

12 N.S. Men Are Lost From Rammed Trawler

Four Are Picked Up By Liberian Freighter

WILLIAM NAUSS

Copenhagen Appointment Announced

William Nauss, 38, originally from Chester, N.S., is on his way to Copenhagen as officer-in-charge of Canadian Immigration Service in January.

By IAN MacKENZIE. HALIFAX (CP)—It was a day of grief Sunday for 39 Nova Scotia children whose fathers were lost at sea early Saturday in a collision which sank the Lunenburg, N.S. trawler Reliance.

Seven of 12 men missing and presumed dead after the collision in dense fog between the 288-ton trawler and the 5,711-ton Liberian freighter Bordapian were rescued by the freighter.

The Canadian Coast Guard cutter Bally had terminated her search in the fog-shrouded waters at dusk Saturday after finding three bodies, an uninflated life raft and a number of marker buoys of the type used by fishing vessels.

They are: Capt. Walter Langille of First South, who normally sailed as mate of the Reliance, chief engineer Gardner Corkum of Middle LaHave; and deckhands Roger Zwicker of Mahone Bay and Arnold Adams of West Dublin.

Former SA Official Dies. TORONTO (CP)—George Walter Peacock, 86, a former chief secretary of the Salvation Army in Canada, died Saturday.

Vancouver Outside Employees To End Strike After Seven Weeks

VANCOUVER (CP)—The city's 1,500 outside workers voted unanimously Sunday to end their seven-week old strike and return to work.

The workers voted 688-183 in favor of ending the dispute after their strike committee reversed its earlier stand and urged acceptance of contract terms proposed last Friday by a provincial government-appointed conciliation officer.

Jack Phillips, secretary of the Civic Outside Workers Union, said the union would maintain its picket lines until it hears whether city council will agree to a new contract.

cents an hour on a basic rate of $2.28, cents an hour. The increase would take effect in four stages—13 cents retroactive to Jan. 1; six cents on July 1; another six cents Jan. 1, 1967; and a further 7 1/2 cents July 1, 1967.

When Prof. Herbert's report was released Friday night by Labor Minister Leslie Peterson the union executive announced it would recommend rejection of the membership at Sunday's meeting.

WEIGH SACRIFICES. Mr. Phillips said that after weighing up the sacrifices that would have to be made in order to win substantially more, we decided it was time to consolidate.

The union had sought an increase of 70 cents an hour over three years and went on strike at midnight May 6 in back of demands for rejecting a city offer of 25 1/2 cents over two years.

Further talks with the government are planned. Trouble also is brewing among 500 workers who operate the B.C. government's big ferry fleet. Deck and catering workers voted 78 per cent against recommendations made by an employee-management committee on work schedules, about which the workers long have been complaining.

ERRY WORKERS RESTIVE. The ferry workers also are demanding collective bargaining "in its true sense" the union of their choice and dues checkoffs.

The union had sought an increase of 70 cents an hour over three years and went on strike at midnight May 6 in back of demands for rejecting a city offer of 25 1/2 cents over two years.

Further talks with the government are planned. Trouble also is brewing among 500 workers who operate the B.C. government's big ferry fleet. Deck and catering workers voted 78 per cent against recommendations made by an employee-management committee on work schedules, about which the workers long have been complaining.

Crack Shows In Britain's Ship Tieup

LONDON (Reuters)—Seamen at one of England's channel ports voted Sunday night to end the eight-day national strike of Britain's merchant marine, now entering its sixth week.

The first sign of a threatened end-to-the-strike revolt came from the National Seamen's Union branch at Newhaven, Britain's sea link with Sicily, France.

Fifty-one seamen at the 84-member branch voted in support of a resolution asking union leaders to "reopen deep-frozen negotiations with shipowners so they can return to work. Only two of the men present voted against and 11 abstained.

The union decided to continue the strike Friday, after a tough negotiation with the employers arranged by Prime Minister Wilson.

