

Concert Pleasant But Still No Controversy

By CHRISTOPHER GLEDHILL
On Sunday evening at the Confederation Theatre the audience listened to a relaxing entertainment by Joyce Sullivan and Jack Scott consisting of a sort of calendar of a typical middle-class Canadian family from the first day of spring to New Year's Eve and interspersed with songs arising more or less out of the narrative, which was read in a very pleasing unassuming way by Jack Scott.

The family, named Larkin, not to be confused with a very reputable English family of the same name immortalized by H. E. Bates, consists of Grandfather, Grandma, Father (chartered accountant and father), mother, son and daughter, and an uncle and aunt, not to mention the dog and cat.

The story is enlivened by touches of sly humor, and has (mutatis mutandis) a strangely Jane Austenish quality of being completely insulated from the turmoil of the contemporary world.

Miss Sullivan has a voice of a pleasant, slightly-reedy quality, very even throughout from low B flat to high F. It is not a big voice, and she wisely did not try to force it. There were one or two mannerisms—the pronunciation of certain diphthongs, and certain rhythmic distortions which undermined the stability of songs such as "Blow the wind southerly". There was also a tendency at times to close off the tone toward the end of phrases. These reservations apart, it was a sheer pleasure to hear her in many old favorites such as "I know where I'm going" and "She's like the swallow", where her feeling for the vocal line was sensitive and sure.

The accompanist, anonymous, performed his duties unobtrusively and efficiently. Once again, no program. Please, Mr. Moore, we would like something, even a mimeographed sheet.

It was once again a pleasant and bland evening, and without any disrespect to our charming and amusing entertainers I could not help hoping against hope that we might have the opportunity of hearing something controversial, something bitter, something harsh, to disturb our minds once in a while this golden summer.

CALM

(Continued from page 1)
spokesman said, is "a conservative estimate."

Entire blocks had been burned to the ground before an 8 p.m. curfew Saturday was ordered by California Lieutenant-Governor Glenn Anderson. It affected a 40-square-mile area covering about one-tenth of Los Angeles.

FIVE-YEAR-OLD DIES
Among new casualties was a five-year-old Negro boy, killed by a sniper as he sat on the front lawn of his home with his mother and younger brother, seeking relief from the muggy heat.

Of the total dead, all were Negro except for one Japanese-American and three whites, including a deputy sheriff killed with his own shotgun and a fireman caught under a falling and flaming wall.

Police said of the wounded, a third were shot by police, a third by national guardsmen and a third by unknowns.

Governor Edmund G. Brown, returning hurriedly to California from a vacation in Greece, flew into Los Angeles about two hours after the curfew was clamped on and announced he had assumed personal direction of the state's efforts to round up the terrorists responsible for looting, burning and sniping.

He said he wanted to "restore peace, make sure that this does not happen again, find out why this happened, and to work to secure a basic and lasting rule of law in this city."

He had already been promised full federal co-operation by President Johnson who said "rights will not be won through violence."

Under Brown's direction almost the entire California National Guard was diverted to Los Angeles.

The 14,000-man force includes 8,000 men of the 40th Armored Division, and 6,000 of the 49th Armored Division airlifted from northern California, points Saturday night.

LOCAL BRIEFS

CONVALESCING

Keith Taylor is convalescing at his home in Dundas Centre after being a patient in the Kings County Memorial Hospital for the past month, following his recent car accident.

RUBBISH FIRE

Charlottetown Fire Department answered a call at 5:30 p.m. yesterday to extinguish a rubbish fire on Queen Elizabeth Drive. No damage was reported. A second alarm was answered around 9:30 p.m., when a small grass fire in a vacant lot on John Street was extinguished.

MACKERAL CATCHES

A number of island fishermen have been landing some excellent mackerel catches off North River causeway lately. Some of the fish, which are reported to be running in great schools, weigh in the vicinity of one and a half pounds.

