Anthony Eden Returns To England; Urges Unity

LONDON. (Reuters) — Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden returned home Sunday with a warning that Western nations can only make the most of present opportunities for world peace by being solidly united.

Tanned and seemingly fit, he made the statement to reporters after arriving by plane from the United States, where he had a major operation—the third this year—for a gall-bladder ailment.

Eden, 56, flew to Boston June 5 and was operated on five days later at the Lahey clinic there. He convalesced from June 29 at the acre Newport, R. I., estate of retired newspaper publisher John Barry Ryan.

As soon as he and his wife, Clarissa, stepped out of the plane, they were greeted by the Marquess of Salisbury, acting foreign secretary, who told his chief: "The Korean truce is to be signed tomorrow."

"That is wonderful news," Eden said. "It looked as if it was in the bag when I left Boston last night. It will open up possibilities for further negotiations toward peace."

But he added that "world events are now in a fluid position. I would say that opportunities can now only be realized if we maintain the unity of the free Western nations."

Asked about his health, Eden beamed and said his doctors in Boston had told him "all well." But he said he would have to have a further period of convalescence, including several weeks at his wife's cottage in Wiltshire and a vacation on the sunny Mediterranean. He hopes to be back to work by the end of Parliament's summer recess.

Eden looked his dapper self, but didn't fill out his suit the way he usually does. He explained that during his illness his weight had dropped from a normal 161 to 140.

18 Auxiliaries Attend W.M.S. Rally At Cornwall

A successful Summer Rally of the Woman's Missionary Society of the United Church of Canada was held in Cornwall United Church with Mrs. J. D. MacFarlane of Crapaud presiding.

The evening worship was conducted by Mrs. Earl Rodd, Mrs. Heber Hardy, Mrs. Lloyd Gillespie and Mrs. Orville Turner, members of the South Winsloe Auxiliary.

The devotional theme was "Light in the Darkness." Hymns sung were "This is the Day of Light" and "Jesus Shall Reign Where'er the Sun." A poem entitled "Your Mission" and the Sermon on the Mount was used as a text for the meditation.

A warm welcome was extended to the visiting delegates by Mrs. Harry Crosby. Mrs. C. Newsome presided.

Roll call by Mrs. Charles Hyde showed 18 Auxiliaries represented. There were over 90 delegates and friends present.

Members of the Cornwall Mission Band sang "Jesus Loves Me". The Presbytery treasurer gave a satisfactory half-yearly financial report. There were increased givings during the first quarter to the amount of $500.

Mrs. Hazen Howard, Presbytery president, introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. J. K. MacInnes of Sackville, N. B., who brought an enlightening and interesting report of her attendance at Dominion Board. She likened the session in Toronto to a woven thread having but three strands—(1) Reports of the secretaries; (2) Plans for the future; (3) Inspirational these were reports of Missionaries on furlough about their work on the mission fields.

She said women do not think and talk about mission work in the same way as men. Herein lies the secret in procuring more and greater membership and also to provide interest for youth that may inspire them to give life-time service in missions. In stressing the needs of the church, she said, the heathen nations can be approached through kindness and humility, friendliness and love.

Reports of secretaries unable to be present, were read by delegates: Supply, Mrs. Walter Boyle; Stewardship, Mrs. J. P. MacFarlane; Mission Band, Mrs. Harry Hyde; Community Friendship, Mrs. Allison Tait; Temperance, Mrs. Watson Livingstone.

Baby Band Secretary, Mrs. Erith Hughes reported one new band organized, while the mission band gave the encouraging report of having four new bands organized.

Mrs. Clarence Murcheson favored the audience with a beautiful rendition of "Jesus Lover of My Soul".

Mrs. Allison Tait had a splendid literature display—books and pamphlets for all phases of our work. Many delegates availed themselves of the opportunity of purchasing the Study Books, as well as other missionary literature.

Mrs. Frazer, Montague, gave her report as Associate Members Secretary. Mrs. Guy Pierce, Brackley, urged the press secretaries to avail themselves of the opportunity open to them in the daily papers, space freely supplied but for the asking.

A large collection was received for the furtherance of the mission work.

The closing devotions were by Mrs. Hazen Howard. Benediction was by Rev. Goudge of Pownal.

