ROMBERG MUSIC IN WARNER'S "DESERT SONG"

Warner Bros' new Technicolor production of "The Desert Song," which opens today at the Prince Edward Theatre, brings to the screen as co-stars for the first time, two of America's most popular singing screen stars, Kathryn Grayson and Gordon MacRae. The beautiful Miss Grayson portrays the flirtatious Margot, and MacRae is cast as the legendary El Khobar, leader of the Riffs. A third star is rugged Steve Cochran playing the suave Captain Fontaine of the French Foreign Legion.

The glorious music of Sigmund Romberg is blended to a modern-day tale of desert adventure and romance as Gordon MacRae leads his embattled Riffriders against the treachery of an unscrupulous sheik in order to win the favor of his people and the love of the beguiling Margot.

Allyn McLerie and Dick Wesson have important featured roles in the colorful movie which was directed by Bruce Humphreys and produced for Warner Bros. by Rudi Fehr.