NEW RESIDENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Malone and family of two girls and two boys have recently taken up residence in Charlottetown. Mr. Malone is employed with Eastern Securities in Moncton from where he was transferred to Charlottetown. The Malones are residing at 4A Admiral Street.

GOLD CUP GIRLS

The Gold Cup and Sauter girls who will appear in next Friday's mammoth parade through Charlottetown's streets and also in the evening at The Gold Cup and Sauter classic at Charlottetown Driving Park will be guests of Rotary at luncheon at noon today. The eight attractive young ladies are: Patsy Lappin, Paula Campbell, Trudy Calbeck, Lorna Vessey, Helen MacCallum, Jane Hogan, Carol Foster and Rosemary Brown.

APPOINTED

L.B. Donald, formerly of Charlottetown, has recently been appointed district supervisor of group stores for New Brunswick by D.J. Hamm, president of Atlantic Wholesalers Limited. Mr. Donald was supervisor of Lucky Dollar stores on P.E.I. from their opening in 1958 until 1962. Since 1962 and until his recent appointment, he has been engaged in group organization in various parts of N.S. and N.B. Leigh is married to the former Olga Harris of Summerside. The couple have three children, Greg, Gayleen and Gary.

CALL PEACE TALKS

As the guard arrived in force, a peace conference was called for Sunday by Rev. Milton B. Perry, pastor of a revival centre in the heart of the riot centre. He invited community leaders and Negroes with grievances.

It was the first peace conference called since rioters took control of the Negro area.

In a Saturday night television interview, police chief Parker asserted "the so-called leaders of the Negro community can't lead at all." None proved effective during the rioting.

Parker said "mediators" encouraged the violence. He said Watts has a high criminal element but there were no racial disturbances there until the Negroes "were preached to by the politicians" and their own leaders.

Repeatedly during and before the riot the chief has denied a "vicious canard" charges of police brutality.

Negro psychiatrist Harold

Jones of the county's department of health said "most of the resentment" in the riot area "is against the city police, personified in the police chief, who treat these citizens as though they were of no consequence."

WAYNE AND

(Continued from page 1)
dates back to the 18th century. Details of the ceremony, to which the general public is invited, will be announced in fuller detail later, it was reported.

Since their return to Charlottetown a week ago they have been involved in intensive rehearsals for the stage show which opens Tuesday night at Confederation Centre Theatre. The performance is a benefit for the Junior Ladies Aid of Prince Edward Island Hospital.

The production will be repeated for a total of seven performances.

Outstanding and pre-eminent in their profession in this country, Johnny Wayne and Frank Shuster made thousands of friends last summer when they were here. Similarly this season they have joined in the festivities of Old Home Week in Charlottetown and will participate in the Gold Cup and Sauter Parade Friday and at the Exhibition Grounds in the evening.

Often asked why they remain in their country despite their international acclaim, they have replied they like to live in this country and to raise their families here.

NOVA SCOTIA

(Continued from page 1)
fair-goers is the Women's Institute building where displays of home-cooking, handicrafts, flowers and art work have been placed for competition.

The weather office has predicted ideal weather for the start of Old Home Week festivities. The forecast calls for sunny skies, and west winds of 15 miles per hour.

Today is expected to be slightly cooler than yesterday, with the mercury forecast to climb to a high of 75.

MORE MORE MORE HORSES IN SPOTLIGHT
Horses will hold the spotlight today at the Coliseum show ring at the Exhibition grounds here with Standard Breds, Roadsters and all draught breeds competing in their various sections.

The cattle show gets underway Tuesday with the steer classes and the inter-breed best-uddered cows being judged at 9 o'clock. The steers are to be sold immediately afterwards. Then the animals go to the packing plant to be slaughtered and judged on the rail.

Only 18 out of the 100 points are awarded the live animals, the other 72 points are on carcass judging.

Ayrshire and Holstein cattle will be placed Tuesday and the Ayrshires will hold their sale of breeding cattle at 8:00 o'clock Tuesday evening. There are approximately 20 animals for sale, it is believed.

Hogs will also be judged on Tuesday.

