

THE FAIR GOD.

Guatamozin dropped the hood upon his shoulders and looked at Mualo sternly and steadily; and between them ensued one of those struggles of spirit in which glances are as glittering swords and the will holds the piece of skill.

"Father," he said at length, "I have been accustomed to love and obey you. I thought you good and wise and conversant with things divine, and that one so faithful with his God must be as faithful to his country; for to me, love of one is love of the other. But now I know you better. You tell me that Quetzal has come and for vengeance; and that, in the fire of his wrath, the nation will be destroyed; yet you exult and endeavor to speed the day by prayer. And now, too, I understand the destiny you had in store for me. By hiding in this gown and becoming a priest at your altar I was to escape the universal death. What the king did I was to do. Hear me now; I cut myself loose from you. With my own eyes I look into the future. I spurn the destiny, and for myself will carve out a better one by saving or perishing with my race. No more waiting on others! No more weakness! I will go hence and strike—"

"Whom?" asked Mualo, impulsively. "The king and the god?"

"He is no my god," said the 'tzin, interrupting him in a moment. "The enemy of my race is my enemy, whether he be king or god. As for Montezuma—at the name his voice and manner changed—I will go humbly, and from the dust into which he flung them pick up his royal duties. Alas! no other can. Cuiclahua is a prisoner, so is Cacama; and in the courtyard yonder, cold in death, lie the lords who might with them contest the crown and its tribulations. I accept the doom of my country—into the heart of his divinity I cast my spear! So farewell, father. As a faithful servant you cannot bless whom your god has cursed. With you, however, be all the peace and safety that abide here. Farewell."

"Go not, go not!" cried Mualo, as the 'tzin, calling to Huapala, turned his back upon him. "We have been as father and son. I am old. See how sorrow shakes these hands, stretched toward you in love. Seeing the appeal was vain, the paha stepped forward and caught the 'tzin's arm and said, 'I pray you stay—stay. The destiny follows Quetzal, and is close at hand, and brings in its arms the throne.'"

Neither the tempter nor the temptation moved the 'tzin; he called Huapala again; then the holy man let go his arm and said sadly, "Go thy way—one scoffer more! Or, if you stay, hear of what the god will accuse you, so that, when your calamity comes, as come it will, you may not accuse him."

"I will hear."

"Know, then, O 'tzin, that Quetzal, the day he landed from Tlalpallan, took you in his care; a little later, he caused you to be sent into exile—"

"Your god did that?" exclaimed the 'tzin. "And why?"

"Out of the city there was safety," replied Mualo sentimentally, in a moment he continued, "Such, I say, was the beginning. Attend to what has followed. After Montezuma went to dwell with the strangers, the king of Tezcoco revolted, and drew after him the lords of Iztapalapan, Tlacopan and others; to-day they are prisoners, while you are free. Next, aided by Tlalac, you planned the rescue of the king by force in the teocallis; for that offence the officers hunted you, and have not given over their quest; but the cells of Quetzal are deep and dark; I called you in and yet you are safe. To-day Quetzal appeared amongst the celebrants, and to-night there is mourning throughout the valley, and the city groans under the bloody rivalry; still you are safe. A few days ago, in the old palace of Axaya, the king assembled his lords, and there he and they became the avowed subjects of a new king, Malinche's master; since that the people, in their ignorance, have rung the heavens with their curses. You alone escaped that bond; so that if Montezuma were to join his fathers, asleep in Chapultepec, whom would soldier, priest and citizen call to throne? Or the nobles living, how many are free to be king? And of all the empire, how many are there of whom I might say, 'He forgot not Quetzal?' One only. And now, O son, ask you of what you will be accused, if you abandon this house and its god? or what will be forfeit, if you turn your back upon them? Is there a measure for the ingratitude? If you go hence for any purpose of war, remember Quetzal neither forgets nor forgives; better that you had never been born."

By this time Huapala had joined the party. Kesting his hand upon the young man's shoulder, the 'tzin fixed on Mualo a look severe and steady as his own, and replied, "Father, a man knows not himself; still less knows the other men; if so, how should I know a being so great as you claim your god to be? Heretofore, I have been contented to see Quetzal as you have painted him—a fair-faced, gentle, loving deity, to whom human sacrifices were especially abhorrent; but what shall I say of him whom you have now given me to study? If he neither forgets nor forgives, wherein is he better than the gods of Midian? Hating, as you have said the sacrifice of one man, he now proposes, you say, not as a process of ages, but at once, by a blow or a breath, to slay a nation numbering millions. When was Huiztil so awfully worshipped? He will spare the king you further say, because he has become his servant; and I can find grace by a like submission. Father"—and as he spoke the 'tzin's manner became impressively noble—"father, who of choice would live to be the last of his race? The destiny brings me a crown; tell me, when your god has gladdened himself, where shall I find subjects? Comes he in person or by representatives? Am I to be his crowned slave or Malinche's? Once for all, let Quetzal enlarge his doom; it is sweeter than what you call his love. I will go fight; and if the gods of my fathers—in this hour become deuter and hotter than ever so deuce, will die with my people. Again, father, farewell."

Again the withered hands arose tremulously, and a look of exceeding anguish came to the paha's help.

"If not for love of me, or of self, or of Quetzal, then for love of woman, stay."

Guatamozin turned quickly. "What of her?"

"O 'tzin, the destiny you put aside is hers no less than yours."

The 'tzin raised his princely head, and answered, smiling joyously: "Then, father, by whatever charm, or incantation, or virtue of prayer you possess, hasten the destiny—hasten it, I conjure you. A tomb would be a palace with her, a palace would be a tomb without her."

And with the smile still upon his face, and the resolution yet in his heart, he again, and for the last time, turned his back upon Mualo.

