GRAIN

WINNIPEG, June 11 — (CP) — Rye gave the best display today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, closing higher in all positions. Seaboard buying contributed to the upturn. Oats fell lower as American demand dried up as the session proceeded. Shipper demand gave barley a firm tone and prices were higher at the close. Dealings in flour were dull with only small shipper orders noted. Prices closed lower. In export loadings of Canadian wheat, Japan took 1,100,000 bushels and the United Kingdom 300,000 bushels. Class two wheat and I.W.A. prices were up one-eighth cent from Saturday. Closing prices: Oats: July 84½; Oct. 85½; Dec. 84½. Barley: July 126½; Oct. 123; Dec. 120. Rye: July 209½; Oct. 191½; Dec. 189A. Flax: July 455; Oct. 425A; Dec. 422nt.

BALL PARK

$10,700, and asked if the City would consider meeting the light bill which would amount to approximately $1,800 for the three monthly season. It was suggested the installing of these lights would enable ball games to be finished each evening and might be the means of stopping Sunday ball as a consequence. Mayor MacDonald asked the Finance and Light committees to meet with Brig Reid to discuss the matter thoroughly. It was resolved by the meeting that lights be placed on the north side of Kent, to correspond with the south side, and also on Passmore Street, between Elm Avenue and Upper Queen; on Kent between Pownal and Rochford; on Oriear near No. 66; on Upper Prince near No. 27; on Cumberland between Euston and Longworth, and on Gay Avenue. In his report as Chairman of the Police Committee, Councillor C. M. Cox stated it had been agreed to grant taxis in the meter area operating five cars or more, two reserved spaces at $4 a month, at least than five cars, one space at $2.50 a month. Tire repair shops in the same area, one car space at $2.50 a month. During a discussion on the parking meters it was stated that cars are now parking on both sides of Fitzroy and Pownal streets and making it difficult for traffic to pass as these streets are only wide enough for three cars.

Other Business

The Council was notified of D. L. Mathieson's expiration of term as School Trustee this month and the appointment of a replacement was set aside for a future meeting. A request from the Maritime Electric Co., to purchase a fifty foot strip of land near Canada Packers, running from Richmond and Sydney, was also set aside. Councillor Keefe was the only Councillor to vote against the closing of the clay road running through Victoria Park, by the Athletic Field. It was stated that vehicles were travelling quite fast through that area and raising a continuous cloud of dust which was most unpleasant to those walking in the Park. This road was closed off last year and opened during the off season. Patching of streets is completed according to the report of Councillor Stewart, Chairman of Streets, and brief reports were given on Lights by Councillor Beaton, Finances by Councillor Prowse, Fire by Councillor O'Donnell, Market by Councillor Johnstone, and Property by Councillor Keefe. The proposed wooden welcome sign for the entrance to the City was discussed and Councillor Keefe stated it had been turned down by Mayor MacDonald as being too expensive. His Worship offered the suggestion that a neon sign might be erected. Councillor Stewart was advised by the Council that he might expend $900 on activities sponsored by the Council during Festive Week, and Councillor Johnstone read correspondence enquiring if assistance would be given by the City to the Playground Commission. The suggestion was made that it might be more feasible to withdraw all activities from the Squares and centre them in Victoria Park with a swimming pool as the centre of attraction. Also present at last evening's meeting were City Clerk James Fullerton, Chief of Police C. W. MacArthur, City Recorder K. M. Martin, and City Surveyor H. Messervy.

Resolutions

Resolutions passed by the meeting included the following: Moved by Councillor Johnstone, seconded by Councillor Beaton: That the east end of the Market basement, the portion unused by Mr. Tulle, be leased to the Co-operative Store for a period of two years, the Co-operative Store to renovate such premises at no expense to the City, and to pay a rental of $25.00 per month to the City of Charlottetown. The entire transaction to be agreeable to Mr. Tulle and the City of Charlottetown. Moved by Councillor Prowse, seconded by Councillor O'Donnell: That by reason of the Market's insistence upon a rate of four and one-quarter per cent, which is in excess of the rate anticipated by Act 34 Geo. VI Cap 36, the resolution of this Council of May 14, 1951, authorizing the issue of $250,000.00 Civic debentures be and the same is hereby rescinded. Moved by Councillor Prowse, seconded by Councillor O'Donnell: That the Finance Committee be authorized to issue debentures under the general borrowing power of the City's Act of Incorporation to the amount of $250,000 to be dated July 3, 1951, to be for a term of twenty years thereafter, to bear interest at the rate of four and one-quarter per cent per annum payable half-yearly, to be in denominations of $1,000 and $500 each, and to be in form hereto annexed. Further: That the sale of the said debentures to Bell Gouinlock and Co. Limited at 95.26 plus accrued interest be now approved and that the proceeds be deposited to the credit of the City in the Royal Bank of Canada.

"Further: That the consolidated Sinking Fund of the said City shall be annually implemented to provide for the retirement of all debentures hereby authorized at the maturity thereof."