On Wednesday the Guerneys and Jerseys and the sheep classes will be placed.

On Thursday the Dual Purpose Shorthorns, the Scotch Shorthorns, the Herefords and the Angus cattle classes will be placed.

High Winds Don't Affect Ferry Runs

Despite yesterday's high winds, ferry services to the Island continued yesterday as usual.

The radio range said last night west winds reached a peak velocity of 48 miles per hour gusts yesterday about 4 p.m. Average wind velocity throughout the day was estimated at around 30 miles per hour.

A Wood Islands ferry terminal official said traffic was not unusually heavy yesterday. The two ferries were able to handle vehicles without making extra trips.

Development Of Park Is Centennial Project

GEORGETOWN — This town's 1967 Centennial project will be the reclaiming and development of Kent Square to make it a public square, beautified and landscaped as the original planners of the town probably envisioned it would once be.

This decision was unanimously taken at a meeting in the town hall Friday night attended by a group of citizens representative organizations.

One of the town's major organizations, the Women's Institute building where displays of home-cooking, handicrafts, flowers and art work have been placed for competition.

The weather office has predicted ideal weather for the start of Old Home Week festivities. The forecast calls for sunny skies, and west winds of 15 miles per hour.

Today is expected to be slightly cooler than yesterday, with the mercury forecast to climb to a high of 75.

MORE MORE MORE HORSES IN SPOTLIGHT
Horses will hold the spotlight today at the Coliseum show ring at the Exhibition grounds here with Standard Breds, Roadsters and all draught breeds competing in their various sections.

The cattle show gets underway Tuesday with the steer classes and the inter-breed best-uddered cows being judged at 9 o'clock. The steers are to be sold immediately afterwards. Then the animals go to the packing plant to be slaughtered and judged on the rail.

Only 18 out of the 100 points are awarded the live animals, the other 72 points are on carcass judging.

Ayrshire and Holstein cattle will be placed Tuesday and the Ayrshires will hold their sale of breeding cattle at 8:00 o'clock Tuesday evening. There are approximately 20 animals for sale, it is believed.

Hogs will also be judged on Tuesday.

On Wednesday the Guerneys and Jerseys and the sheep classes will be placed.

On Thursday the Dual Purpose Shorthorns, the Scotch Shorthorns, the Herefords and the Angus cattle classes will be placed.

Development Of Park Is Centennial Project

GEORGETOWN — This town's 1967 Centennial project will be the reclaiming and development of Kent Square to make it a public square, beautified and landscaped as the original planners of the town probably envisioned it would once be.

This decision was unanimously taken at a meeting in the town hall Friday night attended by a group of citizens representative organizations.

One of the town's major organizations, the Women's Institute building where displays of home-cooking, handicrafts, flowers and art work have been placed for competition.

The weather office has predicted ideal weather for the start of Old Home Week festivities. The forecast calls for sunny skies, and west winds of 15 miles per hour.

Today is expected to be slightly cooler than yesterday, with the mercury forecast to climb to a high of 75.

MORE MORE MORE HORSES IN SPOTLIGHT
Horses will hold the spotlight today at the Coliseum show ring at the Exhibition grounds here with Standard Breds, Roadsters and all draught breeds competing in their various sections.

The cattle show gets underway Tuesday with the steer classes and the inter-breed best-uddered cows being judged at 9 o'clock. The steers are to be sold immediately afterwards. Then the animals go to the packing plant to be slaughtered and judged on the rail.

Only 18 out of the 100 points are awarded the live animals, the other 72 points are on carcass judging.

Ayrshire and Holstein cattle will be placed Tuesday and the Ayrshires will hold their sale of breeding cattle at 8:00 o'clock Tuesday evening. There are approximately 20 animals for sale, it is believed.

Hogs will also be judged on Tuesday.

On Wednesday the Guerneys and Jerseys and the sheep classes will be placed.

