University Radio Network Is Planned

ANTIGONISH, N.S. (CP) - Application is to be made before the Board of Broadcast Governors in Halifax this week for the formation of an inter-university radio network.

The proposed network, the idea of St. Francis Xavier University arts student Steve Emery, would provide programming from Memorial University in St. John's, The University of New Brunswick, Mount Allison University, Acadia University, Dalhousie University, St. Mary's University, Kings College, St. Dunstan's University and St. FX over a network of seven private stations.

Programming, Mr. Emery said, would be a half-hour weekly through the academic year. Costs would be borne by the Maritime Students Union.

If the network is approved it was proposed to broadcast the opening program on Oct. 3.

S'side Company Gets N.S. Job

HALIFAX (CP) — Nova Scotia Works Minister Stephan Pyke Monday announced award of a contract for construction of dormitory and cafeteria buildings at the Nova Scotia teachers College in Truro to M. F. Schurman Company Limited of Summerside, P.E.I.

The five - storey dormitory, a residence for student - teachers will house 212. The single story cafeteria will have accomodation for 428. Both buildings will be of steel frame, brick and masonry construction.

A Truro source said construction on the $918,000 project is to begin immediately

POISONED AT FAIR

Dr. Donald MacDonald, Toronto veterinarian, works over Tommy, an 11-month-old lion cub, and Bridget, its collie foster mother, after both animals were found unconscious Sunday in their cage at the Canadian National Exhibition. Jean Zerbini, trainer of the lion act in which Tommy works, waits with his father. Dr. MacDonald, who worked over the animals for 11 hours, said they were close to death from a large dose of barbiturates. Police believe the animals were deliberately poisoned. (CP Wirephoto)

Prince Co. Swim Program Recapped At Dinner Meet

O'LEARY — The Red Cross water safety swimming season for Prince County was brought to a close Thursday evening with a dinner meeting held at the home of Mrs. Helen Smallman, O'Leary.

Reporting on the success of the program from the different centers were: Mrs. H. Vessey, Miscouche; Mrs. W. MacKenna, Kinkora; Mrs. W. Stavert, North Bedeque; Mrs. F. MacNutt, Malpeque; Miss J. Newcombe, Port Hill; Mrs. R. Eldershaw, Tignish; Mrs. B. MacWilliam, Carleton, Lot 6; Mrs. Ken Matheson, O'Leary; Lloyd Millar, Summerside; Mrs. Ken MacLean, Lot 16, and Mrs. Drinner, Ellerslie.

Marlyn MacLean, Prince County supervisor spoke on the success of the program and said Prince County had the largest number pass out of the three counties.

Mrs. Evelyn Cudmore, director of water safety and first aid services, said it was the most successful year on record with enrollment on the Island up 10 per cent over the previous year along with the pass list up.

Mrs. Cudmore had high praise for the sponsoring organizations and the women workers in the regional areas for the effort they had put forth for the success of the children with water safety.

NEED CONTINUITY

"Changing chairman from year to year is not a good policy," she said, "as we need continuity." Elimination of drowning hazards and artificial respiration are two kinds of education she said should be extended to every person in the province. The winter time would be a good time to promote this education among the fishermen, she felt.

Mrs. Cudmore hoped the day would not be far off when every child in the province will have the opportunity to get on a bus and be able to go to an area for water safety instruction.

At the close of her talk, Mrs. Cudmore spoke on the P.E.I. Memorial Veterans' Club and paid special tribute to one of its members, Mrs. Reg Eldershaw, who has volunteered her services in Red Cross work for the past 14 years and is the first volunteer worker in the province to complete 100 hours of service in the year's centenary Club, Mrs. Cudmore said.

A gift on behalf of the Red Cross was presented to Mrs. Eldershaw at the meeting by Miss MacLean.

DAY TRAINING PROGRAM

Mrs. F. MacNutt of Malpeque, chairman of water safety services for a number of years and David Millar, water safety supervisor for the province, gave a detailed report on the master 10 day training plan carried out in the Kensington regional area that included 22 districts.

Receiving high praise for the success of the program were the men of the Kensington Lions Club, the women of the districts and a Clinton resident who had been kind enough to allow the program to be undertaken on his property.