Announces Change

The amendments did not go far enough. He said the Post Office Department could take the burden off the newspapers if it would place "really high rates on crime comics, sex magazines and trash of that kind." Mr. Rinfret said that last year "we gave a subsidy of $12,000,000 to newspapers and magazines." Newspapers and magazines were charged about $3,000,000 for service and it cost the Post Office about $15,000,000 to handle them. The newspapers will claim, he said, that the subsidy was not paid to them directly. "That may be true," said Mr. Rinfret. "They may have been paid for the purpose of the rural readers, but it is not true any longer. The circumstances surrounding the amount as large as the one that we did give last year $12,000,000—and the rural readers have benefited to that extent." The "subsidy" amounted to $11,000,000 in 1948 and $11,000,000 in 1949. "It has kept increasing all the time," he said. "With the estimate that we have at the present time, the present year . . . unless there is some change, will bring up a deficit of some $14,000,000 or $15,000,000 on the second-class category alone." In 1950, the Post Office handled 158,004,560 pounds of second-class mail, including approximately 70,000,000 pounds of daily newspapers.

It had been proposed to increase the rates on newspapers by $1,000,000 a year and on other second-class matter, such as weeklies, magazines and periodicals, by a similar amount. As a result of the amendments, the daily newspapers would pay about $190,000 less than originally proposed.

Mr. Rinfret said that in assessing rates for various newspapers or periodicals "we must take into consideration the strain being put on the Post Office by these various papers."

"Dailies of over 10,000 circulation entail the highest cost of any publication. Many railway post offices could be discontinued if no dailies were in existence. The daily newspapers have to receive top priority at peak work-load periods."

Gordon Graydon (PC — Peel) interjected: "There might be a lot of institutions which would have to close if we did not have the daily papers."

Mr. Rinfret: "One thing I am sure is that I would not have a $12,000,000 deficit, and I could pass that on to the rest of the population of Canada . . . It would be possible to reduce the letter rate to three cents from four for the whole of Canada."

Mr. Rinfret said that for every eight cents on newspapers and periodicals the Post Office now collects about two cents in revenue. Under the change "we will collect approximately 3½ cents for each eight cents we spend."

Mr. Drew said that in the amendments the Post Office was returning to the "idea of offering an inducement of some kind for news space as compared with advertising space." But the increase would still be substantial from existing rates.

He referred to Mr. Rinfret's suggestion that a "subsidy" is being paid newspapers by the Post Office.

"This is a provision with which the people of Canada can get newspapers at a rate lower than would otherwise be the case," said Mr. Drew. "I do not think for one moment that the Postmaster General believes that the newspapers across this country are going to absorb the increased postal rates involved in whatever amendments may be adopted."

"By virtue of the fact that a substantial part of their space is devoted to revenue-earning advertising, undoubtedly the newspapers will charge some of the increase to that advertising . . . I am sure that . . . the added cost is going to be added to the price ultimately charged for that thing the people are buying."

W. Chester S. McLure (P.C. — Queen's) said the new rates were aimed at the small dailies. The big metropolitan dailies had means of cutting such costs. He wanted to know what the new rates would cost the Charlottetown Guardian if installing charges.

Mr. Rinfret said he could not make an exact calculation without knowing the newspaper's advertising content.

PROMPT ACTION

"Two post-offices were closed in my constituency and if the Department had come to me in the first place and asked my opinion, they would not have closed them and then had to reopen them. I believe the department's source of information is not sufficiently reliable to warrant the closing of a post-office without first obtaining the viewpoint of those who represent the people." (One of the post-offices that was closed and then re-opened was Kelly's Cross, Mr. McLure said.) The Queens member further charged in the debate that postal employees had been let out from their jobs without a proper inquiry being made and "men have been dismissed for some political whim," he said. Taking issue with Mr. McLure on this subject, Mr. Rinfret said: "He (Mr. McLure) suggested that people were dismissed from the Post Office Department for political reasons or political whims, without any sort of enquiry. That may have been true some years ago, but it is not true any longer. The circumstances surrounding the dismissal of any person for these considerations are inquired into by a board appointed by the Department of Justice. It makes a report one way or the other. The Postmaster-General has no say in it, but has to follow the report of this board of inquiry." The Queen's member pleaded with Mr. Rinfret to give some consideration to Aubrey F. Brown, stamp vendor of Charlottetown who was being deprived of a considerable portion of his annual income through the introduction of stamping machines.

Mr. Rinfret said he was aware of the situation, but reminded Mr. McLure that Mr. Brown was not a Post Office Department employee but was a contractor for the department. He promised to review the file on Mr. Brown and give an answer at a later date.

would be "tantamount to a defeat for us psychologically."

State Secretary Dean Acheson, in earlier testimony, has said a truce at the 38th parallel would be acceptable if a "real settlement" in Korea could be achieved with guarantees against future aggression.

Wedemeyer thus appeared to back Gen. Douglas MacArthur's contention — with the administration has disputed — that the war in Korea is verging on a "bloody stalemate" with no clear-cut victory in sight.

Wedemeyer endorsed generally the tactics recommended by MacArthur, but went beyond them. MacArthur was fired from his Far East command for advocating what he did. (Wedemeyer is retiring at his own request.)

CANMORE, Alta. — (CP) — Rains and melting mountain snows have raised the Bow River level and are bringing surface wells back to normal, relieving the water shortage here. Policeman's Creek, a dry bed of stones for several months, is filling again as the spring at its source revives.
