Exhibition Observing Its Golden Jubilee Will Be Bigger And Better Than Ever

Next Monday evening, August 14th at eight o'clock in the Pavilion, the Provincial Exhibition will be formally opened. It was in September, 1889, that a similar function was held in the Main Building, adjoining the Palace Pavilion, which inaugurated the first Provincial Exhibition. This year will be Golden Jubilee Year and great efforts are being made to have everything ready for an auspicious occasion. The Management feel certain that the 1939 Fair will be by far the biggest in the half century of its existence.

Extensive Plans Early this Spring plans were made to have Golden Jubilee Year outstanding all other years. A more determined effort has been made to secure exhibits and last year's record of 6,800 entries will probably be increased. A larger appropriation was made for vaudeville and entertainment so as to bring more people to the Fair and also give them better entertainment. Improvements were made to the grounds starting early in June. A new bleacher capable of holding two thousand people was built at the west end of main grand stand, and new seating accommodation plans are being made for the main grand stand. The vaudeville stage was enlarged until its frontage is now 67 feet and it was brought eight feet nearer to the track. Improvements to the lighting system and sound system were carried out.

Another building program which is now going on, is the erection of a new horse barn, repairs and improvements to cattle barns and the building of additional accommodation for vaudeville artists. These will number over forty and their housing has presented a considerable problem which this year will be solved. Racing days will be four in number, August 15th, 16th, 17th, 18th, and the $5,000 program will bring together over 100 of the best horses racing in the Maritimes and possibly some from the United States. There are 12 classes with three classes each day and as the track will be in lightning fast order records may be made; at any rate, fast time is assured in all classes. The usual prizes for owners, drivers, jockeys and groomers will be given.

Main Building The Main Building, one of the most beautiful structures possessed by any fair, is being decorated with the most artistic skill and an entirely new scheme used. Everywhere there will be a profusion of colored lanterns, lanterns and flags, colored lights and all that deft hand of an interior decorator can devise to make it a thing of beauty as well as of utility will be done. For its purpose and existence is to display the fruits, flowers, dairy products and industrial exhibits common to the Garden of the Gulf.

Planned on all sides are the booths occupied by the merchants and leaders of industry. More than ordinary attention will be directed to the floral competitions which were instituted by Lieutenant Governor George D. DeBlais, whose contribution has stimulated great interest in horticulture in many parts of the province.

Upstairs in the Main Building will be found the art, needlework, hooked rugs, household science, school children collections and many other interesting exhibits. Vaudeville Program Each year the Prince Edward Island Exhibition has been improving its vaudeville program and its vaudeville program is now the best in its history. No less than 14 acts will be shown, some of them of a high order.

Two Young Sisters Burned to Death PEMBROKE, Ont., Aug. 4.—(CP)—Two young sisters were burned to death last night when fire destroyed their farm home on Alouette Island, near here. They were Emma Chaput, aged six, and her four-year-old sister, Laura, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Chaput.

Three other Chaput children, Michael, eight, Leonard, three and Hector, two, escaped along with their cousin, Virginia Chaput, 17, who had been looking after them.

TRINITY UNITED CHURCH Both the Sunday services of Trinity Church were led by Rev. L. M. Murray who gave two very fine sermons. That of the morning was on the theme "Our Father" and was based on the text "He that has seen Me hath seen the Father." This address showed how the Christian's conception of God must be based on the character and teaching of Jesus and how much better the world would be if this conception were held to and followed out.

The evening address on the theme "Lord Pity Us," showed how we need the pity and love of the Father in every time of life. The choir under the direction of A. R. Kendall, organist, rendered two splendid anthems. In the morning "Teach me, Oh Lord!" Atwood—was sung and in the evening the anthem was "Evening Hymn." Mr. George Johnston sang with pleasing effect "Rock of Ages" during the morning service.

That Body of Yours. By James W. Dornan, M.D.

THE CAUSE OF BLUE MONDAY

Employers will tell you, and investigation will prove, that there are more absences from work on Mondays than on any other day of the week. Why? Just as soon as they are free for the week end many workers naturally feel that they are on a holiday and that the "regular" routine of the week must be broken. This idea of breaking the regular routine of work and life is excellent for a vacation—two or more weeks—but is not wise for a weekend holiday.

While there are some workers who engage in play—baseball, cricket, soccer, golf—there are more who use the weekend to simply eat and sleep. The sleeping or resting part is all right because many may need the rest, but eating, eating more than during the other days of the week, is what causes trouble.

During the working days of the week the food eaten is used not only to maintain or keep the body processes going but any food left over from the working of the body processes is used up by the work done about the office or factory. There is thus not much waste left in the body to be thrown out by the lungs, kidneys, skin, intestine.

What happens when more food is eaten, more rest is taken, and little or no work is done? The waste from all this extra food clog the liver, clog the intestine, clog the kidneys (not counting the energy of the body is expended in overcoming the effects of these wastes in the blood tissues. These wastes can and do tire the body as much as wastes created by actually working hard physically. The individual who eats more at the weekend and takes less exercise can be just as tired, just as ready to catch cold, as if he had become tired from working hard.