Close to 500 children took advantage of the day training classes that included supervised water and land recreation, films and swimming classes under the supervision of 22 Red Cross water safety leaders and instructors that were reported very energetic and hard working. Some 42 gallons of ice cream provided by the Lions Club were eaten by the children on their aquatic day. Sixty women helped each day with the program. The cost of transporting the children by school bus each day was made available through government grants through the department of physical education. The buses, it was reported, drove 3,000 miles at a cost of 30 cents a mile. This included the salary of two bus drivers. Each child paid 50 cents or a dollar a family and were all insured.

Contacting school trustees and getting an early estimate for the coming year's program was new business under discussion at the meeting. Following the business part of the meeting films pretaining to water safety were shown.

Potato Pickers Being Recruited

SUMMERSIDE — With the potato picking season fast approaching, Island employment offices are in the process of lining up pickers from all over the Maritimes.

Blanche Hogg, employment branch supervisor with the local office, said this morning that, depending on the weather and the length of the season, approximately 750 pickers will be required this year on P.E.I. She said that 600 of these will be placed by the Summerside office while the remaining 150 will be taken care of by the Charlottetown branch.

Miss Hogg said that a meeting was held Friday afternoon in Charlottetown at the offices of the provincial deputy minister of agriculture, Stewart Wright, which was attended by employment specialist C. Belyea of the regional employment office in Moncton, Miss Hogg, employment supervisor Alan Murphy of Charlottetown and Mr. Wright.

The group dealt with the transportation and all matters pertaining to expected incoming flow of transient pickers.

WAGE INCREASED

The wage rate for pickers was also raised at the meeting. For the past six or seven years the rate was $4.50 and board per day but at Friday's meeting the rate was raised 50 cents to $5 and board per day.

During the discussion Mr. Wright noted that in comparing figures the potato acreage is down five per cent from 1963. He added, however, that the crop is in very good condition with very little blight. The officers were told that the blight problem could be controlled if the proper precautions were taken.

Concerning the opening of the season, Miss Hogg said that the tentative date set for the first arrival of pickers is expected today, and in regards to the number, she explained that the situation could change rapidly. Should the season extend over a longer period than usual, the number of pickers required could be considerably less, she said.

The area supplying the greatest number of pickers will be, as last year, Sydney and Sydney Mines. Approximately 200 pickers are expected from Sydney and another 150 from Sydney Mines, New Glasgow is expected to supply in the vicinity of 100 pickers and Moncton approximately 90.

Doctor Reports On Struggle To Obtain Rare Blood Units

WASHINGTON (AP)—A doctor reported here how the blood banks struggled successfully to obtain 53 units of a rare type of blood from 40 donors in 10 states and Canada last year to save the life of a New Jersey man.

Dr. Lyndall Molthan of Temple University Hospital, Philadelphia, told of the dramatic international quest to round up the blood type, called "Lutheran B - negative." The type was named after a patient in whom the blood-type first was discovered only a few years ago.

She said that last year, a sheet - metal worker named Hubert Kuehn, Jr., of Middlesex, N.J., in the course of a series of surgical operations, three times exhausted the U.S. supply of the rare blood. But she reported to the annual meeting of the American Association of Blood Banks that, because of the work of the blood banks in rounding up donors, he now is back at his home.

She said that Kuehn's blood was identified as "Luthern B-negative" by Dr. Mary Crawford of Philadelphia—who has the same rare blood - type herself—soon after he was transferred from another hospital to the Temple University Hospital on Jan. 10, 1963.

Organist Plans 1965 Return To Participate In Cultural Plan

Tignish : Approximately 100 persons attended an organ recital Aug. 23 at St. Simon and St. Jude Church in Tignish, when J. Henri Gaudet, BA, MA, played a program of eight selections.

The program consisted of the following selections, prelude, Suite Gothique, Priere a Notre Dame, both by Boellman; Prelude and Fugue in G. Minor, Bach; Ave Verum, Motet, Mozart; Marche Pontificale by Gounod; The Kyrie, 12th Mass of Mozart; Larghetto in G Minor, Batiste, and the Toccata in D Minor of Bach.

