

Music Festival Presents Challenges To Contestants

Twelve successful years have established the Music Festival as an integral part of cultural education in our province. During that time interest has been growing steadily, until last year the number of entries rose to about 2300 with an estimated number of competitors over 8000," states Miss Helen Yeo, Chairman Program Committee, P.E.I. Music Festival Association.

"The variety of classes, open to many forms of expression, gives opportunity to contestants. There are the popular dance classes for both group and solo performers. Provision is made for groups from rural and urban schools. These classes include square, national, and novelty dances, the ballet, and tap dancing. Interest in this phase of the festival has been increasing each year. Classes in Gaelic singing offer a special attraction.

"Choral reading which is placed with dancing in the opening days of the festival is another form of artistic expression, bringing enjoyment to many boys and girls in the schools of the province. This type of group reading fosters an appreciation for the beauty of poetic language. Its value is comparable to that of group singing in that it develops the voice and brings pleasure to those participating.

"The main part of the festival is devoted to different phases of music. Vocal solos, duets, quartets, and choruses comprise classes open to beginners, to intermediates, and to senior contestants. The String Classes, the Brass and Wind-wood, and the Military and Brass Band sections provide for more variety in choice. Rhythm Band classes, permitting free selection by each group, give opportunity for creative ability. As usual piano classes are many and varied, offering encouragement to beginners and challenge to the more mature. In addition entries may be made by those who are interested in the organ. All necessary details are outlined in the 1959 syllabus.

"While prospective contestants, individually or in groups, are working with teachers, the Music Festival Association is preparing for the intensive work of the festival week. Very soon after the closing of the past season, the executive, with its many committees, began to plan for the coming season. This organized work will continue to the opening of and through the busy festival season.

"The syllabus has been in the hands of the public since January first. Highly qualified adjudicators have been engaged. Next will come the preparation of the program. This cannot be done until all entries are in. March 1st is the final date set for the receiving of entries.

HELEN M. YEO

The Association wishes that all who are interested may have the opportunity to be in his or her place during the days between April 27 and May 9. However, the arranging of the classes for so many hundreds of entries requires some time. Every contestant can help by sending his entry not later than March 1 to Mrs. Wendell Wood, Box 551, Charlottetown, or to Mrs. Wesley MacPhee, Summerside, P. E. I. (Prince County).

"As contestants, their teachers or directors, and the Executive of the Festival Association co-operate enthusiastically in this project, enjoyment will be shared and much latent ability given an opportunity to develop."

Higher Quality Potato Urged By Kings MLA

Potato growers of Prince Edward Island must pay greater attention to producing quality tablestock if they wish to maintain their traditional markets and develop others, Joseph G. Campbell (L-3rd. Kings) declared in the Legislature yesterday.

Continuing the draft address begun yesterday, Mr. Campbell reminded the members of the Island House that competition for the potato market was much greater today than ever before.

Only a few years ago Island tablestock commanded a premium not only in the local market but also in districts such as Newfoundland, Eastern Canada, Boston and New York.

This Mr. Campbell said was no longer the case. The modern varieties increased the normal yield to a considerable extent, but did not appear to keep well in storage, he asserted.

PEA PRICES

The member from Third Kings said that he could not understand how it was possible for canning companies to put Ontario peas on the local market at such a small retail charge, and pay their farmer suppliers a price that would return them any profit.

Hon. Mr. MacDonald: "The Bedouque pack sells for 2 tins for 20 cts."

Processing plants, like the one at Sherwood were necessary, Mr. Campbell observed, but he pointed out that prices paid must guarantee farmers a reasonable return.

Mr. Campbell commended the government's decision to pave this summer the Cardigan-Dingwell's Mill and the Dundas-Annandale - Fortune Bridge roads. Some residents of the latter districts were 20 miles from a railroad connection, he added.

Other paving projects that should command the immediate attention of the highways department were: the St. Peter's-Montague artery; the road from Peakes Station via Baldwin's Road to the Georgetown pavement, and the Queen's Road from Montague to the Trans-Canada Highway.

The Kings Liberal noted with satisfaction that the price of rough pulp had risen from nine dollars per cord at the roadside, general this past one and one-half years, to $11 and $11.50.

SHOULD BE $15

In his opinion, however, the market should warrant a price of $15 per cord at the roadside.

"If the buyers can pay this increased price now, why could

WKS Home And School Ass'n. Holds Meeting

A most interesting and enjoyable meeting of West Kent Home and School Association was held in the school on Thursday evening when pupils and parents gathered at seven o'clock for an hour of demonstration and entertainment. Although only Grades I, II and III took part it was one of the largest meetings yet.

Tom Lohian, president of the Association, acted as master of ceremonies for the following program:

1. Children of Other Lands, a demonstration of social studies by the pupils of Miss Alma Yeo's class.
2. Grade I Chorus - Bed-time.
3. Grade II Chorus and Rhythm Band The Children's Marching Song.
4. Tap Dance, Miss Cathie Edwards, Grade III.
5. Choral Reading, "The Woodpecker", Miss Gladys Taylor's class.
6. Grade II Rhythm Band, Conductress Miss Betty Anderson.
7. Grade II Parent's Rhythm Band, Conductress Miss Betty Anderson.

The last item on the program was a surprise to the performers as well as to everyone else and was thoroughly enjoyed by all. Mr. Mufgford directed and was accompanied for all the musical numbers.

After the completion of this program children, teachers and pupils met in the class-rooms for discussion and demonstration of class-room work.

Seven Appear On City Docket

Seven cases were on the docket in City Police Court Friday morning. Four city residents appeared on charges of being drunk and incapable.

A 20-day jail term was handed on a Grafton Street resident while residents of Kent and Dorchester Streets each drew fines of $10 and costs or five days. A fine of $5 and costs or five days was levied on a Dorchester Street man.

Failure to stop at a red traffic light cost two city residents fines of $10 and costs or five days each. Another Charlottetown resident appearing on a similar charge was fined $15 and costs or 10 days when it was noted that he had driven through a service station lot to avoid the light.

Magistrate K.M. Martin presided.

Hath Made Of One Blood All Nations . . .

Writer Elizabeth Yates tells the story of Amos Fortune, a former Negro slave who many years ago purchased his freedom and settled in a town in New England. When Amos attended church, he had to sit in a segregation gallery, and he never was allowed to participate in the observance of Holy Communion. He bore his hurt nobly and when he died left a bequest of his savings to the church or the purchase of a silver communion service that would be good enough for "the holy moment when all should be one." His last will and testament was lastly a judge of love upon his neighbors.

As we observe Brotherhood Week, it is sad to think that even in this day inter-racial intolerance and injustice abounds in spite of the many agencies at work to stamp them out. Even in Prince Edward Island, there are people who "look down" on those who are not of the Caucasian race, forgetting that as far as we know God's first contact with humanity was with those of a skin darker than ours.

The "Brotherhood of Man" can only come to pass through the power of God's word, which teaches the infinite worth of the individual. To this task the Bible Society is dedicated and to date has helped to supply the Scriptures in almost 1200 dialects and languages, to men and women regardless of color, race or creed. We help as we contribute to the Society and we also help when we make a purchase at the Bible House, the profits of which are used to further the work. (At this time is featured Easter material and gift items with a significant meaning.)

It is recorded in the holy Bible that God said "Let us make man in our image, after our likeness." It is self-evident that the image and likeness mentioned do not apply to the form and substance of a human being because the reality of divinity is not limited to any form or figure; nay, rather the attributes and characteristics of God are intended.