Further talks with the government are planned. Trouble also is brewing among 500 workers who operate the B.C. government's big ferry fleet. Deck and catering workers voted 78 per cent against recommendations made by an employee-management committee on work schedules, about which the workers long have been complaining.

Further talks with the government are planned. Trouble also is brewing among 500 workers who operate the B.C. government's big ferry fleet. Deck and catering workers voted 78 per cent against recommendations made by an employee-management committee on work schedules, about which the workers long have been complaining.

Further talks with the government are planned. Trouble also is brewing among 500 workers who operate the B.C. government's big ferry fleet. Deck and catering workers voted 78 per cent against recommendations made by an employee-management committee on work schedules, about which the workers long have been complaining.

Further talks with the government are planned. Trouble also is brewing among 500 workers who operate the B.C. government's big ferry fleet. Deck and catering workers voted 78 per cent against recommendations made by an employee-management committee on work schedules, about which the workers long have been complaining.

Hanoi's Stand Seen Unchanged

TOKYO (AP)—A Communist broadcast suggested Sunday that Canada's special peace envoy, Chester Ronning of Cambridge, Mass., has failed to find any change in Hanoi's stand on ending the Vietnamese war.

Ronning, 71, is a China-born retired career diplomat who talked to Vietnamese officials in both Saigon and Hanoi on a peace mission for Pease's government last March. Ottawa officials disclosed Wednesday he had returned to Hanoi to carry on the exchange of views.

Ronning, 71, is a China-born retired career diplomat who talked to Vietnamese officials in both Saigon and Hanoi on a peace mission for Pease's government last March. Ottawa officials disclosed Wednesday he had returned to Hanoi to carry on the exchange of views.

Ronning, 71, is a China-born retired career diplomat who talked to Vietnamese officials in both Saigon and Hanoi on a peace mission for Pease's government last March. Ottawa officials disclosed Wednesday he had returned to Hanoi to carry on the exchange of views.

CAPT. WALTER Langille of the sunken trawler Reliance is helped down the gangway of the freighter Bordapian after her arrival in Halifax Saturday. Following Langille (TOP, TOM TO TOP) are Roger Zwicker, Arnold Adams and Gardner Cokum, who survived the sinking along with Langille, and Robert Allan, owner and regular captain of the Reliance. Capt. Allan who missed the ill-fated voyage because of injuries, met the survivors on their arrival. Twelve of the fishing vessel's crew were lost in a collision with the Bordapian in fog off Nova Scotia's south coast early Saturday. (CP Wirephoto)

1,000 More Swell Ranks Of Civil Rights Marchers

BELOZONI, Miss. (AP)—Nearly 1,000 local Negroes—many wearing their best clothes—paraded out to meet the Mississippi civil rights marchers Sunday and returned with them to this delta community.

Mayor Henry Gantz, meanwhile, said he and the other city officials had spoken to any whites who "might be connected with a secret organization," warning them that Belzoni would not tolerate trouble.

The local Negroes met the marchers 1 1/2 miles from the city limits. They joined forces, spreading across the highway, blocking traffic.

"From now on, it's not gonna be all black blood," Willie Ricks, a Southern Christian Leadership Conference worker from Atlanta, led an impromptu rally on the highway.

RANKS GREW. The ranks swelled as they meandered through Belzoni's Negro residential sections.

Sunday's march covered 15 miles, most of it uneventful. At one point a plantation owner interrupted his Sunday dinner to order marchers off his land. The group spilled off the highway and into the yards of three Negro sharecropper cabins.

The plantation owner hurried to the scene. He told state highway patrolmen he did not want the marchers trespassing. The marchers heeded orders to move on.

The hostile reception from the landowner was the only event of note as the march, begun at Memphis, Tenn., by James Meredith, went into its 15th day.

Meredith began walking from Memphis to Jackson, Mississippi's state capital city two weeks ago with a few companions. He was shot and wounded June 5 after crossing into Mississippi.

Civil rights leaders took up the trek after Meredith, the first Negro known to have graduated from the University of Mississippi, was ambushed.