Scout News From Jamboree

The P. E. I. contingent of Scouts to the Second Boy Scouts Jamboree held in Ottawa from July 18th to July 26 had a good beginning by being allotted a special car from Charlottetown to Ottawa—as we thought—but at Moncton we had to change, so the Scouts who had thought mattresses were supplied for Scouts to sleep on, found they were really for the train crew and some of the Scouts had to sleep on bare boards in bunks.

However, we were cheerful about it and soon after arriving at Moncton our train was joined by two cars of Scouts from Newfoundland. As we were so late in arriving we could not get out to even stretch our legs but went to bed in our cars and had a good night's rest.

In the morning our cars were attached to four cars of Scouts from Nova Scotia and we were on our way; as we passed Newcastle, New Brunswick we joined us, thus making a complete train of eleven cars of Scouts, three of baggage and one to cook meals and two used as dining cars, thus making a complete train of 17 cars of Scouts and equipment.

As we had the right of way over main trains we made fair time but owing to several other specials and the regular through trains being split up in sections to accommodate the residents of the big cities trying to escape the heat, we were delayed at stations so they could pass, thus making it late for our arrival at Ottawa. One of our waits at Levis was for 1½ hours, being at 2 a.m. Some boys were awakened and looking across the river they saw the marvelous display of Quebec as it is up both in the city and along the shore by myriads of electric lights. One Scout woke the other until the whole car was in commotion with the marvelling of such a sight. As we were tired we went to sleep again without much trouble.

Our case on the train and the sun rose high over the Quebec landscape, and in looking out we passed miles and miles of level farm land, many crops of grain and fields of hay being cut. As the tracks ran to the rear of the farms we could see some splendid farm buildings up in the distance, but our best view was long narrow farms with snake rail fences, and a long pipe of the grey soil must have been a contrast to some of the boys who had never seen anything but our red fertile soil.

It also would be strange for all the trees were hardwood and only occasionally would we see a spruce, pine or fir. The train on its journey passes many lakes, following the course of large rivers, some of them filled with pulpwood waiting to be towed to the mill to be ground into paper.

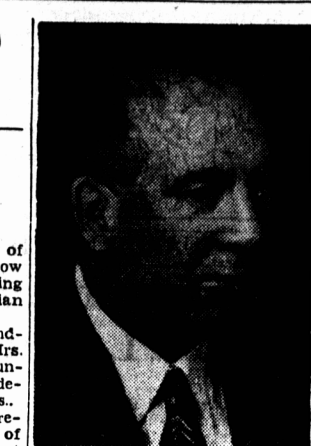

I guess they never heard of fishing as we do at home, for mile after mile of streams would pass by and the only angler we would see was our tall-legged friend the crane.

We arrived in Ottawa and detoured near the Ottawa Range where the jamboree was held. A short march brought us to our camp site and after an excellent lunch of sandwiches and milk we prepared our camp site and had our camp established in time for the evening meal. We rouse cooks at 6:30 and at 7:00 a.m. for camp breakfast with a cereal, bacon or bacon and eggs and milk.

Lunch at noon is an early prepared meal of salads and canned meats and milk; the evening meal generally requires a little preparation and cooking. As this is strictly a camp of good fellowship, the quicker the boys get the place tidied and dishes washed the keepees is very brisk, and don't be surprised if some boy from some other province goes home naked and a P. E. I. Scout comes home with a T-shirt with the emblem of that Province on it.

Sunday was a quiet day of good fellowship, holding councils of camp fires and visiting other groups. Monday was our big day, the whole camp was marched to the Arena where we were to be inspected and addressed by His Excellency, the Governor General Massey. We were most fortunate for we were formed up right in front of the platform on which the Governor General would give his address.

He arrived on time and the car he was driving in, passed along the long line of Scouts formed up in horseshoe fashion in the Arena. After this inspection he ascended

Insufficient Evidence To Indict Soldiers

WASHINGTON. (CP)—Congressional investigators, capping a story of wartime intrigue and murder in Italy reported Saturday there is sufficient evidence to indict two former United States soldiers for the 1944 slaying of a major. But, the report added, there is no legal way to prosecute them.

A two-man House of Representatives armed services sub-committee said a careful review of evidence "clearly reveals that probable cause has been established against Aldo Icardi and Carl Lo Dolce for the murder of Maj. William Holohan" in Italy in December, 1944.

John Courtney, sub-committee counsel, defined "probable cause" as a legal term meaning sufficient evidence for indictment. An indictment does not establish guilt, however, until all the facts have been weighed by a jury.