On Thursday the Dual Purpose Shorthorns, the Scotch Shorthorns, the Herefords and the Angus cattle classes will be placed.

tees were appointed. The first was a fact finding committee and it is to report back at a meeting to be held Aug. 27. Chairman of this committee is Raymond Solomon and the other members are J.A.D. McConnell, Cyril A. Davies, Mayor H.S. MacLean and Harry Yorston.

An entertainment committee was formed consisting of Mrs. Walter MacLean, Jennie Baltholder, Alex MacPhee, Raymond Lavandier and Alex Arsenault.

Their duties will be to devise ways and means of raising money for the town, as the initiating agency to make the application before Oct. 31 for approval of the project. The amount of one dollar per head of the population must be raised in order to receive the grants of a 11k amount from both the provincial and dominion governments.

Blood Quota Reached For First Time

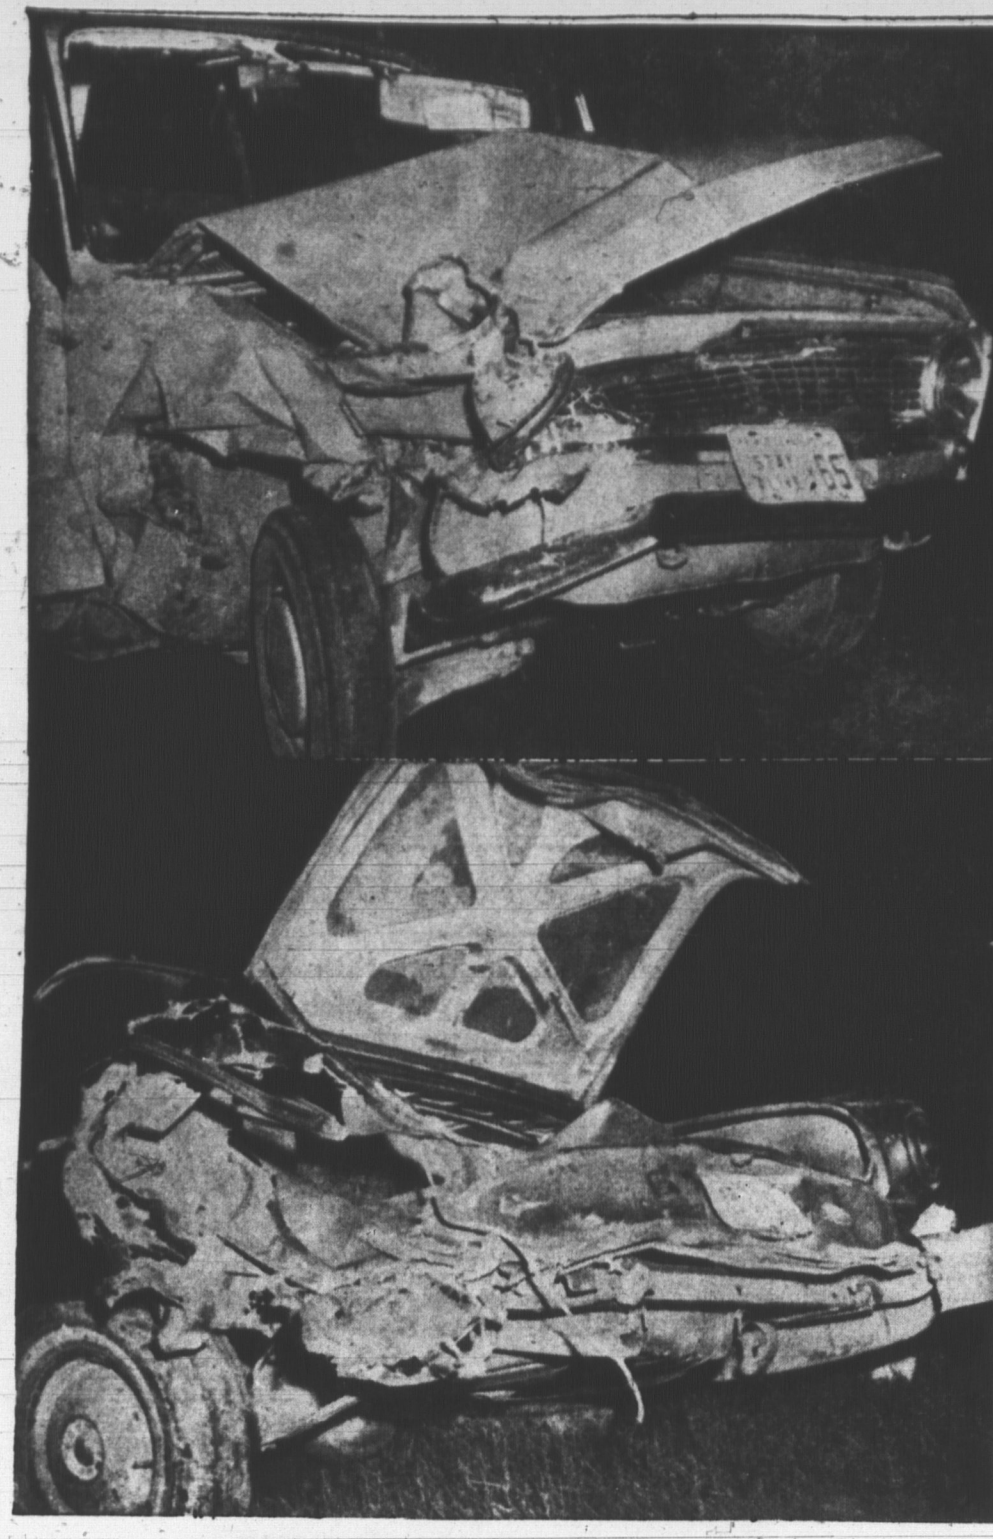

GEORGETOWN — The Royal Canadian Legion of Cardigan, citizens of this area of King's County, the Georgetown Lions Club and officials and employees of Bathurst Marine Ltd. have expressed pride in the fact that at Thursday's Blood Donor Clinic in the Cardigan Legion Hall the quota of 120 donors was reached for the first time.

Alban Brothers, chairman of the Cardigan Legion Blood Donor Committee, was loud in his praise of all who contributed to the success of the clinic.

The sponsors were the Cardigan Branch of the Canadian Legion and in Georgetown the Lions Club arranged for the donors from the town and industry and for their transportation.

Twenty-four employees of Bathurst Marine in Georgetown were given time off to participate in the clinic. Mr. Brothers was particularly pleased by the co-operation and effort of the Lion's Club and Bathurst Marine.