Purpose of the march, which will cover some 200 miles, is to spur more Negroes to register as voters.

Comedian Actor Ed Wynn Dies In Hollywood At 79

By ROB THOMAS. HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Ed Wynn, the "perfect fool" whose 64 years as a performer brought him triumphs in every phase of show business, died Sunday at 79.

Death came at 7:45 a.m. the cause was not immediately determined. Ed Wynn underwent an operation six months ago for removal of a tumor from his neck. The tumor was discovered to be malignant and the comedian had been in ill health since then.

Wynn's actor-son Keenan was making arrangements for a funeral. It was disclosed the body would be cremated.

Wynn's giggle, high-pitched voice, mad costumes and nonsensical manner brought him fame as a vaudeville and later as a star on Broadway.

He performed in silent movies and was one of the first great stars of radio as The Fire Chief. He also starred in the early days of television.

His career seemed to take a downward turn. As I neared my 70th year, I was told I could not get work as a comedian. The men who ran the television shows said the trend was against comedy, that the people wanted drama for their entertainment.

I was depressed. I felt that I had been passed by. My son Keenan and others urged me to keep active. I was offered a serious role in a movie. The Great Man I was to play because I had never played a dramatic role in my life. But I did it.

ED WYNN, who died in Los Angeles Sunday morning at 79, recreated his "Perfect Fool" characterization on television in 1957. (AP Wirephoto)

Que Terrorist Group Cracked

MONTREAL (CP)—Montreal police said they cracked during the weekend what was believed to be a terrorist group formed to promote Quebec independence by violent means.

In a police raid late Friday on an apartment, a cache of arms, Canadian Army uniforms and revolutionary literature were seized. Two men were arrested.

The literature included pamphlets on how to fight in the streets and how to start a revolution.

Robert Levesque, 25, and Rejean Briggs, 22, were charged Saturday with conspiracy to commit an armed robbery at a Montreal military armory.

Police said the group was to be known as the MLN—the Mouvement de Liberation Nationale.

Shiela Scott Is In A zores

LISBON, Portugal (Reuters)—British pilot Shiela Scott, 39, arrived Sunday after a six-hour flight from the Azores in the final stages of her 31,000-mile attempt to fly solo around the world.

The former actress said her single-engine Piper Comanche aircraft was due to have a mechanical check before she leaves for London today—last stop on her flight.

Miss Scott, who left Gander, Nfld., early Saturday after an overnight stop, says she has a preference for night flying. She is carrying no parachute.

De Gaulle Moscow Welcome To Be Warmer Than In '44

By ANDREW WALLER. MOSCOW (Reuters)—French President de Gaulle is assured of a warmer welcome when he begins his 12-day state visit today than on his last trip to the Soviet Union in the grim war-time winter of 1944.

Just as de Gaulle now is seeking to stress the special European role of France and the Soviet Union, he came then to seek a Franco-Soviet pact hoped to fulfill his Western allies.

In 1944 he sought but could not obtain Stalin's approval for a postwar French frontier along the Rhine, which was opposed by Britain and France.

As his train pulled into Moscow's Kursk station in 1944 the crowd's shouts led the station security forces to the station.

De Gaulle will be welcomed by President Nikolai Podgorny and Premier Alexei Kosygin. His talks with the Soviet leaders were expected to centre on the broad issues of European security and the German problem.

De Gaulle favors an extension of co-operation among European states across the lines of the NATO and Warsaw pact alliances as a step on the way to a European security conference.

France's withdrawal from NATO's integrated military structures is a step in this direction.

The high praise for de Gaulle in Sunday's Russian papers contrasted sharply with past Soviet attitudes.

An encyclopedia published 14 years ago described him as a "reactionary politician" and only three years ago he was said to have "established a regime of one-man power." But Sunday an official announcement, couched in unusually friendly terms, said de Gaulle enjoyed great respect in the Soviet Union.

Police Protect Nazi Speaker

TORONTO (CP)—More than 100 mounted and uniformed police officers lined a protective cordon around Nazi leader William John Beattie as he spoke Sunday to a shouting, sign-waving crowd of 1,200.

