(Concluded From First Page.)

dian enterprise grown lethargic and the progressive spirit of our forefathers become dormant in our veins? The industry that spanned a continent with a railway the grandest in the world; that has pushed it over the Rocky Mountains reaching an eminence of over five thousand feet; that has completed a marvellous system of canals, in comparison with which Europe shows but a feeble record, is surely not indifferent to those resources which have always formed the bone and sinew of great and mighty peoples.

The surest index of a nations greatness and prosperity is a constantly increasing commerce. Has Canada this distinctive sign? If the doubling of our exports in a quarter of a century be the progress required, or if a favourable comparison with prosperous nations be the criterion sought, then Canada's strength and future is assured. Although her total trade is small compared with many nations, yet her per capita commerce is equal to that of France, greater than that of the United States and nearly six times that of Russia.

If the development of a country depends on climatic influence and trading facilities, we have every confidence in the future of Canada. She is situated in the latitude that has ever witnessed the greatest physical and intellectual efforts of men and nations. She has a coast bordering on the two oceans, on which is carried the trade of the world. Her harbours are most commodius and adapted for all kinds of shipping. Rivers are as numerous as arteries in the human body, keeping the commerce-blood of the community in circulation and purifying by their regular course every part and tissue of the national frame. The benefit that they can confer on traffic is illustrated by an incident of the past.

When, over three centuries ago, Jacques Cartier visited our shores, he sailed up the St. Lawrence River to where the little Indian village of Hochelaga then stood and where Montreal is at present situated. Ascending the hill in the rear of the village, as he gazed out over the woods, mountains and streams, that stretched out before his sight, imagination borne on prophetic wings pictured the site before him as the "future emporium of inland commerce" and the "metropolis of a prosperous province." Full of enthusiasm he called the hill Mount Royal and an American historian relating the event adds: "Time that has transferred the name to the whole island is realizing his visions."

Whilst yet in her youth it would seem as if Canada had the same seaward fancy as her mighty mother, the "mistress of the seas." It is a significant fact that she, so young, occupies fifth place in the mercantile marine of nations, and, if registered vessels alone be considered, she has fourth rank and stands higher than the United States. Already in the number and tonnage of vessels the city of St. John has only three superiors in the whole British Empire, London, Glasgow and Liverpool. It was the English ships carrying the produce of the world that made England the emporium of trade and placed her foremost among nations. The same maritime inclination exhibited by her offspring, buoyed up by marvellous successes and protected by strong arms, indicates a similiar position yet for Canada.

And her government! That keystone of each and every peoples right or wrong. Protected by the mightiest country in the world, yet governed by herself, what foe, what country dare assail her? Modelled upon the monarchial system, yet adopting the blessings of the republics, she lies midway and, as Horace says, "in medio stat virtus." As free-born citizens of what can we complain? Sons of England in our actions, sons of England in our thoughts, there courses through our veins the blood of true Americans. Loyal to the land that forms our shield, loyal to our British institutions, and loyal to ourselves, our government, if not well-nigh perfect, is at least the best that can exist. Every civilizing influence, every advantage of modern statesmanship, and every benefit in the experience of modern nations, is found in this admirable embodiment of colonial self-government.

The Canadians themselves, what of them? Are they true, honest and worthy of their heritage? Back the answer quickly comes in the words of one of England's foremost sons:—"In Canada I found a hardy, intelligent, and industrious people, possessing the calm, cool judgment of the Englishman and the energetic spirit of the American."

Canada's resources are undoubted. It is but a question of time ere her treasures are thrown open for the worlds purchase. Handicapped as she is by the size of her population, regarded by foreigners, ignorant of her worth, as a land of cold and dreary waste, futile is her wealth, till the hardy pioneer has pierced her forests and by a glorious example broken down the barriers of ignorance and prejudice which ages have erected. Let the sterling sons of Canada turn their energy to the land that saw their birth, let the emigrants, that form a new-born country's hope, direct their thoughts to northern lands—and then, and not till then shall Canada taste of strength and glory. When, cleansing that current of human progress, casting aside the useless and carefully retaining the valued members of that human stream, her legislators no longer seek to avert the departure of her own sons, but refuse the unwelcome children of other climes—then shall come her hour of triumph.

