Holidays mean different things to different people. Take, for instance, May 24th holiday, honoring Queen Victoria's birthday. Some will treat it as a day of relaxation. Others will take in a ball game. But to most, it means dusting, waxing, polishing. For it is the day to spring clean the house.

Brilliant 3-Act Comedy Presented At Baptist Hall

A large audience was in attendance at the Baptist Church Hall last evening to witness the first performance of the B.Y.P.U.'s presentation of "Nobody's Home."

Under the direction of Mr. Syd Jeffrey, characters were well cast, and climaxes in each act were put over very well. Outstanding among the performances given were those of Windsor Brehaut as Jefferson D. Belton, and Margaret MacEwen as Sarah Staples. Mr. Brehaut has a very easy going stage manner which lent itself admirably to the role of the nine stoned chain king, and Miss MacEwen's portrayal of the elderly, deaf, solitary player, was extremely well done. Miss MacEwen's costumes were worthy of special mention, being entirely in keeping with the role of the character she played.

Make-ups for the entire cast were very capably handled by Miss Lillian Lewis of the Little Theatre Guild. The well-balanced cast included Allison MacRae as Frank Harrington, Gordon MacEachern as Budge, Keith Robinson as Mike, Mae Robinson as Vivian Staples, Kenneth Yeo as Nelson Hanby, Ena MacEachern as Anna Larsen, and Jeanette Ladner as the feather-brained June Witmer. Music between the acts was provided by Misses Barbara Ruperi and Nancy MacNevin who sang "What Can the Matter Be?" and "Quicksilver." Mrs. A. MacRae was accompanist and also played a group of piano selections. The play will be repeated this evening.

Sees Flood Scene As Indescribable

"Conditions in Winnipeg were indescribable" was the way Mr. R. G. Taylor commented on his trip through Winnipeg enroute home from a visit to his son Jack at Edmonton, Alberta. Mr. Taylor, who has been away the past two months, said it was impossible to put into words the devastation and havoc wrought by the floods in southern Manitoba. "It was something desperate," he stated.

Although he was only there a matter of minutes, for it was impossible to leave the train, Mr. Taylor had some idea of the devastation caused by the flood from the view of flooded buildings and evidence of a battle by residents to beat back flood waters with emergency dikes of sand-bags.

Field Men Start On Civic Survey

Four field men will start today gathering details on properties in Charlottetown for the City Board of Assessors. The main purpose of the Board is to gather together all information on city property so that correct valuation can be given for tax purposes.

The four field men will work in pairs, one of each pair being a student engineer, and fully qualified for the work which they are undertaking. Field men have been instructed to show credentials when making calls, and to ask permission of the property owners in order that they might make records of their findings with the least possible inconvenience to anyone. The field men are courteous and congenial, and the co-operation of the public is requested by the Board.

Consisting of Chairman W. S. Grant, E. Belcher and A. E. Baker, the Board of Assessors have a big job on their hands which will take some time to complete. Each city block is being taken separately, and is shown in a separate diagram, to ensure full coverage. Each piece of property is to be described in full detail on forms carried by the field men, the information then being transferred from the form to a card system. All buildings are to be measured, and information as to construction and condition will be kept on a permanent record in the City Hall. Construction details will include exterior and interior finishes, even to such items as type of floors and finish used on interior walls. By this method it is expected that as accurate an evaluation as is possible will be arrived at.

Government Support

Also strongly urged is the amendment of the present Children's Protection Act to provide for the entire maintenance costs of children committed to the care of the Society by the court under the terms of the Act. Pending this action by the Legislature, it is proposed that the Government give an undertaking, as it does under its own Child Welfare Branch, to pay the maintenance costs of all wards and appropriate for them out of government funds.

"If the Government is not prepared to give such an undertaking," the report states, "reorganization of the Society would be doomed to failure before it started." It is also proposed that the Government guarantee a contribution towards the operating expenses of the Society, on the basis of one dollar from Government funds for every dollar raised privately for child welfare, as a means of encouraging local initiative.

Adopted Unanimously

The meeting was presided over by the President of the Aid Society, Rev. G. Carlyle Webster. It was well attended by representatives of the clergy of Charlottetown, Protestant and Roman Catholic orphanages, service clubs and other welfare organizations. The meeting formally adopted Mr. MacKinnon's report unanimously, and decided to wait on the Government to enlist its support in underwriting the cost of maintenance and assistance in administration as set forth. There was considerable discussion during the reading of the report by Mr. Hart, and many questions were asked and answered in a satisfactory manner.

Speakers heard from included Hon. Dr. W. J. P. MacMillan, former president of the Society, Major T. E. MacNutt, Mr. Brawders, Major Alan Nicholson, Mr. John Green, Miss Francis Johnston, Rev. J. T. Abbott, Mr. Arthur H. Duvau, Mr. J. R. MacMillan and a number of others present. A vote of thanks was tendered Messrs. MacKinnon and Hart in connection with the report.