Mr. Gaudet is a graduate of Tignish high school as well as of St Dunstan's University. He obtained his MA degree at Gonzaga University Spokane, Wash. studied organ music in France for one year, under Mlle. Bellin, Le Mans; three years with Frederick Nelson, FRCO, in Vancouver, B.C., and one year with George Thompson, FRCO, Charlottetown. He also completed eight courses in music, including theory, counterpoint, harmony and music history from the Royal Conservatory of Music, University of Toronto.

Last year Mr. Gaudet was the glee club and choir director at St. Dunstan's University.

SPECIAL EFFORT

Mr. Gaudet is leaving next week for Shawinigan, Quebec, where he will teach, but plans to be in Tignish next summer where he will take part in a new cultural effort planned under the sponsorship and guidance of the Thomas Moore Institute of Montreal.

Mrs. E. L. Cran, MA and Reginald Porter, both associate members of the institute, spent sometime discussing the project with the leading citizens of Tignish, who are all enthusiastic about the summer school that will have its first classes next summer.

J. HENRI GAUDET

The Tignish organ, installed in 1882 in St. Simon and St. Jude Church by the firm of Cassavant Freres, under the direction of Mitchell of Montreal, has been called one of the best pipe organs in the Maritimes.

As one lady expressed it at the close of Sunday's recital "We never knew how good that organ was".

It is a cracker action type and has a small and great organ as well as a full complement of foot pedals.

Reginald Porter spent many hours cleaning and reconditioning the organ during his summer vacation here.

Tignish residents are looking forward to the series of Sunday evening concerts next summer which will be part of the program of the summer school.

Hindu Paper Calls On Gov't To Ban Eucharistic Congress

NEW DELHI (Reuters)—The right-wing Hindu weekly The Organizer has called on the Indian government to ban the international eucharistic congress of Roman Catholics scheduled to be held in Bombay next November and December.

The magazine said "30,000 Catholics from all over the world propose to descend on Bombay in November this year in a crash program to win more and more Indians for what (Mohandas) Gandhi described as 'beef and beer bottle Christianity.'

"For the first time in the history of the Catholic Church, their international eucharistic congress is meeting in a country where Catholics are but a small minority.

"No Moslem majority country would let them in. But evidently they think they can get away with anything in "secular' India."

Quoting Pope Paul's recent encyclical as saying "there is but one true religion — the religion of Christianity," the magazine commented: "By implication, every other religion — Hinduism, Islam, Buddhism — is false.

"Opinions and activities like these could provoke a reaction among the 98 - per - cent non-Catholic majority of India.

"As such, it could easily develop into a law and order problem. The Indian government would be well advised to ban this invasion of India before feelings get any worse..."

Since 1959, Britain has doubled its exports to Russia with goods worth $167,306,000.

7 Naval Ships; Possibly Port Record Here?

Seven ships in port.

And is this a record number? Have ever more than seven naval vessels called in port at one time in the history of Charlottetown?

This is an intriguing question. When consulted, retired Royal Canadian Navy Captain A.J. Connolly, 110 Mt. Edward Road, reported that in his recollection a greater number of naval vessels had not called here at the one time before.

Capt. Connolly said that he recalled six United States Navy destroyers had made a courtesy visit here in Oct. - Nov., 1949. This was the most ships to visit port at one time to his recollection, he said.

Now in port are seven vessels representing Canada, the United States and France. They are here to take part in ceremonies marking the meeting of the Canadian Premiers here today, and centennial ceremonies commemorating the meeting of the Fathers of Confederation here.

There are five RCN ships, the HMCS Yukon, HMCS Athabaskan, HMCS Algonquin, HMCS Crescent, HMCS Cape Scott; one USN vessel, USS The Sullivans; and one French Navy vessel, the FN Commandant Bourdais.

The Commandant Bourdais was the last to arrive, today. The other vessels arrived in port earlier.

ANOTHER ARRIVAL

Should there be some who doubt that the seven navy ships in port is not a record number scheduled to arrive here today is the CCGS Ernest Lapointe, bearing actors who portray the roles of the Fathers of Confederation during the Centennial Commission's re-enactment of the voyage of the SS Queen Victoria from Quebec City to Charlottetown.

This will make a grand total of eight ships in port today; technically not all naval vessels, but perhaps a record number. And the day being the day it is, who would argue with that?

LIFE BEFORE DEATH
