

NEWS of the WORLD in PICTURES

DR. J. C. CALLAGHAN
Two Toronto heart surgeons, described what may be a cure for many types of heart disease to the cardiac surgery forum of the Clinical Congress of the American College of Surgeons at Boston. The device, developed by Dr. J. C.

DR. W. G. BIGELOW
Callaghan and Dr. W. G. Bigelow, is a pacemaker which compels the flagging, ailing heart to a normal beat, by means of flashing spaced impulses. Their invention, they say, has prolonged a controlled beat for as long as 20 minutes.

John Madsen shown with his wife and daughter Karen, has started "Happiness College" in barn on his property. There are 24 farm boys and girls in the course and college is run on non profit basis.

Mrs. Marjorie Hamilton, a 51-year-old widow, who has been an alderman in Barrie, Ont., for past three years and has dabbled in politics, municipally, provincially and federally since 1936, defeated former Deputy-reeve C. J. Griffin in mayoralty election to become first woman mayor of Barrie. Besides holding down an alderman's job Mrs. Hamilton, who has two grown-up sons and a daughter, is also secretary - treasurer of the Centre Simcoe Progressive Conservative association.

Communists in China are promoting the attitude of studied intolerance to westerners, is the experience of Dr. and Mrs. William Bruce Arnup, recently returned from Chengtu, in western China. The Communist government, they said, had rigid control of the people through the well-disciplined army, and though the people had not accepted communism without reservation, there was little resistance. The couple, medical missionaries, returned to their Toronto home when it became apparent that their Chinese friends were under suspicion by associating with them.

HAPPY REUNION — The Duke and Duchess of Windsor exchange warm greetings in a reunion aboard the SS Queen Elizabeth in New York after his return from Europe. The royal couple laughed off rumors that their marriage, for which the Duke gave up the throne of England, had become shaky.

Plans for defending Europe in the event of an enemy attack are discussed by chiefs of staff of the North Atlantic treaty countries as they meet in London. They agreed on proposed organization of a European army, including German soldiers, to be commanded by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. In the group are, left to right, Sir John Slessor, Britain; Adm. Forrest Sherman, U.S. chief of naval operations; Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther acting U.S. chief of staff; Gen. Baele and Gen. LeBoutte, Belgium, and Gen. Foulkes, Canada.

Another woman to make political history was Mrs. Helen McKenzie, a housewife and mother of two teen-aged daughters, who became the first woman reeve in the history of the town of Beaverton, Ont. Mrs. McKenzie, who for the past five years has been a councillor said she ran for office because she felt women have a place in municipal affairs.

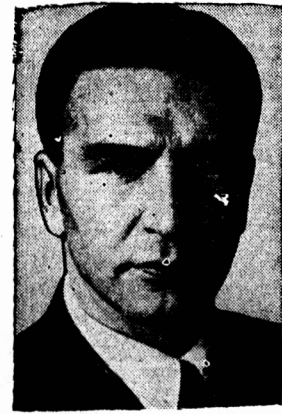

When Mrs. Kathleen Hughes was visiting Dublin, Ireland, last year she met Elizabeth Ann, right. She already has two boys of her own but since she "needed someone to protect her" from all the men in her house, she and her husband adopted Elizabeth. They went back to their home in Roblin, 275 miles from Winnipeg, and a few days ago, after a 5,000 mile trip by air, two-year-old Elizabeth arrived, happy but hungry, to be greeted by Brian Hughes, nine, her new brother.

One of a series of vast underground caves in North Korea, large enough to hide an enemy regiment, gets a close inspection from Lieut. H. Lanier of Greensboro, N.C., and Warrant Officer Elmas Williams of Alexandria, Va. Communist troops use the caves as hiding places and infiltrate U. N. lines under cover of darkness.

EVACUATION DAY — Supplies and equipment of the 10th Corps await loading aboard ships at Hungnam, as 60,000 U.N. troops in northeastern Korea got underway. The troops had fought their way 30 miles from the Chosin Reservoir area to the port. (Photo by NEA-Acme staff correspondent Ed Hoffman).

Ken Harris, Toronto business consultant, has been appointed director of the federal trade department's new steel division. In charge of the government's steel controls, he will be faced with a critical steel situation that threatens to close up some civilian factories unless more steel can be channelled into Canadian industry. Steel controls, banning the sale of steel for non-essential construction, will go into effect Jan. 1.

ROOM FOR CONTEMPLATION — With the shadows of world conflict hanging particularly heavy over the U.N. delegates at Lake Success now have access to a newly-opened "meditation room." The 20-foot square, dimly lighted room, decorated only by small flags and a pot of ferns, was opened to UN officials and the public alike, in response to many pleas by religious organizations.

For the first time in history a Canadian play, "Ti-Coq", with a Canadian cast, is heading for the big time — an engagement on Broadway. The Shubert brothers, U.S. producers, in conjunction with a group of businessmen, are underwriting the play for $70,000. "Ti-Coq" will appear in Toronto before going on to Chicago and then New York. Gelinus, writer, producer and director of "Ti-Coq" (above) stands to make $16,000 a week if play is a hit.

Play will hit Manhattan in February. Two in the cast are Clement Latour and Denise Pelletier. "Ti-Coq" is a simple story of habitant life. Fridolin is referred to as the "French-Canadian Charlie Chaplin." He named own terms for New York showing.

Peter Fraser, a Scottish cobbler's son who became New Zealand's prime minister, passed away in Wellington, N.Z., at the age of 66, after suffering from bronchitis and a bad heart. Fraser, who led New Zealand's former Labor government through the crucial war years of 1940 to 1949, was known as an opponent of poverty and unemployment at home. He was a vigorous spokesman for the small powers in international affairs, and was largely responsible for his country's social-security system.

Reported to be the most powerful cancer-destruction apparatus of its kind in the world, a giant two-million volt projector is demonstrated at the Hospital for Joint Diseases, New York, during dedication ceremony. Taking part in the demonstration are (left to right): Dr. S. Dolan, president of radiology, Nurse Felice Ervine, acting as patient, Nurse Yolanda Leone, and Dr. Milton Friedman, therapist.