enemies, and said: "All the more should every thoughtful citizen consider how he may promote the public weal, how he may hold up our institutions in honor among ourselves, securing and promoting both in state and national legislation those measures which have best promoted, not individual, not special, but the general good of all the people." These wise words may be applied by the people of Canada as well as by those of the States.

According to Bradstreet's, there were 872 failures in Canada during the first half of 1889, as against 914 during the first half of the year 1888. The liabilities for the first six months of 1889 were $7,283,571 and assets $3,424,613, while for the same period in 1888 the liabilities were $8,789,705 and assets $4,006,950. Strange to say, while the failures in Canada showed a decrease, the contrary was the case in the United States, the failures there being 5,918 for the first six months of 1889 against 5,254 for the first six months of the preceding year.

The clouds begin to look dark in Europe. The Pope is said to have made arrangements to go to Portugal in case of war with Italy. The Czar of Russia is petting the young King of Serbia and is reported to have sent Russian officers to assist in commanding his army. At the same time the Czar is said to have remonstrated against the Rumanian Government's pushing the fortification work it has begun; and both Russia on the one side and Germany and Austria on the other, are trying to secure the adherence of Turkey in the coming struggle. All this is ominous.

Very few of our farmer sons ever think of taking a course at an agricultural college. Yet many, whose fathers are well off, might, with advantage, take such a course. The advantage would not inure to the student alone, but to all who may happen to live in his neighborhood. Every graduate of a real agricultural college who goes back to the farm and industriously makes an intelligent application of what he has had the golden opportunity of learning, practically establishes a home experiment station, which may be of incalculable value to his own vicinity. It is easier to follow example than precept. Many of us know something about the quiet revolution in farming methods that takes place after the advent of a live, progressive farmer in the midst of a neighborhood that has been plodding along in the old ruts. As soon as the new neighbor demonstrates the success of his improved methods, they begin to be adopted by the whole community, and gradually a marked change takes place. One scientific farmer can educate a whole settlement.

One or two disgusting matrimonial affairs in the United States have been made public the past week, which indicate some very loose and silly notions as to what marriage is. Two "Christian Scientists"—neither Christian nor scientific, though they took classes in Christian Science at two dollars an hour—concluded that their marriage was not made in Heaven, and agreed to separate. That was all the divorce they had or sought, and then Mrs. Plunkett took another husband; that is, she announced herself married to another man, the marriage being solemnized only by their own declaration and recognized by no law of God or man. It is not marriage by adultery. The other case is that of a physician of distinction who got tired of his wife and is seeking a divorce from her which is not so easy to get. Meanwhile, still married to his wife, uncertain of release, he seeks the company of the daughter of a prominent merchant, and puts himself in the relation to her of an affianced husband. Of course the position becomes awkward to her, and when her friends make a fuss about it, he takes her "under his own protection," to his own home, to her shame and his. This he calls "protection"—the protection the culture gives the lamb. There are strange notions of the family and of marriage abroad when such things can happen; and in such cases the tutorial power of the law might well give its needed enlightenment.

Good Work in the Interest of Our Agriculturists.

PROFESSOR SAUNDERS left here this morning for Ottawa. He arrived at Summerside, via Point DuChene, on Saturday evening, the 6th inst. On Monday he addressed a meeting of farmers at Summerside; on Tuesday at New Glasgow; on Wednesday at Charlottetown; on Thursday at Montague; and on Friday at Tignish. At all these meetings the Professor was heartily welcomed by the people. His excellent lectures on the Science of Agriculture were highly appreciated; and the useful and practical knowledge thus imparted on questions of vital importance to stock-raisers, farmers and fruit-growers cannot fail to produce beneficial results.

During his short stay of one week he employed his few spare hours in visiting such places of interest as Malpeque, Casumpec, Rustico, Hunter River, West River, Montague, Cardigan, and Bruderslet settlement. He also attended the public tea at Montague on Thursday last, where loaded tables and pyramid cakes indicated the prosperity of the people.

The Professor inspected native moss and peat exhibited by McLeod & Stewart, grocers, of this city, specimens of which will be forwarded to him at Ottawa with the view of ascertaining more fully their properties as absorbents of liquid manures. He paid a short visit to the richly laden garden of Wm. Brown, Esq., of this city, with its early ripening fruits in apples, pears, plums, gooseberries, etc., in great variety, and expressed much pleasure on seeing such practical evidences of the results which follow skillful culture. The Bishop's vineyard was also seen by the Professor, and it will, no doubt, in the interests of the grape growers of the Dominion generally, receive an extended notice at his hands. The Government Stock Farm and also the Stock Farm of Blake Brothers in Charlottetown Royalty were visited by the Professor. The 55 head of fat steers on the farm of Messrs. Blake, would he said, compare favorably with any raised in any part of the Dominion. The Professor particularly admired the Short horns and Ayrshires on the Government Stock Farm, and pronounced them a very superior lot. The spring calves are very fine and give promise of being fully equal to those of former years.

Personal.

Professor Saunders came from Tignish on Saturday and remained here yesterday. He left this morning for Ottawa.

Dr. McKay and Mrs. McKay, of Halifax, who have been visiting their friends in this city, left for home this morning.

Mr. W. C. DesBrisay, of Summerside, left this morning for Ottawa where he will take a position in the Civil Service.

Rev. Benj. Chappelle, M. A., left this afternoon for Summerside. He leaves the Island tomorrow, and will make short stays at St. John's, Toronto and the Pacific Coast, and take passage at Vancouver on August 9th for Yokohama, Japan, where he expects to arrive about 23rd August.

Odds and Ends.

We say a man has been "out on a lark" when in reality he has been out on a swallow.

Society is like a pie—the upper crust, the lower crust and the best part.—Binghamton Republican.

If the bride at a recent wedding in New York received $1,000,000 worth of presents as stated, it seems about time to bring to a close the discussion of the question, "Is Marriage a Failure?"

When Nansen, the Greenland explorer, arrived last fall on the west coast, near Godthaab, the first question asked him as a crowd of people came to meet the party was, "Can you talk English?" Even in Danish Greenland the English language seems to be as common a medium of communication as the Danish tongue.

Fight your own battle. Hoe your own row. Ask no favors of anyone, and you'll succeed a thousand times better than one who is always beseeching someone's influence and patronage. No one will ever help you as you can help yourself, because no one will be so heartily interested in your affairs. The first step will be such a long one, perhaps; but carving your own way up the mountain you make each one lead to another, and stand firm while you chop still another out. Men who have made fortunes are not those who have four or five thousand dollars given them to start with, but boys who have started out with only their willing hands to depend upon. Too many friends sometimes hurt a man more than none at all.
