here goes another 15 minute jobbie, from fingers to typewriter. life is not easy when the mind has no slight control over it.....

oodles of thoughts are scurrying through the gray mass of cells in my cranium for once, so i do not know quite where to begin.

the student union passed the revised recommendations presented by the restructuring committee sunday evening. the student union stands to save an estimated five thousand dollars next year by shuffling job duties of people employed by the student union. now it looks like we will have a president, a vice-president internal, a vice-president external, and a treasurer. look out acadia, we're taking over! a general cutback in permanent jobs will offer some students the opportunity to work part-time at the Barn in the coming academic year. however, even though the recommendations have the consent of council, it remains for the students to ratify the decision of council in the general meeting scheduled for tuesday 10 march. this issue cannot be debated if the quorum of 120 students does not put in an

Weighting Attention

Dear Editor,

Upon using the weight room equipment, one realizes its upkeep suffers somewhat. Concerned students who use the weights six times a week would like to see some improvement. Mainly, new pulleys and wires, oil, and if possible some new weights for we are outlifting the old ones.

We all pay our athletic fees the same and from what we have seen, none of it has been used on the weight room. The weights are just as important as any other mode of athletics.

Hopefully, this will gain some attention and help students in their weight training, and perhaps gain recognition in competitions.

Dedicated Weight Lifters.

this week, folks, we are proud and pleased as punch to present to you a SUN written totally by bodies which inhabit this campus occasionally. we did not find the need to fill in spaces with national news. now all we needed were our regular columnists who seemed to begin their march break early. look for our attempted spoof issue sometime after the break. if you at any time feel the urge to write something creatively madcap, give it to us and we'll put it in the spoof issue. the SUN has also felt the dearth (to use Terry Pratt's word) of submissions for a literary corner this year. does UPEI not have an imagination?

i hate inanimate objects. they make logical reasoning impossible when they feel like taking a break. our headline machine usually tries to make life difficult for us, but this week we conquered it! i'm sure that you are all so interested.

anywho, have a great march break, one that gives your mind enough free space to wander for at least one day or one week before you find yourself stuck back in classes.

have a funny week and be strong.

Engineers Outrage

Dear Editor,

Members of UPEI Engineering Society are shamed at what was seen on the front page of the SUN last week. Knowing that this paper is circulated through-out the City of Charlottetown and to its' sponsors, we are totally disgusted at this obnoxious, off-color humor of the editor. The Engineers strive to maintain moral standards for improvement of the community. We work as a society to uphold the credibility of each and every student. One glance at this sexually suggestive pornography has ruined years of our work.

Maureen, Maureen, Maureen..... where have we failed? Fixation at the sexually stimulating behavior is no excuse for liberal actions. Further illustrations of your perverted mind should be confined to locked bedrooms.

A warning - if anything of this nature should happen again the UPEI Engineering Society shall be forced to appoint its' own editor.

Sincerely,
A. Orford.

EDITOR'S NOTES:

- 1) i was shanghied into the photograph, and had absolutely nothing to do with its being on the front cover (therefore not an act of egomania)
- 2) a motley crew that has an "Island Mushroom Surrounded by Island Stones" sculpture as its major accomplishment for the year should not be so upset about the SUN's cover, and
- 3) you're all just jealous that it was only a stuffed mannequin, and i was not partying for once.....