Members of the Cardigan Ladies Auxiliary served coffee and sandwiches to all those participating in the clinic.

THREE ACCIDENTS—12 INJURED

A total of 12 people were taken to Charlottetown hospitals as the result of three separate accidents in the Charlottetown area on Sunday Early Sunday morning shortly after one a.m. near Cherry Valley eight people were taken to city hospitals when the small English car seen in the top picture collided with the rear of the 1957 Canadian car, bottom. In the afternoon a three-ton truck from Nova Scotia collided with a car from Ontario at Cornwall and two more were taken to hospital. Last evening about nine o'clock a car went into the ditch on the Trans-Canada Highway at Churchhill and another two were taken to hospital. Many of those taken to hospital were released after observation, others suffered from minor lacerations and none are believed to have sustained any serious injuries.

Souris Day Camp Comes To Close

Souris Day Camp came to a close Friday when over 400 youngsters were tested for various swimming and lifesaving awards.

Two official presentation ceremonies marked the closing day: one in the morning and another in the afternoon. Both were held in the Canadian Legion Home where volunteer ladies under the leadership of Mrs. Roy Coffin provided refreshments.

John Mullally, Kings MP, who is a former water safety instructor, made the presentations.

In addition to Mr. Mullally, speakers at the morning program were William Acorn, M.L.A., Mayor Ray Leard of Souris and Winston Fudge, president of Souris Lions Club.

Afternoon speakers were Cyril Gallant, chairman of the water safety committee, Dr. Wolf Marold, representing Souris Lions, and Iphigene Arsenault, Red Cross commissioner.