CHAPTER V. THE CELLS OF QUETZAL AGAIN.

"A victim! A victim!" "Kill him!" "Owls him!"

"Stone him!" "Kill him!" So cried a mob, at the time in furious motion up the beautiful street. Numbering hundreds already, it increased momentarily, and howled as only such a monster can. Scarcely eighty yards in front ran its game—Ortega, the page.

The boy was in desperate straits. His bonnet, secured by a braid, danced behind him; his short cloak of purple velvet, a little faded, fluttered as if struggling to burst the throat-loop; his hands were clenched; his face pale with fear and labor. He ran with all his might, often looking back; and as his course was up the street, the old palace of Axaya must have been the goal he sought—a long, long way off for one unused to such exertion and so fiercely pressed. At every backward glance, he cried, in agony of terror, "Help me, O Mother of Christ! By God's love, help me!" The enemy was gaining upon him.

Free Rum or Cider—Which?

Whether the proposed constitutional amendment in Massachusetts against rum is also against cider, is being, as it ought to be, well agitated. We believe fruit-growers feel about manufacturing a home beverage somewhat like the woman whom the learned Dr. Abernethy once remonstrated with for mutilating her husband's face and head with her finger-nails in a family jar. Said the worthy doctor,—"Madam, are you not ashamed, treating the head of this family thus?—in fact, your head, madam." The virago retorted fiercely, "Well, doctor, if that be true, haven't I a right to scratch my own head?" It seems to us, prohibition advocates should reflect that, so long as humanity is uninitiated to its surroundings and conditions of life, so long will it exist, and human beings foolishly try to "draw misery" with strong drink. But increase human happiness by every possible means; lessen that mother's burden that she may bear more healthy children; then ameliorate their hunger, disease, and pain by better physical as well as moral training, and you will have plucked out the most deadly fang of the monster—intemperance, while farmers and fruit-growers are left to pursue an honest calling. Acting upon this precept, we would go further and proclaim that thousands of families are now suffering with troubles that scores of persons have tried to relieve with strong drink. "Hot lemonade with a stick," "rock and rye" are familiar recipes. Temperance people should teach others to find some better remedy for hacking coughs, bronchial irritations, catarrhal inflammation, rheumatism, and neuralgia than whiskey. Said a well known Boston merchant, recently, to a party of friends: "I used to resort to whiskey when attacked with rheumatism and neuralgia. But I know a remedy—Johnson's Anodyne Liniment—that will fix it for me every time. Truly, it is the most certain remedy known for any pain or inflammation. It is used internally as well as externally. Many people do not know this. The manufacturers, E. S. Johnson & Co., Boston, Mass., will send free to any one a pamphlet telling how to use it. A teaspoonful, properly used, will accomplish wonders. dy 6 li

WHAT FAILS YOU?

Do you feel dull, languid, low-spirited, lifeless, and indifferently miserable, both physically and mentally? Do you experience a sense of fullness or bloating after eating, or of "grogginess" or opacity of stomach in the morning? Do you feel indigestion, flatulence, irregular appetite, dizziness, or other ailments, alternating with chilly sensations, sharp, biting transient pains here and there, cold feet, drowsiness after meals, or other grave ailments, or a general feeling of depression, or a disturbed and unrefreshing sleep, constant, indelible feeling of dread, or of impending calamity?

If you have all, or any considerable number of these symptoms, you are suffering from that most common of American maladies—Bilious Dyspepsia, or "Torpid Liver," associated with Dyspepsia, or Indigestion. The more complicated your disease has become, the greater the number and the more dangerous the symptoms. No matter what stage it has reached, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will relieve it, if taken according to directions for a reasonable length of time. If not cured, complications multiply and Consumption of the Lungs, Dropsy, Rheumatism, Heart Disease, Rheumatism, Kidney Disease, or other grave ailments are quite liable to set in and, sooner or later, induce a fatal termination.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery acts powerfully upon the Liver, and through that great blood-purifying organ, cleanses the system of all blood-poisons and impurities, from whatever cause arising. It is equally efficacious in acting upon the Kidneys, and other excretory organs, cleansing, strengthening, and healing their diseased condition. It is an appetizing, restorative tonic, it promotes digestion and nutrition, thereby building up both flesh and strength. In malarial districts, this wonderful medicine has gained great celebrity in curing Fever and Ague, Chills and Fever, Dumb Ague, and kindred diseases.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery CURES ALL HUMORS, from a common Blotch, or Eruption, to the worst Scrofula, "Salt-rheum," "Fever-sores," "Spiky or Rough Skin," in short, all diseases caused by bad blood are cured by this powerful, purifying and invigorating medicine. Great Eating Ulcers rapidly heal under its benign influence. Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Eczema, Erysipelas, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Hip-joint Disease, "White Swellings," Gout, or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands. Send ten cents in stamps for a large Treatise, with colored plates, on Skin Diseases, and the amount for a Treatise on Scrofulous Affections.

"FOR THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE." Thoroughly cleanse it by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and bodily health will be established.

CONSUMPTION, which is Scrofula of the Lungs, is arrested and cured by this remedy, if taken in the earlier stages of the disease. It imparts marvelous power over this terribly fatal disease, when first offering this new world-famed remedy to the public, Dr. Pierce thought seriously of calling it his "Consumption Cure," but abandoned that name as too restrictive for a medicine which, from its wonderful combination of tonic, or strengthening, alternative or blood-cleansing, anti-bilious, pectoral, and nutritive properties, is unequalled, not only as a remedy for Consumption, but for all Chronic Diseases of the Liver, Blood, and Lungs.

For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Chronic Nasal Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, Severe Coughs, and kindred ailments, it is an efficient remedy. Sold by Druggists, at $1.00, or Six Bottles for $5.00.
