By HAROLD KING
PARIS Reuters—Since the Geneva conference between Russia and the three leading nations of the Atlantic alliance, the defence organization of the free nations has been materially strengthened.

Let's Talk It Over

Mrs. Dorothy Peters' successful crossing of Northumberland Strait seems to have spurred on a lot of swimmers to repeat her achievement. Now that September is well on its way, and "The Melancholy Days" are just around the corner, the rush of eager hopefuls will perhaps not get out of Ontario where police guards have been overworked trying to keep up with their supervisory assignments. Literally hundreds of people in Ontario are determined to swim across some body of water, and grab a corner of the spotlight that shines so brightly on Canada's "Study of the Lake" Marilyn Bell, who drank on the U.S. side of Lake Ontario jumped into the water fully dressed, and without benefit of boat escort in a loudly proclaimed attempt to swim the lake. When the police pulled him out, he was highly indignant, claiming he could have made Toronto without getting up a sweat.

S'ide Man To Attempt Strait Swim

Alban Gallant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Gallant of First Street, Summerside and brother of Mrs. Dorothy Peters, Sydney, N.S., will attempt to swim from Cape Tormentine to Port Borden some time Sunday morning, thus accomplishing a feat that his sister, Mrs. Peters, managed to perform just a week ago. Alban has been getting some of the same expert navigation advice which his sister received. If he is successful, he will be the first of the male species to swim the strait, besides being the youngest. As Alban is only 17, he is a member of the Summerside Sea Cadets who are under the wing of the local Legion, and his swim is being sponsored by that body.

miles—substantially higher than has been possible with equipment in use until recently.

A new swept-wing jet photo reconnaissance plane, manufactured in the United States, is being delivered to the NATO air forces. It is called the Thunderflash and is the jet age's most up-to-date intelligence scout.

WIDE VISION The Thunderflash literally extends the eyesight of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization intelligence officers about 420 miles in any given direction and enables them to obtain, within minutes, actual photographs of military movements and installations made from altitudes of up to 10 miles.

Flying at such a height, a pilot over Passau, in West Germany, could see all of Czechoslovakia, all of Hungary, and Poland as far as Warsaw, as well as Western areas of Romania and the Ukraine.

A sister ship of the atomic-bomb carrying F-84F Thunderstreak, the Thunderflash enables allied intelligence officers to make day and night-by-night comparisons of photographs and detect tell-tale signs of the military build-up which would inevitably have to precede any considerable act of aggression.

The Thunderflash is different from the Thunderstreak in that the air intakes for its Sapphira J-45 engine are located at the roots of the wings instead of in the nose.

This leaves the entire nose of the aircraft free for the installation of varying combinations of some 15 day and night cameras and other devices.

A wire recorder enables the pilot to register on tape his personal impressions of what he is viewing. For example, he spots suspicious movements on the ground, he can record the direction, speed, dimension and other characteristics as well as the exact time of taking pictures and other observations which would be useful in interpreting the photographs.

Back Stretch

Harking back to the Frederickton track we find that on Thursday night, Sept. 1, Robert Bruce, owned by Newcastle Stable, Newcastle, N.B., and ridden by N. London, won the 3rd and 7th dashes with Swift Trick (Devlin) 2.7, Mt. Carroll (Harmen) 4.2, and the 3-year-old Barena Hanover (Creamer) 3.3. Time, 2.10, 2.11 2.5, just three-fifths of a second off his record.

We were also pleased to see that in the 4th and 8th dashes Skeller (Troy) owned by Bob Brown Woodstock, was 1.2, Colonel Dan, owned and driven by Bob Ryan, 3.1, Dominion's Fire, owned and driven by J.H. DeWitt, 2.3, Time, 2.10, 2.11.

The Little Brown Jug, the world's richest pacing stake for 3-year-old pacers, will be raced at the Delaware County fair grounds, Delaware, Ohio, on Thursday, Sept. 22. The purse for all time is $69,332. The purse last year was $69,332. The purses of all time, and it was won by Adios Harry, driven by Morris MacDonald, a Canadian. The time was 2.01 2.5, which is a record for the event. The track is one-half mile.

The first sale of yearlings from important breeding farms will be held during that race meet and will be followed by a sale at Lexington, Ky., during the trots there and later at Harrisburg. Last year the leading purchaser of yearlings was N. J., whose advisor is Thomas W. Murphy, a man who was the principal star of the Grand Circuit for many years. The Allwood Stable paid out a total of $141,000 for eight trotting and pacing youngsters.

Donner-up was Sol Camp of Shafter Cal., who paid $90,500 for seven head. He had previously won Camp was the top yearling purchaser and the Allwood Stable ranked second.

Included among the Allwood yearlings that were purchased last fall and trained this year was The they paid $35,000 for. He was the top priced yearling of 1954. They also paid $25,000 for Way Dream, the most ever paid for a yearling pacer filly, and $25,000 for Barlow Hanover, the most ever paid for an intruder, a colt by Scotland that the first foal of a mare. Camp's top price was $25,500 for Solicitor General by King's Counsel and he also paid $25,000 for Blythe Hanover, a Root Mon filly, which was a record for a yearling trotting filly.

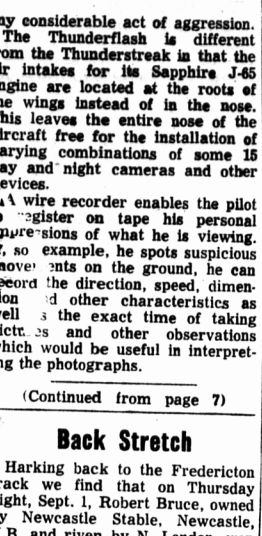

Other leading purchasers were Castleton Farm, Lexington, Ky. They paid $64,000 for ten head, Paul Wilcox, Chicago, Ill., who paid $37,000 for four head, Clearview Stable, Winthrop, Me., who paid $48,000 for seven head.