A large number of the older pupils received Royal Lifesaving Society awards.

The camp, which was under the direction of the Red Cross water safety service, was a major project of Souris Lions Club. Pupils from over 30 districts, along with volunteer workers, came to the camp each day by bus.

Instructors were Patsy Judson and Blair Darrach, supervisors; along with Patsy Sinclair, Isabel MacNutt, Anita Gallant, Loma Burke, Norma Craig, Alan Picketts, Tom Bradshaw, John Webb, Mike Pickard and Larry Henry.

Yarmouth	51	66
St. John's	53	77
Albany	65	89
Boston	63	89
Tampa	74	89
Miami	73	85
Los Angeles	71	89

HALIFAX (CP) — The weather office says unseasonably warm air flowing into the Maritimes from the southwest caused temperatures in New Brunswick to soar into the nineties Sunday. Fredericton, the warmest at 95, upset the previous record maximum temperatures for August 15 by one degree. By contrast, temperatures along the southern coasts of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia were held to the 50s and 60s by chilling winds from the sea.

Drier and cooler air will push into most of the district, today, giving rise to sunny skies and temperatures generally in the mid to high 70s.

Regional forecasts:
Annapolis Valley, Northern Nova Scotia, Cape Breton, Prince Edward Island: Sunny and cooler. Westerly winds 15 diminishing in the evening to light. Low-high at Kentville 60 and 83, New Glasgow 58 and 77, Sydney 58 and 75, Charlottetown 60 and 75.

