Receive Full Privileges Of Canadian Citizenship

"You are entitled to all the privileges of Canadian citizenship, and with it, all the responsibilities", Judge C. St. Clair Trainor told two natives of the Netherlands Friday afternoon as he issued Canadian Citizenship Certificates to them. The two new citizens are Gerrit Loo, of Springfield, P.E.I. and Lammert Van Omme, of Marshfield (Little York), P.E.I. Both young men are married and are farmers.

Representatives of the British and Foreign Bible Society, the Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire and Catholic Women's League attended the impressive ceremony, each presenting the new citizens with a memento of the occasion. Prior to the official ceremony, Rev. T.H.B. Somers, representing the Bible Society, presented each candidate for citizenship with a Bible, on which they later took the oath of allegiance.

OATH OF ALLEGIANCE

The prospective citizens were presented to Judge Trainor by Albert Dinnis, Clerk of the Court, following which they repeated the oath and accepted the certificates and an accompanying letter of welcome from the Minister of Citizenship and Immigration from Judge Trainor.

Following the administration of the oath of allegiance, Judge Trainor reminded the new citizens that their loyalty was now to the Queen of Canada, and advised them to obey all laws and respect those in positions of authority. Emphasizing their responsibility as citizens, Judge Trainor noted that "it is the little acts of little people in everyday life that make a great country. It is your duty to take part in elections, and you will be privileged, on Monday next, to cast your first vote as Canadian citizens - I know that in the years that lie ahead, you will be good Canadian citizens."

Judge Trainor and Rev. Mr. Somers then paid tribute to the memory of the late Harry E. Miller, who had attended similar ceremonies in his capacity as representative of the Bible Society, and Rev. Mr. Somers spoke briefly to the new citizens, reminding them of the Christian heritage in Canada. Each new citizen then made their new status possible.

Representing the I. O. D. E. were: Mrs. J.E. Burnett (Earl of Hillsborough Chapter); Mrs. G. Stewart MacKay (Lucy Maude Montgomery Chapter); and Mrs. John B. Murley (Royal Edward Chapter). I.O.D.E. Naturalization Greeting Cards were presented by Mrs. Murley.

Catholic Womens' League representatives were: Mrs. Fred MacMillan and Mrs. J.E. Flemming (St. Dunstan's Basilica); Mrs. Alan MacDonald and Mrs. P. J. Ready (Holy Redeemer); and Mrs. Percy MacDonald, (St. Pius X, Parkdale), who presented C. W.L. Certificates.

Pupils' Work To Be On Display

A casual preview yesterday of the work on display at Rochford Square School confirmed the belief that the pupils in Grades I to IX are taking their training in sewing, weaving and art, serious with an appreciation of the opportunity which is theirs to learn under highly competent teachers.

The advance in skillful production from the attempts of little fingers in the first grade to the amazingly competent hands of the pupils who have run the gauntlet throughout, gives a quick picture over the years of study and what may be acquired by diligence and application.

Dry Cleaners NOTEBOOK

BY: P. R. McCORMAC

Whenever I see a suitcase I'm usually reminded of the joke about Pat and Mike taking a business trip together.

When they got to the hotel, Pat began unpacking his suitcase and Mike noticed that his wardrobe included just two socks —one of them red, the other green.

"Now that's an odd-looking pair of socks you have there," Mike remarked.

"Odd, is it now?" Pat asked indignantly. "Why, I've another pair like that at home!"

Now I'm sure most people don't get quite as confused as Pat did when they take a trip. But it is disturbing—especially for a dry cleaner like me—to see the way some people throw their clothes into their suitcases.

I suppose that packing that way is faster; but unless there's some real point to saving the extra 60 seconds it might take to fold a suit properly, what's the hurry?

One way of eliminating a lot of the last minute confusion of packing is to make a list of items to pack, then tick off each item as you pack it. This saves rummaging through an almost-packed suitcase to see if such-and-such is already packed.

And another good thing to remember is this: Don't live out of your suitcase when you get to your destination. Hang up all your hangable clothes in a closet, and you'll find many of the wrinkles they acquired will disappear overnight.

Packing clothes into a suitcase is never the best thing in the world for them, so it pays to take whatever precautions you can against unnecessary rumpling and wear-and-tear.

Joint Political Meeting Held At Hall In Souris

Three speakers, J. Watson MacNaught of Summerside, the Liberal candidate for Prince, Melvin McQuaid of Souris, president of the Progressive Conservative Association in P.E.I., and Hon. Dougald MacKinnon, a member of the Provincial Cabinet, supported candidates John A. MacDonald, Progressive Conservative and Thomas J. Kickham, Liberal, last night at a joint political meeting at Souris.

The chairman was Francis White.

Mr. MacNaught, parliamentary assistant to the Federal Minister of Fisheries, was the first speaker. He said Mr. Kickham knows the problems of the farmer and fisherman and his appointment as United Nations observer for Canada showed the high esteem in which he is held by fellow parliamentarians.

The speaker referred to the Federal expenditures in the Province during the last four years. He said that while three and a half million dollars went to Ottawa in taxes thirty million dollars returned to this province.

Mr. Melvin McQuaid said the rights of Parliament had been tampered with during the pipeline debate, and declared "this must not continue."

Agriculture in this Province is in a serious condition, the speaker said, and went on to say that it was indeed "time for a change."

Hon. Dougald MacKinnon, Minister of Industry and Natural Resources, predicted a bright future for this Province and for the fishermen and farmers of the Souris area.

He was followed by Progressive Conservative candidate John A. Macdonald who dealt with the Province's financial situation. He said he supported Premier Matheson's position in critizing the Federal members for the shabby treatment received recently by this province from the fedeal Teasury.

M. Kickham, Libeal Candidate was the final speaker, outlining the advantages of having a Liberal Government at Ottawa. He referred to the large amount of money spent in King's County, especially by the Federal Department of Public Works during the past eight years.

Annual Meeting

Bennett in delivering his annual report to the Association.

"Next year it may be necessary to provide a two-day festival in the eastern part of the Province," he added.

The president noted that the sum realized from admissions at this year's festival was down considerably from other years. Unseasonable weather and TV competition were thought to be the major factors contributing to this loss of revenue.

"On the other hand the large increase in our membership and the increased revenue from entry fees more than offset the reduced admissions, so that our overall financial condition is quite satisfactory," he said.

The Association President expressed the gratitude of the organization for the financial support given them by the provincial and municipal governments, and many firms and individuals through out the Province.

Mr. Bennett also paid tribute to the many "volunteer workers" who assisted in the Festival effort.

"As long as we have such a fine band of volunteer workers we need have no fears about the future success of our Island Festival," he said.

In addition to the Executive Officers named at last night's meeting the following Conveners of
