

Quebec Is Top For Jury Pay

By THE CANADIAN PRESS If you have to serve on a jury, Quebec will soon be the most remunerative province in which to do it. An increase in pay for jurors that will bring it up to $35 a day starting June 15 will place Quebec well ahead of the rest of Canada. The increase from $10 — the highest fixed daily rate in any of the other provinces — came after many jurors complained they were not being paid enough for their time in comparison with their regular wages. Jurors in Newfoundland are paid $6 a session instead of a daily rate, and this cent amount. The pay is $10 a day in Ontario and Saskatchewan, increased from $5 in Ontario in 1959 and from $5 in Saskatchewan in 1962. The current rate of $5 a day in British Columbia goes up to $10 starting July 1. In New Brunswick, the remuneration is $8 a day, but jurors get this amount again if they have to attend a night sitting. A much-advocated increase in Manitoba came in 1958 when jurors' pay jumped to $9 a day from $6, but when the amount was increased in Alberta a year later it was only $5 from $4. In Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island, where the rate is $5 a day, there has not been an increase since the 1950s when it went up from $3 in Nova Scotia and $2.50 in P.E.I.

ROYAL

(Continued from page one) Erie passed port-to-port the new CHS Hudson, causing confusion above decks while in the wheel house, safe away from civilians, altering course and speed were carried out in comparative quiet, except from the telephone connection from the bridge. And then alongside and disembarking, back from the freedom of the wind and sea to everyday dry land. Carefully the members of the Learned Societies and their wives walked down the gangway, and the waiting bus and cars took them away, and that was all. Except the sailors seemed glad to get back on shore. Back through the hazy bright

HOKEY TEAMS HOLD MEETING

By W. R. WHEATLEY MONTRÉAL (CP) — The American and Western Hockey circuits jumped the whistle Sunday on the big annual get-together of the National Hockey League and scores of hockey men by holding a joint meeting. It was an exploratory session aimed at discussing the future of the two ambitious minors. Some of the more optimistic clubs, with chronic growing pains, foresee a possible amalgamation of the two leagues.

The NHL starts its four-day meeting today with its rules committee holding the immediate spotlight. The Central Professional League, never body in pro ranks, also meets. Regardless of any trades that may be pulled off, the business of drafting opens Tuesday when the NHL plucks players from the WHL and CPHL. The major circuit holds its own draft Wednesday and inaugurates its new draft of junior amateur players Thursday. An immediate development of the closed AHL-WHL meeting possibly would be arrangements for a post-season playoff between the two leagues as a prelude to amalgamation.

RCAF Notches Win Over Inman's Squad

SUMMERDIE — Jerry Moore's second double of the game, a two out scorching liner in the top of the sixth inning, bringing home Dave McBlane, who also got on by a two bagger, for his second RBI of the game, gave the RCAF a close 5-4 win over Edmund's Pharmacy in Summerside in a Prince County softball on Saturday. The game, threatened to erupt at almost any time owing to hot tempers, was finally put under protest on a disputed ball call. The Air Force are now in a two way first place tie with Edmund's. Each have won three and lost one. Although having a rough first inning, giving up four runs on four hits, Edmund's pitcher, Pete Devana, settled down in the remaining six frames, permitting only two hits, fanning five and walking none but was changed with his first loss of the season. Edmund's Pharmacy peaked away at pitcher Bob Hopper and the Air Force led and finally in the last of the fourth, tied it up 4-4 when Magee reached first base on an error and eventually came home on a fielders choice. Hopper then shut them out the rest of the way and allowed a game total of six hits, displaying excellent control walking none but also struck out none. Edmund's nearly won the game in the last of the seventh when Trinity United Church, with service commencing at 2 p.m. Internment will take place in the People's cemetery.

Luro Thought Bill Hartack Made Mistake

By TED BLACKMAN NEW YORK (CP) — What happened? That was the paramount question after Saturday's Belmont Wakes, in which speedy Little Northern Dancer finished third and failed in his bid to win the triple crown for three-year-olds. Horatio Luro, Northern Dancer's Argentinean trainer, said he made an "involuntary mistake" and owner E. P. Taylor seemed inclined to agree. Both thought the Dancer could have beaten Quadrangle the winner and second-place Roman Brother if Hartack had set the pace instead of letting Quadrangle "walk" the first three-quarters of a mile and conserve his energy for the streak to the wire in the 1/2-mile test. Hartack always ready with a lucid explanation, said the Dancer, winner of the shorter Kentucky Derby and the Preakness, "just wasn't fast enough at a mile and a half and that was all." Asked whether he was disappointed when a horse runs his heart out for you? "He certainly didn't disgrace himself — not with me, anyway."

Cardigan Team Defeats Souris

In King's County baseball action the Cardigan entry in the county league shaded the Souris Fishermen 2-1 in a tilt staged at Cardigan yesterday afternoon. Lawrence MacIntyre was on the mound for the winners and 'Butch' Cheverie was doing the hurling for the losers. It was a pitchers duel all the way. MacIntyre gave up five hits, walked two and struck out 25. The losing hurler gave up eight hits, walked two and struck out 22. MacIntyre won his own ball game. He was top man at the plate for the contest as he turned in a 3-5 performance. One of his hits included a triple. Willard Creamer was the top batter for the Souris aggregation as he one for two at the plate.