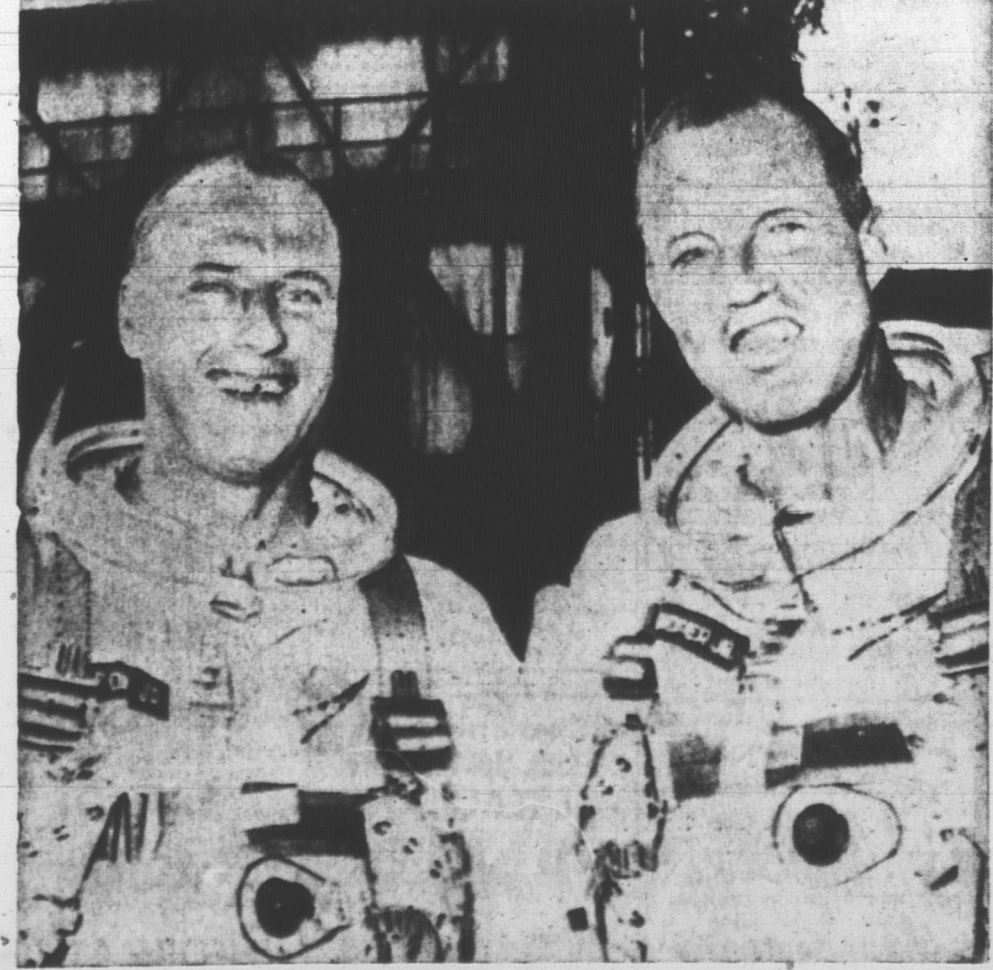

High tide today at Charlottetown 2:27 a.m. and 2:14 p.m. At Rustico 3:13 a.m. and 9:48 p.m. Summerside tide eighteen minutes later than Charlottetown. Sun rises today at 6:25 a.m. and sets at 8:08 p.m. All times ADT.

WEATHER

Regional forecasts:
Annapolis Valley, Northern Nova Scotia, Cape Breton, Prince Edward Island: Sunny and cooler. Westerly winds 15 diminishing in the evening to light. Low-high at Kentville 60 and 83, New Glasgow 58 and 77, Sydney 58 and 75, Charlottetown 60 and 75.

High tide today at Charlottetown 2:27 a.m. and 2:14 p.m. At Rustico 3:13 a.m. and 9:48 p.m. Summerside tide eighteen minutes later than Charlottetown. Sun rises today at 6:25 a.m. and sets at 8:08 p.m. All times ADT.

TORONTO (CP) — Observed temperatures:
Low Overnight High Sunday
Dawson 46 67
Victoria 56 68
Edmonton 50 72
Regina 45 84
Winnipeg 51 82
Toronto 67 94
Ottawa 68 90
Montreal 71 85
Quebec 65 86
Fredericton 60 95
Saint John 51 60
Moncton 61 87
Halifax 51 70
Charlottetown 61 80
Sydney 54 84

ASTRONAUTS CLOSEUP
Astronauts Charles Conrad, left, and Gordon Cooper posed for this closeup after a day of training for their eight day Gemini 5 orbital flight starting at Cape Kennedy Fla. Aug. 19. (AP Wirephoto)

Parkview DRIVE-IN THEATRE BRACKLEY PT. RD.

Tonight and Tuesday Show at Dusk

IT JUST DIDN'T FIGURE... that they would... that they could... that they did!

MIRISCH PICTURES & ROBERT WISE PRESENT

ROBERT SHIRLEY MITCHUM MACLAINE

TWO FOR THE SEESAW

The immortal Hank Williams lives again, sings again...

Your Cheatin' Heart

A FOUR LEAF PRODUCTION in PANAVISION®

Hear these great Hank Williams hits!
COLD COLD HEART • HEY, GOOD LOOKIN' • LONG GONE LONESOME BLUES • YOUR CHEATIN' HEART • JAMBALAYA • I SAW THE LIGHT • KAWLIGA • ROLL ON PETE • JUST WAITIN' • RAMBLIN' MAN

GEORGE SUSAN RED ARTHUR HAMILTON OLIVER BUTTONS O'CONNELL as Hank Williams

NORTH RIVER Drive - Starts in Tonight

THE COUNTRY DRIVE-IN Sturgeon

ALAN ROSSANA LADD PODESTA SANTIAGO

FROM WARNER BROS. IN WARNERCOLOR

LOYD NOLAN TONIGHT ONLY

Admission 75c; Children Under 12 Free

★ ★ ★ ★ ★

STARTS TODAY—SHOWS 2.30-7.9

Join us in Istanbul—we'll cut you in on the theft of the century!

MELINA MERCOURI PETER USTINOV MAXIMILIAN SCHELL

COLOR UNITED ARTISTS CAPTOL Topkapi (where the jewels are!)

Return Engagement SOON Mary Poppins