In his half-hour speech in mid-town Allan Gardens, Beattie dealt with Jews and claimed three-quarters of the Canadian people own money to Jewish companies, many of which he said are camouflaged with a Gentile front.

Some members of the crowd claimed Beattie's speech broke a Toronto bylaw. The law reads in part "no person shall use profane, indecent or abusive language in a city park."

Deputy Police Chief Harold Adamson said the question of charging Beattie is "under consideration."

Police at the speech said the mood of the crowd was uglier than the last time Beattie spoke.

SEKES EXECUTION. At one point Beattie called for the execution of David Ben-Gurion, former prime minister of Israel, because of an Israel bond drive now under way in Toronto.

Beattie's speech could scarcely be heard outside the perimeter of police due to organized chanting from the crowd. Several women wept as he spoke.

Police said one man was arrested for obstructing police.

When Beattie, who calls himself leader of the Canadian Nazi party, finished his speech, police formed a wedge through the crowd to escort him to a waiting police car.

Keeler, Husband Are Re-United

LONDON (Reuters)—Christine Keeler, key figure in the sex- and security scandal that rocked the British government three years ago, has been reunited with her husband, it was reported Sunday.

She married engineer James Levermore in secret last October. The couple parted after three months.

The 23-year-old, chestnut-haired model and former high-life girl is expecting a baby early next month. This weekend her six-foot husband was looking after his wife, ill in bed at their bungalow in Reading, 35 miles west of London.

After their registry office wedding in October, Miss Keeler said: "I want to put the past behind me and start a new life."

She changed her hair style "so that people will not recognize me."

In June, 1963, Miss Keeler was the centre of the political scandal that followed War Minister John Profumo's association with her at a time when she was seeing a Soviet naval attaché in London.

Profumo quit his government post after admitting his association with her.

Profumo quit his government post after admitting his association with her.

Profumo quit his government post after admitting his association with her.

Former SA Official Dies

TORONTO (CP)—George Walter Peacock, 86, a former chief secretary of the Salvation Army in Canada, died Saturday.

Col. Peacock, who was made commander of the British Empire, served the Salvation Army for 75 years. After retiring from the Salvation Army, he acted as an adviser to the Boy Scouts Association.

Col. Peacock, who was made commander of the British Empire, served the Salvation Army for 75 years. After retiring from the Salvation Army, he acted as an adviser to the Boy Scouts Association.

Col. Peacock, who was made commander of the British Empire, served the Salvation Army for 75 years. After retiring from the Salvation Army, he acted as an adviser to the Boy Scouts Association.

Col. Peacock, who was made commander of the British Empire, served the Salvation Army for 75 years. After retiring from the Salvation Army, he acted as an adviser to the Boy Scouts Association.

Col. Peacock, who was made commander of the British Empire, served the Salvation Army for 75 years. After retiring from the Salvation Army, he acted as an adviser to the Boy Scouts Association.

Col. Peacock, who was made commander of the British Empire, served the Salvation Army for 75 years. After retiring from the Salvation Army, he acted as an adviser to the Boy Scouts Association.

Col. Peacock, who was made commander of the British Empire, served the Salvation Army for 75 years. After retiring from the Salvation Army, he acted as an adviser to the Boy Scouts Association.

Col. Peacock, who was made commander of the British Empire, served the Salvation Army for 75 years. After retiring from the Salvation Army, he acted as an adviser to the Boy Scouts Association.

Actor Tries Out Scene

The lead of the Summer Festival Company arrived in Charlottetown by all modes of transportation during the weekend to begin rehearsals for the Summer Festival production of Anne of Green Gables which starts here tonight. Peter Mousse, the other hand thought that he would stand rehearsing earlier than was scheduled, and went to the airport to pick up Jamie Rave in this buggy. In the play Peter will be picking her up as Anne in a horse and buggy at a train station. Rehearsals for The Ottawa Man also begin today.

