UPEI/Tradewinds Intramurals report
No, it's not the Super Bowl. It's not the Bud Bowl, either. It's Mud Bowl II, and it's coming to a field near you. This Friday, October 14th at 2:00 PM, be ready for Co-ed touch (not that kind of touch, what kind of sick mind do you have?) football to be played on the pseudo-grass of the Blanchard Bowl. The Mud Bowl has a storied tradition dating back to last year, when (Ron Annear was visited by current sponsor John Labatt who said, "you know Ron, football would be a good intramural activity." The rest is history. For information, contact Ron Annear at the Fieldhouse, or call him at 566-0715.

Upcoming Games

The men's hockey team hits the ice at the Civic Centre versus SMU on Wednesday, October 12 at 7:30. They then head to the mainland for two games, playing Dalhousie on the 15th, and Acadia on the 16th.

The women's soccer team plays at home against Moncton on Wednesday the 12th at 4:00 PM, and against the Lady Xaviers of ST. FX on the 15th at 2:00PM.

The men's soccer team sees action away from home on the weekend of the 15th and 16th, as they play at MT. Allison on Saturday and against the UNB varsity Reds on Sunday.

The field hockey team has a pair of games at home against SMU. On the 15th they play at 4:00 PM, and they face the Huskies on Sunday at noon. Let's go out and give our Panthers some support both at the rink and here in the friendly confines of MacAdam field.

Sports Trivia

- 1) What NBA franchise had the most losing seasons in a row?
- 2) Who was the only player to steal home in a League Championship Series?
- 3) Who was the only player to smash two backboards in the same game?
- 4) Who was the only player to throw a no-hitter in a World Series?
- 5) Who holds the record for most minutes played in a NBA game?
- 6) Who was the only MLB player to finish his career with exactly 3,000 hits?
- 7) Who was the only player to hit .750 in the World Series?

Back on the Hardwood Intramural Basketball

Another season of intramurals is off to a rollicking start as five teams play in the highly competitive A division, while seven more make up the field in the evenly balanced B division. As the program-vendors say at ball games, 'you can't tell the players without a scorecard'; so, it's handy to get a good idea of what each league has to offer interested fans. Intramural basketball, it's fan... well, almost as good as Thru the Roof Thursdays.

A DIVISION

The rich get richer: the Fab Four core of last year's league champion Redmen Revival team have struck gold in the free agent market by picking up playmaker extraordinaire Darrell Glenn (a former Panther) to weave his magic on the hardwood. The revamped Redmen, now known as the Fightin' Blue Hens, feature a balanced inside-outside game with the post presences of Mark "The Milkman" Mullally, and 6'6" shotblocker Scott MacDonald (who loves to dunk). They can also bomb away from the outside with Peter MacKinnon (who can light it up from downtown in a hurry) and Chris Green, the king of dippy-doo moves.

Teams be aware, the Rabid Dogs are foaming at the mouth to play you. The Dogs have a dangerous scoring threat in last year's MVP and team captain Billy McMullin, who never met a shot he couldn't make. Another former All-star, the versatile Josh Weale, can score from inside or out with tireless enthusiasm. Daryll Williams, the self-proclaimed doctor of shake-and-bake, helps out inside.

The Flyin' Monkeys may not be able to fly, but they can put points on the board in a hurry. Led by an all-star guard trio of the speedy, trash-talking James Johnson, heady floor general Jeff McEntee, and perimeter deadeye Robbie Stewart, the Monkeys love to run the floor and are definitely not scared of throwing up the three. Expect solid play in the paint from leaper Rene 'Air' Wolfe and Robert Parish playalike Rob 'Fro' Irwin.

Last year's B division runners-up Jessie's Girls have moved up to the A league to try their hand. The sweet shooting duo of Scott Durling and Kris Saunders lead a mix of former Gray/Bluefield players into battle this year. Dale Conroy and Craig Knickle are a pair of ex-Colonels who provide perimeter shooting for the Girls. Watch out for the athletic Terry Inman on the fast break.

Unorthodox gym rat George Anderson won't be singing David Lee Roth tunes as he captains his Gigolos this year, but he will be firing away with both hands. Kirby Ferguson will be quick to point out Anderson's musical misdeeds while nailing the 15-foot jumper. Throw in Quebecker Stephan Blanchard to run the point, and you have a potentially competitive team.

B DIVISION

The enigmatic No Names will be looking to make a name for themselves as they appear to be the class of the B league. Bombardiers Dave Thomson and Jason Martell both love to shoot the ball from beyond the arc, as does Sean Fitzgerald. Student Union prez Andrew MacPherson will be counted on for leadership.

Marian Hall throws two teams into the league, with the Spartans and Wolverines (hmm...any Michigan fans out there?) trying to gain league superiority. Coached by the wily Joe Sullivan, Marian has plenty of bodies to put on the floor including Kristian Turner, Ian Marche, Brad Wyld, and Steve Ross.

If you aren't going the right way you must be going Wong's Way. Led by scoring sensation Colin Gallant (a former all-star) and slasher Marvin Mill, they hope to go the Wong way to the championship.

The wily veterans are back to defend their championship. Last year's league champion Old-Timers shall now be referred to as Alumni. Big man (6'7") Duncan Shaw will try to recapture the shape that once made him a member of the varsity Panthers. The surgeon of speed Todd Gaudin and the crafty Gordie MacKay will try to complement the team (and officials) with their outside shooting.

Doug's Boys are another collection of experienced athletes seeking to recapture past glory. David MacKenzie and Doug MacDonald lead them back from the office to the court. The youthful Chris Legge will be making many deposits in the bank this winter, as he can hit for fifteen points a night.

AVC, it's as easy as one-two-three. Well, maybe not, but at least the AVC can shoot a lot of threes. This bunch of future docs will try to operate on the other teams in the league.
