specially examined to see that they are numbered correctly. The absence of a blank out of its proper place in any such book to be viewed as a suspicious circumstance, and to form the subject of a special report to the Government by the Auditor. That progressively numbered receipt books be always issued in their order.

Tenth.—That a deposit of all moneys received during any one day be made as early as possible on the morning of the next working day, and the bank's voucher for the same to be submitted to the Permanent Executive Head, who shall compare it with the cash book and certify such comparison by initialing the voucher and the corresponding entry in the cash book.

Eleventh.—The Cash Book to be balanced daily, and every entry, carefully examined and checked off with the vouchers by the Permanent Executive Head, who shall then sign the Cash Book.

Twelfth.—No erasures to be made, upon any pretence whatever, in the books or documents of the office. All errors to be obliterated by ruling through in red ink, and the words or figures of the correction to be placed immediately above those so ruled through, the object being that both errors and corrections shall at all times be visible.

Thirteenth.—That as the search entails upon the officials of the Department a large amount of additional work, the fee therefor should not be less than 25 cents, and should be invariably collected.

A good system when once acquired and persistently enforced, will be found to be of lasting advantage to the Department.

Respectfully submitted,
LEWIS CARVELL,
FRANCIS H. ARNAUD,
Commissioners.

On the Use of Campbell's Wine of Beech-Tree Creosote, in Diseases of the Lungs and Throat.

IN the South of France, where all persons threatened by Phthisis go to be treated; where Doctors Bouchard and Gilmert, the two specialists so highly recommended by public opinion, have experimented with all the proposed medicines against Pulmonary Tuberculosis, it is the one prepared today, and that which for ten years past they have finally adopted, after many comparative experiences, based upon the antiseptic method, having specially in view the destruction of the Bacilli.

After a few days' use of the remedy, the expec-toration diminishes, and very soon one is pleased to witness the gradual disappearance of the Bacilli, the breaking off of the fever and the rapid recovery of appetite and strength.

When instead of confined Phthisis, Catarrh or Chronic Bronchitis have to be dealt with, the different forms of which may sometimes give rise to an uncertain diagnosis, they have always been cured. Those excellent results need not astonish us, if we consider the lucky natural-assimilation of complete antiseptic and balsamic principles in the compound we now describe.
When our Wine shall have restored health, it will be well not to discontinue its use at once, and at all events to use it again about a fortnight before winter sets in, and at every change of season followed by damp weather.

PREPARATION.—A small dessert spoonful three times a day, after each meal, gradually increased to a large dessert spoonful.
N.B.—The use of Cod Liver Oil, as a powerful resistant to the remedial properties of the Wine, is recommended. Campbell's "Skrer" Oil being the best, is the kind which should be taken.