It will be interesting to glance over the results of the racing this season and note how the top yearlings mentioned above have fared in actual racing for the money. Some of them were a great disappointment and one of these was Solicitor General, but of course there are other yearlings to come and he might change his ways and become a future star. We hope so.

At Moncton races Monday afternoon there were two double dash winners, a spill and a photo finish for first place. Helen Hoosier owned by Laurie O'Brien and Driven by Laurie O'Brien, won the 1st and 4th dashes, best time 2.20. In the 2nd and 6th dashes Single Streak (Gaudet) was 2.1, Hal Alone (Austin) 1-2, Time, 2.16, 2.17 2-5. In the 3rd and 7th dashes Miss Carthy (E. Cormier) was 1-3, Miss Playfair (E. Goguen) dnf-1, Henry Day (Burbine) 3-2, Beaneary Boy (Grimes) 2-4, time, 2.16 4-5, 2.15 3-5. In was in the third dash that Miss Playfair, owned by A. J. Allan Moncton, and driven by Ned Goguen, was involved in a spill with Diana O. Grattan owned and driven by Val Goguen. Miss Playfair as will be noted, won the 7th dash but Diana O. Grattan did not start again. The 5th and 8th dashes were won by Abbeled (Jardine), Frankie Budlong (Goguen) 2-3, Tru Single G. (L'O'Brien) 5-2. Time, 2.12 2-5, 2.12.

Foxboro race meet is all over. It was a great success under Manager Walter Gibbons. Top racing all through, new attendance and mutual records and the fans all delighted with the new grand stand. A lot of the horses that raced there have gone to Maine's Pine Tree Circuit or Yonkers Raceway. Vernon Downs three-quarter mile oval is also closed. It, too, had a great season with many horses taking records over it. Principal mutual tracks operating now in the U.S.A. are Yonkers, Indianapolis, Maywood Park, Wolverine Raceway, Batavia Downs, Freehold and Harrisburg.

One of the pleasant victories at DuQuoin, Ill. was that of Egyptian Princess in the $7,350 breeders filly 2-year-old trot. The daughter of Victory Song, dam Egyptian Abbie, owned by the Clearview Stable, Winthrop, Me. and driven by Earle Avery, dropped the opening mile to Brenda Hanover from the C.W. Phellis stable of Green-

Sport Echoes From Prince County

It looks as if the R. C. A. F. softball team will have to sink or swim with this boy, Norm Haney. Cottrell did pitch a pretty good game, but couldn't quite bring it off. At that, we were rather surprised that Art Ballem held those R. C. A. F. hitters down so well. They teed off on the big boy, Harlinger, and we understood he was the ace of the Sunshine Dairy pitching staff.

We were talking to Elmer Matheson, one of the promoters of the proposed fight card to be held at Raceway Stadium on Saturday, September 24. He says the matching of Earl MacDonald who knocked out Don Trainor, and the St. Dunstan boy, Gaston Roy, is virtually assured. Ramsey will go with a colored boy named Turnbull, and it is expected that "Young Peanuts", Arsenault and Bobby Quinn will fight for the lightweight championship of Prince Edward Island.

Alban Gallant, brother of the recent conqueror of Northumberland Strait, is expected to try to emulate his sister's feat, sometime Sunday morning. He is being sponsored by the Summerside branch of the Canadian Legion.

Now that the new owners of the Charlottetown Forum have said they are definitely interested in promoting junior, juvenile, and the lower divisions of hockey, perhaps it will bring about a renaissance of junior hockey on Prince Edward Island. Fans of a few years ago the Perth Bluewings to Charlottetown, and the remarkable battle the home products put up. It is possible that with the co-operation of the Summerside sport heads, a three or four team junior loop could be formed here with the purpose of developing one good junior club for future competition.

Andrew Perry and his Bay State Pat continue to keep enthusiasm for their exploits at a fever pitch here in Summerside. The Pat horse has now raced in 2.02 3-5, and belongs with the elite of harness racing horse flesh.

As the summer recedes and the colder weather approaches, it begins to be apparent that Summerside hockey and skating fans will have to be satisfied with natural ice at Raceway Stadium for another year at least. It seems a great waste of such a fine building, but something has been started that no one seems able or willing to finish. No doubt there'll come a day. In the meantime, let us hope for a reasonably Jack Frostish winter in these parts come December, so our winter sports program will not be cut too short.

Some idea of the terrific speed performances over the fast half mile and mile tracks this season can be gleaned from the fact that 30 miles have been stepped in 2.00 or less. Not so long ago it took ten years to produce that number.

Last at the head of the stretch Diamond Hal and Joe O'Brien roared down the stretch at Batavia Downs half mile oval to land a thriller from B'Haven 1.59 3-5. Philip Scott 1.59 2-5 and others in the $15,000 Invitational Pace, Time 2.02. From there Joe hiked to Richelieu with Diamond Hal with the results given earlier in these notes.

W.W. Whitesides of North Andover, Mass. was a spectator at Vernon Downs last week and he received a great thrill when driver Bill Hazen won with Watchim's Angel in 2.04 4-5, one of the best performances of the season by a Massachusetts owned trotter. Watchim's Angel is by Watchim 2.06, owned by Alderman Frank Adams of Halifax, N.S.