Canada is yet in her infancy and full of promise. These mines, these fisheries, these woods, these agricultural tracts, will yet become our country's power. The national life is growing strong and vigorous. Patriotism is budding in the hearts of her people. They have become proud of their land—proud that she is the home of the oppressed and exiled of every nation—proud that she is a land of intelligent freedom—proud of her stainless history and the heroic deeds and victories recounted therein—and doubly proud of her magnificent resources and her indications of future greatness. In connection with our duty and our heritage Lord Dufferin in his last address on Canadian soil, uttered the sentiments of thousands like him when he said:—"Never has any people been endowed with a nobler birthright or blest with prospects of a nobler future. Whatever gift God has given to man is to be found within the borders of our ample territories, and the only obligation laid upon us is, believe in her honour, her work, live for her, die for her."

THAT ACHING HEAD.

What Causes It and How Overcome.

How often the remark, "Oh, my head aches," and there are so many varieties of aches and pains the head is subject to all along the line from the dull and heavy and oppressed feeling over the eyes to the persistent, racking and torturing misery of Sick Headache. The cause is in most cases the same, the overflow of poisonous uric acid is not extracted from the blood by the Kidneys, and accumulating in the blood, causes high and irregular pulse, headaches, mental depression and nausea. Chase's K. & L. Pills tone and restore the Kidneys, excrete poisonous matter from the blood, sending it on its way pure and health-giving, curing Headache, and removing all the attending symptoms from its wake. Mrs. G. Bird, Harriston, Ont., while attending the 1894 Fall Exhibition at Toronto, was taken very ill with Sick Headache and dizziness. She was subject to these attacks for years, compelling her to take to her bed. In this case by using Chase's Pills relief was immediately obtained, and the usual days of misery and prostration avoided. Thousands of such cases can be referred to where Chase's Pills have cured Sick Headache and its attendant symptoms. 25 cents a box, of all dealers, or by addressing Edmanson, Bates & Co., 45 Lombard St., Toronto.

AN ILLINOIS SENSATION.

A Lady of Union County recovers her Health in a Marvellous Manner

ANNA, Illinois, June 17.—A very interesting case of recovery from a complicated form of kidney trouble has taken place here, and the details are gradually being made public. The sufferer was Miss M. T. Loomis, who for a long time has been a victim to severe pains in all parts of the body. She consulted a number of doctors and was treated for a great variety of complaints, the diagnosis all proving faulty. At length she determined to try Dodd's Kidney Pills, having read and heard much of their efficacy and found her expectations justified in a complete cure.

Science Triumphant at Last..

Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil is the outcome of the latest scientific researches. There was always a prejudice against taking Cod Liver Oil on account of its disagreeable taste, but Miller's Emulsion is agreeable to the palate, and that is one reason why it has become so popular with the medical fraternity, the hospitals of the country and the households wherever consumption or lung troubles prevail. Miller's Emulsion is the great nerve strengthener and blood maker, and cures Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Scrofula and all Lung affections. In Big Bottle, 50c. and $1, at all Drug Stores.

Many a Young Man

When from over-work, possibly assisted by an inherited weakness, the health fails and rest or medical treatment must be resorted to, then no medicine can be employed with the same beneficial results as Scott's Emulsion.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

MOTHERS, Do You Know that Paregoric, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, many so-called Soothing Syrups, and most remedies for children are composed of opium or morphine?

Do You Know that opium and morphine are stupefying narcotic poisons?

Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labeling them poisons?

Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed?

Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle?

Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr. Samuel Pitcher, That it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is now sold than of all other remedies for children combined?

Do You Know that the Patent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have issued exclusive right to Dr. Pitcher and his assigns to use the word "Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate them is a state prison offense?

Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government protection was because Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmless?

Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 35 cents, or one cent a dose?

Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children may be kept well, and that you may have unbroken rest?

Well, these things are worth knowing. They are facts.
