Pilot Known At Primrose

MONTAGUE — A news story emanating last summer from Cape Cod, Mass. and recently featured in a Canadian paper concerning a parachute jump made by Lois Ann Frotten in which her chute failed to open, was observed at very close range by Irving Morrow, pilot of the plane, who is well known in the Primrose area.

Mr. Morrow is a nephew of Albert Acorn, Primrose, and he has spent many summers here on his uncle's farm. His mother is at present a guest at the Acorn home.

It was Miss Frotten's first jump, and after becoming fouled in her parachute lines, made a free fall of 2,500 feet into Mystic Lake, escaping with minor facial bruises.

An incentive feature and several loophole-closing provisions.

87th Congress Adjourns With Mixed Bill For JFK

By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON (AP) — The feuding and fighting 87th Congress which adjourned Saturday night has handed President Kennedy a mixed bag of victories and defeats in his first two years in office.

Administration leaders, claiming a 70-per-cent record on the Kennedy program, declared that the trade expansion bill was enough itself to assure the 87th high marks in history.

They pointed also to the drug prohibition bill and the Minimum Retaining Act of this session and the social security, housing, minimum wage and the depressed areas bills passed last year.

But despite these successes and the passage of many other important measures on his list, the president was forced to accept the rejection of several of his key proposals by the heavily Democratic Congress.

The health care plan for the aged under social security was killed and his entire education program, with a broad range of measures, went down the drain.

REJECT DEPARTMENT
Congress refused to create an urban affairs department. Other measures designed to bridge the rapidly growing cities, such as the $500,000,000 mass transit bill, were shunted aside.

On civil rights, the president lost on his key proposal aimed at abolishing state literacy requirements on voting. But Congress did submit to the states a