Icardi, of Pittsburgh, Pa., a lieutenant, and Lo Dolce, of Rochester, N. Y., a sergeant, parachuted with the New York major behind German lines in northern Italy in September, 1944.

Their secret mission, for the office of strategic services, was to determine which of several Italian partisan groups, including Communist groups, should be aided with supplies.

The sub-committee report said Holohan was slain by poison and pistol shot, in a climax to a controversy with Icardi over giving the Communists more arms. Holohan refused to supply Red partisans but "Icardi felt that it would be better to co-operate with the Communist group."

Arrest Pair In Broadway Scene
NEW YORK. (AP)—Actor Lawrence Tierney and an ex-boxer, Mike Sands, 24, were arrested Saturday for making ferocious pugilistic gestures at each other on Broadway. A crowd of about 200 people watched curiously as the 34-year-old film bad man hurled his coat to the pavement and exchanged menacing insults with Sands. Police charged them with disorderly conduct.

Contract Awarded Under New Tendering Procedure

Something in the way of departure from the regular system of receiving tenders for Provincial public works projects, such as gravel, sub-grading and paving was instituted on Saturday noon by the office of the Minister of Public Works.

The procedure, which is being carried out on orders of Premier Matheson, calls for the presentation and the opening of all tenders at a certain hour, in the presence of all the contractors who have tendered for the work.

This method has been introduced as a guard against suspicion of unfair dealings in the awarding of contracts.

The tender being dealt with on Saturday was the sub-grading of 3.4 miles of Trans Canada Highway between Cornwall and Malpeque Road and was awarded to the County Construction Co. for $54,245. Other contractors tendering were as follows, Morrison and MacRae, $67,720; Island Construction Co., $69,910; Curran and Briggs, $77,676; Matheson and MacMillan, $87,246; Poole and Beer, $76,270.

The tenders were opened by Hon. Douglas MacKinnon, Minister of Public Works and examined by Mr. R. G. White, Deputy Minister of Public Works. Hon. C. C. Baker and Hon. Eugene Cullen were also present.

Mr. White explained that the contractor must first of all be bona fide, that is he must have a reputation for being able to carry out the work to be done and he must possess the equipment necessary for performing the operation. His unit figures in the contract must be satisfactory and if he is the lowest bidder he will be awarded the contract; that is, in the case of Trans-Canada Highway work, subject to the approval of the Dominion Department of Public Works which invariably accepts the recommendation of the local Department.

ASHTON-UNDER-LYNE, England (Reuters) — Colonial Secretary Oliver Lyttelton said Saturday the Mau Mau danger in Kenya has been checked.

Although he did not think complete victory over the anti-white terrorists would be quick, "the whole African scene is one of storm and trouble at the moment." The main reason was "the impact of modern ideas and modern civilization and modern communications upon the dark continent."

In Malaya, he said, "the whole aspect is immeasurably better, though we cannot say that the emergency is over." The social and political well-being and advancement of the territories had not for a moment been neglected and Malaya owed a great debt to Gen. Sir Gerald Templer, the new British commander there.

Gargantuan Fish At Murray Harbor

A giant fish of unknown species has the residents of Murray Harbor speculating as to its size, and name. It was seen several times on Saturday afternoon about two hundred yards of Mochons Point, in the Murray River. Trout fishermen at the Point thought it might be a large salmon, but the great upheaval it created in the water ruled out this possibility. Actually no one has seen the fish, but only the disturbance of the water each time it rises to the surface. A resounding splash, a shower of spray and frothy-flecked water accompanies its infrequent surges to the surface, and the impression created is like that of the propellers of a large steamer, turning over.

The social and political well-being and advancement of the territories had not for a moment been neglected and Malaya owed a great debt to Gen. Sir Gerald Templer, the new British commander there.

People who watched the performance of the mysterious fish estimate its weight all the way from one hundred to four hundred pounds. Some believe it to be an enormous sea bass, and others suggest that it may be a shark, a porpoise or a tuna. Unless it moves out of the Murray River soon, and if it continues to disport itself as it did on Saturday, experienced fishermen in the district should soon be able to call it by name.

Old hands at the fishing game who have not seen the explosive action of the big fish seem to favor the guess that it is a porpoise or tuna, that has strayed from its usual deep water haunts.
