

refusal of a Colonial Minister. I, Sir, would never submit to such dictation, but would take my position on the higher grounds of my right as a British freeman.

But how small must those people feel who, borne yesterday on the swift pinion of awful vengeance, were ready to stoop on the unhappy quarry, but see now that it has found safety under the sure protection of a British Minister, and under cover of constitutional liberty!

Four Days Later from Europe. HIGHLY IMPORTANT FROM CHINA. WAR RESUMED! SERIOUS ACCIDENT TO THE GREAT EASTERN.

The following highly important despatch was received at the Merchant's Exchange Room late last night. The resumption of the war in China by the people of that country against both France and England, will, in all probability, bring matters in Italy to a speedy settlement; and the ships of those two mighty nations, England and France, instead of being employed against each other (as was supposed) would be the case in a short time will now be combined and directed against a common enemy.

A serious accident has happened to the Great Eastern, which, in all probability, will cause a delay in her departure for this side of the Atlantic, until next year. The despatch does not state whether the accident had occurred on her way outward or homeward, or where she was at the time the City of Baltimore left.

Per Telegraph. MERCHANT'S EXCHANGE. Halifax, September 27, 1859. The steamer 'City of Baltimore,' with dates from Liverpool to the 14th inst., passed Cape Race on the 24th inst. The Chinese have resumed the war. They prevented the allied squadron, with their ambassadors, from entering the Peiho.

MARKETS.—Wheat has advanced. Provisions quiet. Sugar steady. Tea, common congou, ls. 4l. to ls. 4 1/2. Consols 95 1/2 to 95 3/4.

THE ACCIDENT TO THE PERSIA.—The steamship Persia, which sailed from Liverpool for New York on the 3d inst., broke the crank pin of the port engine on the 2d, when she laid to under canvas until the 7th, and, having repaired the damage she proceeded. She had 232 passengers. A gentleman who came passenger in the Persia described the storm in which she was disabled as most terrific. Her crank pin was broken on Monday evening, about 10 o'clock; she lay to until next afternoon, in hopes the storm would abate so that she could repair, but finding no improvement in the weather, it was decided to put back for Cork. After proceeding in that direction about 100 miles the weather moderated, the breakage was repaired, and the steamer was put about again. When she again reached the same latitude in which the disaster occurred, she encountered another storm more terrific than the first, but ploughed her way through it, uninjured, excepting the crushing of one of her wheel-houses. The Persia had the heaviest freight she has ever brought.

A man named James Clark was recently murdered at St. Stephen's, N. B., by another named Bowyer. It appears that the two men became engaged in a quarrel on the public street near the Toll Bridge, when one of them drew a knife and stabbed the other, which produced death in a few minutes. The two worked together in Mr. Perkins's lath establishment during the summer, and were on friendly terms until within a few days past, when it was discovered that some ill-feeling had arisen between them from some cause. After dinner on the day the deed was committed, they were seen together on the street. The deceased asked Bowyer to go and drink with him, which Bowyer refused to do; this was followed by Clark striking him, when Bowyer produced a dirk knife and stabbed his assailant in the heart. A physician was immediately sent for, but the stab proved almost instantaneously fatal.

THE GREAT DRAWBACK ON LABOR.—A new view of the subject. It would be interesting to know the amount of productive power annually withdrawn from the sum total of human labor by sickness, and the amount annually restored to that sum total by medical treatment; but the details connected with such withdrawal and restoration would be of still greater interest, could they be ascertained. With such information before us we might determine the relative values of the medicines in use, and, rejecting the trash, adopt and administer only the true specifics. In some of the unhealthy districts of India, where at certain seasons a large portion of the population is prostrated by fever and other complaints indigenous to a climate alternating between extreme heat and rain—statistical inquiries of the kind suggested have been made, and the results disclose the remarkable fact that HOLLOWAY'S remedies are decidedly the most reliable medicines in all diseases of this class. It is stated that of the persons using them in the first stages of sickness, very few have found it necessary to abandon their daily avocations; and that of the sick who resorted to them in the crisis of their disorders, a greater number have been cured than by all other preparations combined. Assuming, in the absence of rebutting testimony, that this statement is true, the immense popularity which Professor Holloway's Pills and Ointment has acquired in the West Indies, and other tropical climates, is not surprising. The prestige of their reputation in England, and her far and wide spread colonies, as well as in the United States of America, may have favorably introduced them, but as we find them at the expiration of a quarter of a century the leading medicines in all parts of the world, the conclusion that their fame has been self-achieved is inevitable.

Presuming that our readers know what is good for them, and can distinguish a remedy from a poison, or a medicinal negative which does neither good nor harm, we congratulate them on their sagacity in adopting two advertised curatives in preference to sticking to unadvertised abortions, which have no claims to consideration except those of age and precedent. We have, as becomes us, a most devout respect for such monuments of the past as are entitled to it, but with the slightest veneration for the antiquities of error, within which category a multitude of regular prescriptions are included.

To CORRESPONDENTS. "L. C. M., Lot 1," will appear in our next. We have received a second postscript to "Mentor's" last letter, in reply to "Junius," of the Monitor, which, having given the first postscript, we will endeavour to make room for it in our next No.

FRIENDLY ADVICE. The last Islander, after descending at some length on the probability of low markets this fall for agricultural produce, concludes by advising those who have any surplus produce, to dispose of it to the merchants at the price they offer, rather than wait until the spring. Very kind of the Islander. Whilst daily appreciating the advice, the farmers of P. E. Island will bear in mind that the editor's brother and the proprietor's father-in-law are the principal purchasers of produce in Prince County, and if the Islander can persuade the farmers to sell them their grain at their own price, if it don't benefit the farmers, it will benefit those whose interest it evidently has infinitely more at heart.—Com.

Sufferers from Scrofula and Scrofulous affections, clean up! Why wear your pimples, blotches, ulcers, sores? Why have the life twisted out of you by dyspepsia, rheumatism and gout? Why suffer syphilitic and mercurial diseases to rot the bones in your body, or the flesh off your bones? Why let your sluggish blood drag, and scatter its distempers through your veins? AYER'S COMP. EXT. OF Sarsaparilla cures these complaints and cleanses them out of the system. Use it faithfully, and you bring to society a healthier, cleaner, and far more acceptable member.—Democrat, Baltimore, Md.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS. The sciences of Chemistry and Medicine have taxed their utmost to produce the best, most perfect purgative which is known to man. Innumerable proofs are shown that these Pills have virtues which surpass in excellence the ordinary medicines, and that they will unexpectantly upon the esteem of all men. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood, and expel disease. They purge out the four humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart a healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take; and being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief were they not substantiated by the most exact and careful observation, and so forth the suspicion of anath. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to certify to the public the reliability of my remedies, while others have sent me the assurance of their conviction that my preparations contribute immensely to the relief of my afflicted, suffering fellow-men. The Agent is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing directions for their use and certificates of their cures, of the following complaints:—Constipation, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Headache arising from a foul stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Morbid Action of the Bowels and Pains arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Ulcerous and Cutaneous Diseases which require an evacuant medicine, Scrofula or King's Evil. They also, by purifying the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would not be supposed they could reach, such as Deafness, Partial Blindness, Neuralgia and Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the Liver and Kidneys, Gout, and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions. Do not be put off by some unprincipled dealers with some other pill they make more profit on. Ask for AYER'S PILLS, and take nothing else. No other they can give you compares with this in its intrinsic value or curative powers. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it. Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER, Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass. PRICE 25 CTS. PER BOX. FIVE BOXES FOR $1.
